Ed mentioned that 12 students are graduating and most will be going out to rural AK as youth pastors.

Pastor Paul Riley will also be present.

Ed knows you may not be able to stay for the entire event, and you are free to come and go as you please:) you can reach Ed at 232-8595.

Have a great day and please let me know if you need anything.

Subject: 6 pm Masters Commission graduation

Governor,

I just got off the phone with Ed from Wasilla Assembly of God and he related to me the following schedule:

6 pm.	Event begins
6-6:15.	Live worship
6:15-6:20.	Video about MC program
6:20-6:35.	General remarks abot MCprogram (you would speak here)
6:35-6:47.	Student Video
6:47-7 pm.	Graduation
7pm.	Conclusion
7-8 pm.	Reception w/food

You will have a reserved seat in the front row. You will have reserved parking under the covered awning at the entrance to the church. About 50-100 people are expected to attend, including a MC school of 15 from North Pole who are there to cheer them on.

Privileged or Personal Material Redacted

Privileged or Personal Material Redacted

The following is an except from Rep. Doogan's June 4th ADN column:

"This may well be the single worst public policy proposal I've seen in 30 years of watching state government. Among the problems are doling out money to people who are paying the national average for energy, footing the federal government's utility bills and trying to figure out how to make debit cards work in places where, well, debit cards don't work.

Not to mention - although, really, I am mentioning it -- starting a handout policy that won't go away by itself and won't be supplanted by any long-term energy fix for many years. So what Palin is actually asking for is a commitment to pay more than $1 billion a year for an unknown number of years for something government doesn't usually pay for, like your gas at the pump. What next? A subsidy for people who are suffering from the escalating costs of tasty baked goods?"

Hey Sharon:

I agree, some of the posters are rude in their comments.

You've got a good idea about clarifying. You know, I went to the very spot where the governor saw the bear and I can't see that anyone on the sidewalk would have been in much danger.

And, of course, it was me who chased the governor for the story, not the other way around.

So lemme see what I can do, Sharon.

I just thought it was cool that a governor could encounter a bear on the way to work!

Subject: PSEA ratified Friday

I forgot to mention - ballots were counted on Friday June 6 - and PSEA ratified our offer.
This contract is difficult to briefly explain because it contains so many premium pays, but essentially the offer was:

5% increase July 1, 2008

Service steps beginning July 1, 2008

One-time only step increase for Bachelor's degree

Field Training Officers receive 7.5% increase up from 5% increase over salary for stepping up and being a training officer. Hopefully, this will mean that only the best will be selected to be training officers.

For obtaining an Intermediate or Advanced Police Certificate issued by the Police Standards Council - 3.75%

3% increase July 1, 2009

3% increase July 1, 2010

We faced competition from other police departments (most notably MOA), but were able to structure a competitive offer that I believe will help with recruitment and retention of employees who the State has invested much to train.

IBU - one of the maritime unions has ballots out and we'll see if they turn down the offer we made to them. Deadline is June 27. It could go either way, as the Masters, Mates and Pilots and Marine Engineers Beneficial Association are dragging their collective feet on agreements.

Once maritime contracts are settled, we can focus on other things (EEO Plan, grievances, Labor Department Building, Recruitment and Retention) until September when we begin negotiations with the Correctional Officers (ACOA).

The Honorable Sarah Palin
Governor of Alaska
PO Box 110001
Juneau, AK 99811-0001

Dear Governor Palin:

I hope that John McCain will put you on the Republican ticket as VP. We need more female Republicans like yourself in office. Keep up the good work, and hope I can take a vacation sometime in Alaska!

Sincerely,

C.J. Bowen

MESSAGE:

Real Leadership takes guts and risk. I believe you could be the 2012 presidential nominee if you can take real risk for the good of Alaska and the nation. No other Governor has the opportunity to make such a statement for the good of so many. Please read my plan. You've come so far in your first term as Governor I hope for your continued success.

Alaska Leads the Nation/World

Yes we can!

"The Alaska Prize:"

- FIVE BILLION DOLLARS
- THREE BILLION DOLLARS
- ONE BILLION DOLLARS
- FIVE HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS
- TWO-HUNDRED AND FIFTY MILLION DOLLARS
- ONE-HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS
- FIFTY-MILLION DOLLARS
- ONE-HUNDRED, ONE- MILLION DOLLAR PRIZES (Alaska Residents Only)

Serious? Absolutely! Possible? Without a doubt!

"Ah, a man's Reach must exceed his grasp or what's a heaven for?" Robert Browning

Too all Alaskans who want to change the world, it is time, it is time to define your expectation.

"The Alaska Prize" is a raw all or nothing challenge with a simple definition: SUCCESS.

IT IS TIME FOR ALL ALASKANS TO COME TO THE AID OF THEIR CONTRY

FIVE BILLION DOLLARS:

- 100 percent oil, sweet crude replacement.
- Uses current fuel distribution methods
- Must sell for less than 65 dollars a barrel
- An actual operational facility must produce an average of 70,000 barrels per day
- Looks like oil, smells like oil, works just like oil i.e., fuels, fertilizers, plastics etc.

TWO BILLION DOLLARS:

- Carbon Free land based combustion engine exhaust
- Engines with twenty-five horse power and more
- Net price increase per unit must be less than 10 percent of total vehicle/unit cost
- Life of carbon free exhaust must exceed manufactures engine life expectancy...if the engine is running there should be no carbon exhaust

- Carbon free exhaust must not add additional pollutants into the atmosphere...no new consequences; i.e., poisons, pollutants, or heat.

ONE BILLION DOLLARS

- Carbon Free Sea based combustion engine
- Vessels greater than 100,000 ton displacement
- Commercial vessels of all kinds including platforms and vessels on or below the sea
- Carbon Free exhaust must not add additional pollutants into the atmosphere or into the sea...no new consequences; i.e., poisons, pollutants, or heat.

"Important...CO2 stored in the sea is not considered a pollutant."

FIVE HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS

- A truly Independent Energy Research facility co-located with UA campuses in Anchorage, Fairbanks and Juneau. The total independence of the facility will set the standard for measuring what the real costs are for human pollution footprints.
- When a product or service is rendered there is a cost in energy consumed, waste products, recycle costs, even just a trip to Denali produces waste products but it has worth. What is something's real worth positive or negative. The big price tag belies the importance of a global costing network. What is green? What is the cost in energy, waste, human benefit, etc. We need a global measuring stick. A world Class Facility perhaps in some sort of connection with the United Nations. Think of it an independent Alaska facility with ties to the United Nations. Not a lap dog for the United Nations but a globally influential facility for mankind.

- The Alaskan Facilities well funded will attract the best and brightest. The facility will rival all the great scientific institutions in the world. When a carbon footprint is spoken of the exact specifics will be known.

- What are the real costs. What is really green?

THREE HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS

- Clean Coal to Petroleum Facility
- Minimum production of 70,000 barrels per day

TWO HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS:

- First operational Solar Tower /s in The United States of America
- Minimum ?? mega watts daily

ONE HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS

- First Solar Ranch/s in the United States of America
- Minimum ?? mega watts daily

One Hundred-FIFTY.....One Million Dollar Prizes:

- Bright ideas that succeed, measured in human life, quality of life, and inspirational stories, not in dollars, not in gold or silver.

Alaska Residents Only!! Individuals and Groups of Five or Fewer people!!!

SOME POSSIBILITIES MIGHT BE:

- Agriculture
- Business
- Quality of life
- Medicine
- Computing
- Engineering
- Disaster Response
- Philosophy
- Rural Power
- Heroic Acts
- Art
- Aging
- Self Sacrifice

- Science
- Just whatever moves you.....

RULES

Ten Billion Dollars to be deposited in a ten-year interest bearing account with a minimum interest guarantee of five percent compounding interest. The "Alaska Prize" must be invested in America, i.e., United States of America Savings Bonds, Treasury Notes, War Bonds?

The contest will run for ten years or until all Alaska Prizes are won.

Each Year on Alaska Statehood Day Winners of the "Alaska Prize" will be announced by the Governor of Alaska.

All account money not awarded in any given year will be rolled over for a period of ten consecutive years. At the end of ten years all remaining money is returned into the state treasury plus the interest accrued.

The "Alaska Prize" is All or Nothing. The bar must be reached at the 100 percent level and above, 99.999 percent does not reach the goal of 100 percent.

All prizes are claimed.

The "Alaska Prize" is not a nomination process at any level, there are no nominees. You walk the talk and you stand on your claim.

Any individual, a groups representative or Head of State can make a prize claim at any time during the contest.

There is no prize for the shy or timid the "Alaska Prize" is reminiscent of boom times in Alaska, John Service, Bush Pilots, King Crab when Crab was King, Oil pipeline days, and homesteading.

Judges must use common sense and follow the rules.

All rules are fixed and final when the Alaska's Governor first announces the "Alaska Prizes" existence.

The Judges decision is final when rendered ...no do over's, all decisions and mistakes are final and unchallengeable by anyone or country.

By claiming a prize the claimant/s except the rules as written.

Judges and all participants must follow Alaska Law and obey all current Laws of Physics.

Failure to follow Alaska Law will eliminate the claimants. Claimants must follow the Alaska Laws or they will be disqualified, done, permanently eliminated. Almost meeting the letter of the law is a disqualification period. No apologies will be accepted nor explanations accepted.

People and animals must not suffer in anyway.

All participants EVERYWHERE (globally) must as a minimum meet all Alaskan Environmental Laws and Laws of the United States of America throughout the creative and scientific process regardless of the claimants country of origin; i.e., If you create a claim in Indonesia claimants must still follow Alaska Laws and the Laws of the United States if America.

No part of any "Alaska Prize" can be awarded to: Terrorist States; Communist Countries; terrorist organizations; terrorists or any person or group funding or otherwise associated with terrorists.

The "Alaska Prize" is awarded regardless of a person or groups: Sex, Race, Religion, Disability, and Sexual Preferences or by Country of Origin. Discrimination against any people anywhere will cause the claimant to be ousted, disqualified and eliminated from competition. All claimants including countries will be band from further competition for that "Alaska Prize."

"Alaska Prize" claims will be considered serially, first in, first consideration. Consideration will continue until the "Alaska Prize" is awarded or any part of the claimant's standard is not proven by the claimant.

First claim that meets the standard of the "Alaska Prize" is the winner of that "Alaska Prize." The end.

If there is another claim that meets the standard of an "Alaska Prize", if it isn't the first successful claim there is a zero claim or expectation of a claim regardless of method used to reach the standard. First is first. Second is zero, there is no standing for a second claim. Second is a no claim.

The "Alaska Prize" isn't a win or lose prize, it is a WIN prize, and it is won by reaching the bar first.

False "Alaska Prize" claims are rejected, and the rejected claims will be published in detail in the "Anchorage Daily News" and in full view of the free world

Frivolous "Alaska Prize" claims are rejected and future claims and re-claims from the same claimant will also be rejected. A death nail notice will be issued to the claimant. Frivolous claims made in hopes of skipping to the front of the line of claimants are also issued a death nail. Every individual involved in a frivolous claim is also given a death nail. If a person who was given a death nail notice gets involved in another "Alaska Prize" that person, group or country is disqualified. Disqualified means out, done, a no winner, irrevocably disqualified and final. All frivolous "Alaska Prize" claims will be published in detail in the "Anchorage Daily News" and in full view of the world.

Results must be repeatable. Are claimants results repeatable? Yes or No. Results that are not repeatable are disqualified, they fail to reach the standard and therefore they don't reach the bar. That's it, they're done, failed and without merit.

There is no time limit to consider a particular claim. But,

Once a particular claim is brought under consideration by prize judges the claim must be verified -(Yes or No)-within 90 days or the judges for the prize must render a No judgment. The claimer or claimants can reapply for the "Alaska Prize" and be placed at the end of the line for that prize for reconsideration. It is the responsibility of the claimants that their claim is understandable, and reproducible, it is not the judge's responsibility to weed out the winners.

Winners must stand alone and not be propped up by a judge. Remember the job of the judge is to verify the claim not interpret the verification of the interpretation of the claim. Yes or No

Once a claim is published the clock is started. Either the claimants claim is real and well documented or not. Once a claim is found to fall short of the bar that has been set, then a NO judgment is rendered and the claim is dismissed.

All "Alaska Prize" claims must be published in detail in the "Anchorage Daily News" and in full view of the world after the judges render their judgment.

There is no minimum time requirement before a claim can be rejected. The next claim in line will begin the judging process. Close counts for nothing when reaching for the "Alaska Prize."

Governors Panel for Selection of "Alaska Prize" Judges

Seven people led by the Governor of Alaska for a total of eight must unanimously agree on the selection of each judge. This group is known as the "Governors Panel."

All members of the Governors Panel must exercise independent judgment.

Members of the Governors Panel represent themselves, not their country, political party, or any group. Members of the Governors Panel are free and independent.

Any member of the Governors Panel can only be removed by the Alaska Senate, by a simple majority vote.

Anyone associated with the Nobel Prizes Committee is not eligible to be a member of the Governors Panel for the "Alaska Prize."

Facilitator/Motivator/Leader

Each "Alaska Prize" claim must have a Judge who acts as a facilitator; motivator and leader, this judge will have the title "Independent Leader."

Independent Leaders for each "Alaska Prize" report to the Governor in writing the judge's decision; Yes the claim has met the standard or a No the claim has failed to meet the standard for the "Alaska Prize."

Independent Leaders can-not have the same political party affiliation as the Governor of the State of Alaska.

Who Can Be A Judge

Subject experts: scientists, engineers, economists

Past Governors of any of the fifty states of the United States of America.

Purpose of the Judges

Judges verify the "Alaska Prize" standard. Has the claim reached the bar? Judges are not in a research position, a pontificate, informational source or advocate for any particular claim by any particular claimant for the "Alaska Prize.". The claimant is responsible for research; the judges only verify that the standard for the "Alaska Prize" that is claimed has been achieved.

Judges do not create new or imagine additional standards.

The judges answer the only question that counts, and that is: is the standard met? Did the claimant reach the bar? Yes or No. Any other response other than a Yes or No will result in a judge's disqualification for that claim.

If judges aren't given enough information to be able to answer Yes or No the claim is disqualified, the answer is, No.

If a judge just can't get it, understand what the claim is claiming, the claim has failed, and it is judged No, the claim doesn't meet the standards of that "Alaska Prize.". The Judges verdict is No. It is not the judges job to interpret a claim, that is the claimants responsibility.

Who can't be a judge?

Any current elected official. Dictators, members of a communist government, mean people of any ilk.

JUDGES

Judges must treat every person involved with the "Alaska Prize" as a dignitary and with dignity.

Rudeness will disqualify any judge.

Judges are only responsible for their assigned assessment

Automatic Judge Disqualification occurs when a judge acts to lower the bar or change the standards, 100 percent is 100 percent, and the bar must be reached, got it?

Judges are disqualified when they become advocates for any part; portion; person; group or country vying for the "Alaska Prize." Judges are not advocates they are judges.

The judges must decide Yes or No, do the results presented reach the bar at the time the results are presented as a claim. The judges can make the following choices: does the claim reach the bar? Yes or No. No discussion or explanation from the judges is wanted nor needed.

Discussion or explanation by a judge disqualifies the judge from rendering a verdict on the claim. Yes or No is all that is asked of from any judge. One hundred percent remains 100 percent. It's not cruel; it's not unfair it is the bench mark of successes for the "Alaska Prize," 100 percent.

Judges must adhere rigidly to the very foundation of science, the "Scientific Method."

To claim a prize

Announcement by a claimant of the claim of an "Alaska Prize" must be made to the Governor of Alaska.

No one person, group or country can expect or be given privilege or privacy over their claim. If you want to claim an "Alaska Prize" you must give it freely and unequivocally to the free global community.

All aspects of an "Alaska Prize" claim must be published in the "Alaska Daily News" and in full view of a free world at the time of the claim. The claim will only be published in English and Inupiat.

Claimants can republish their claim in any language and in any free press two weeks after the claim is published by the Governor of Alaska in the "Alaska Daily News."

Once an "Alaska Prize" has met the Standard for that prize:

The Governor of Alaska will within 14 days of notice of a successful "claim report" from the Independent Leader will personally and in person notify the President of the United States of America and the Federal Reserve Chairman that the prize money is being transferred back to the State of Alaska "Alaska Prize" account.

The "Alaska Prize" is paid out to the winner/s of the "Alaska Prize" at noon in Juneau, Alaska on Alaska Statehood Day.

Publicity beyond notification of a prize winner in the Alaska Daily News and from the Governor on Alaska Day, it is the responsibility of the media complex to notify the rest of the world of an "Alaska Prize" winner not the State of Alaska.

The award for the "Alaska Prize"

The "Alaska Prize" is awarded at noon in Juneau, Alaska on Alaska Statehood Day each year.

The Money for the "Alaska Prize" comes from the "Alaska Voters"

The decision to initiate the "Alaska Prize" is far too important to entrust to the Alaska Legislature or the United States Government. The vision of Alaskan voters at this point in time will change the world. The Alaskan Voter will demonstrate what free people can do, they will reactivate the long forgotten saying once popular around the world "good old American know how" except now the Alaskan voter is empowering the "good old free world know how."

Once the money for the "Alaska Prize" is funded by the Alaskan Voters the money will be transferred directly from the state treasury to the FED.

The money is not refundable to the State of Alaska for ten years except in the event of a catastrophic emergency or dire circumstance. The money is gone from the State of Alaska.

To recall the money for the "Alaska Prize" a House Super Majority from the Alaska Legislator and the Governors approval is needed.

The "Alaska Prize" will cost Alaskan Voters a reassignment from the State Treasury of 10 Billion Dollars.

Zero money is spent if there are no successful prize claims.

All "Alaska Prize" money will gain interest while awaiting the prize winners.

YES WE CAN!

You and I can do this, we are Alaskan and this is the "Last Frontier."

If we Alaskans can't put our money where our mouths are, I doubt there are any people in the world that can make the difference that Alaskans can with the "Alaska Prize." Think about it...how many of us are Alaskan residents? Seven-hundred Thousand people plus or minus. How many are registered voters? Less than three-hundred thousand people plus or minus.

We are very, very, rich people who have been convinced that we live in a rich state, a state run by politicians and special interests. Way too often the brand "the State of Alaska" is used to ignore the people of Alaska. The State doesn't decide anything "We the People" do! Remember we live in America with a C.

You and I can save the people of the State of Alaska (us,) hundreds of billions of dollars over the next decade and all of us about 300,000 registered voters or so can save the United States of America Trillions of dollars in just five years or so after an "Alaska Prize" award. And in the world we live especially in the developing world we will save tens of millions of lives by providing a level playing field for poorer people and countries that are currently at the mercy of fuel and food prices. I can see it ... won't you?

Ultimately our 10 billion Alaskan dollars will feed and free many people. I don't think the tin-pot dictators, terrorists, or Marksests of the world would want us to succeed. Fuel, fertilizer and clean air, think about it... think about it Out-Loud.

Let us not tolerate anyone that will stand in our way. Your vote and my vote free from the Government, Corporate and Environmentalist Complex (GCEC) interference. You and I are not the subjects or serfs of anyone from the GCE C. Let them run their ads, trot out their experts and buy their judges. As long as we vote, they will lose.

Our vote...Our Families...Our money...Our State...Our Country...and yes even Our World

trail there will be all sorts of people who will try to stop, railroad, grab a piece of the prize, manage and manipulate our collective will. We must keep it simple, free from the manipulation of the GCEC. It will be a huge fight, but guess what? We control our vote and we control our money. Let them squeal like baby pigs which will sound like music to our ears.

Ten Billion dollars will bring out the worst of the worst and that's why we Alaskan Voters must, alone and against the naysayers of the GCEC- who will pop a few vessels- if they can't control the outcome. Imagine legislators kissing up to lobbyists to rob you of your vote, the oil giants and everyone ever dreaming of taxing the environment in some way rolling over in their Ivory Towers as we Alaskans dictate their future.

We Alaskan Voters must stand alone, stand firm and not bow to any of the GCEC. Our votes are our own, stand firm and vote for the "Alaska Prize."

How can so few people, who have so much, not succeed. We Alaskans are Great. We are Fearless. We are Americans. This effort could be a last best chance for many, many people all over the world to conquer the greed of the ever expanding GCEC.

The greed of the GCEC is all about the power they hold over the individual not about what their names may indicate. The GCEC is rapidly becoming a global government for those that hate the individual and those who want to limit growth and prosperity everywhere but in their back yards. Stuff them now or fight them later either way we all will have to face the GCEC.

Just imagine us...Alaskan...American...and Determined, I'd say an irresistible force driving The United States of America and the world through the Twenty First Century, fueled and free. We can conquer the world with a Ten Billion Dollar "Alaska Prize." I can see it, won't you?

Why do you suppose no one in the whole wide world has offered a prize like the "Alaska Prize?" There was a prize for the first civilian spaceship to reach space. Just think of all the hungry and sick people we can now send into low earth orbit. I think there is nothing in it for the GCEC so there is no prize. The "Alaska Prize" encourages independence and freedom these are two characteristics that the GCEC absolutely opposes. The GCEC has widely reported that there are too many people in the world, and if the GCEC would feed and fuel the "to-many" people there will just be more people. The environment, my God what will happen to the environment if we feed and fuel the to-many? The GCEC by it'd very own actions killing and starving people in the name of the environment. Just substitute God for the Environment when you read reports from the GCEC and you will understand your place in a GCEC controlled world. (sorry for my outburst here. I do believe we Alaskans are losing control of our states rights and our personal freedoms as a result of the ever expanding GCEC.)

The term "the-environment" has become a euphemism for fat people of the GCEC with enough fuel to fly G-550 aircraft around the world extolling the virtues of the GCEC. The GCEC is anti people and more precisely they are anti starving and sick people and they justify their many positions by wrapping themselves in green blankets and green logos.

Just think if there weren't so many starving and sick people there wouldn't be so many people to use fossil fuel or eat all the food which people that aren't starving or not in need of fossil fuel use.

If we follow the leadership of the GCEC the rich will get richer and the hungry will die. But the environment will be saved.

I trust Americans to lead, feed and free the world. The GCEC has fooled us all with their concern and 30 second sound bites, but they won't fool us for much longer. I can hear the distant thunder becoming louder, won't you? Your vote counts, if you want it to, if you vote. Quit watching and start marching.

The "Alaska Prize" is just one example of what you and I who are so very rich can do to be counted as human beings, by doing something that will strengthen America and count for something real and measurable in this old world of other human beings.

Also, don't know when/what instruction changed recently where now there has to be a First Family-invited event to justify any family member traveling with me TO Juneau (I was always told it was reversed...that family could only travel OUT of Juneau if there was a First Family event to attend), but now that the rule has evidently changed please RSVP for any First Family event this week so Piper and Trig may travel with me back to Juneau today... and I'll see ya in a few hours at the capitol. Tonight's great for Todd and me - now these type of events can be quite informal and still be successful. There's a Costco in Juneau, if you know what I mean. And my family is quite capable of setting out food and cleaning up afterwards.

Yikes- I think erika misinterpreted my comment in answer to the suggestion someone made that it was too short notice to get a caterer for tonight - I said we could do costco or whatever and do it ourselves if need be- (if it was too late) it was that important that we utilize our time here together to get people on friendly ground. She thot I said I didn't want us to get a caterer. Sorry

Tonight's great for Todd and me - now these type of events can be quite informal and still be successful. There's a Costco in Juneau, if you know what I mean. And my family is quite capable of setting out food and cleaning up afterwards.

Hello everyone... pardon me for this late entry. I see that there were some emails I wasn't included in and so perhaps this next question was already addressed: Privileged or Personal Material Redacted

Thanks for everyone's flexibility and quick set-up - and a Copper River King, too!

Thanks,

Meg

Who else should I inform before big trips like this one coming up in July?

Also, any word on First Family tickets yet so we don't wait til last minute and pay outrageous prices for tickets?

My recommendation is that we invite Privileged or Personal Material Redacted. My rough count is 22 ppl. We could do it tonight at 5:30 or 6:00

Tonight's great for Todd and me - now these type of events can be quite informal and still be successful. There's a Costco in Juneau, if you know what I mean. And my family is quite capable of setting out food and cleaning up afterwards.

Great idea! Please all decide what is best for AGIA. But if time doesn't matter tonight is better for me. I travel to Anch at noon tomorrow to work on the PT decision. Again decide what is best for AGIA. Tom

Ok- I had to finally read a blog (yuck!) bc of comments I heard about wesley's account of the bear sighting in Juneau the other day.

Sheeesh- nothing's changed since I stopped reading that ADN blog nearly two months ago!

But Wesley does need to clarify that, NO, I was not looking for publicity- I did not approach him about seeing three bears by the mansion... he approached me about it after hearing that I was one of the crowd looking at the bears that morning and he asked me to comment!

Could he at least clarify that on the blog (without me having to admit to him that I actually spent the time reading his blog entry and the bloggers' replies). And I didn't put my kids in any danger, as the idiot blog comments claim.

Now, remind me to not peek in again at that ridiculous media forum - it's the most unhealthy and idiotic forum imaginable. Hopefully others can do that for us and call people on the untruths and misperceptions they read there.

Although I've been a lifelong Republican, I didn't know anything about you until I heard Sean Hannity tell the story about your son Trig. Everything I've read about you since, tells me that you are a model of what I've always believed a Republican should stand for.

This marks the first year since 1972 that I have seriously thought about sitting out a presidential election. Several of Sen. McCain's positions trouble me, particularly his stance on Cap & Trade and his unwillingness to drill for oil in ANWR and off our coasts.

The bottom line for me, I've decided, is that I won't be making my modest financial contributions to the RNC and may not even vote, unless McCain picks an outstanding VP running mate. I think you, by far, would be his best choice. I hope he has the sense to ask you and that you would be willing to run.

In any event, I wish you and your family the best, and I'm sure some day, if you want to be, you'll be a major force in national politics.

Sincerely,

Bill Marsden

Web mail from: Mr. Bill Longo
address: 106 Asti Ct Lincoln CA 95648
916-878-6720

To the honorable Governor Palin,

I have begun to hear your name brought up as a possible running mate to John McCain. As I have listened to you speak, express your views, political philosophy, etc, I have become more convinced than ever that unless you join his ticket, that the most radical extremist anti-American racist (this Obama and his America hating wife) will most likely assume the office of the Presidency of the United States in 2009. The nation is at a dangerous tipping point. The nation our founders envisioned, fought and died for, of smaller, limited government, a strong national defense, a city on a hill, self reliance, and a commitment to G-d given, unalienable rights, the Judeo-Christian ethic, a belief in national sovereignty, right-to-life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, is over if this Obama becomes the President. We will see in this man's administration the largest redistribution of wealth, the highest taxes, the systematic dismantling of our military, and a dangerous policy of appeasement

t with countries whose only purpose for existence is to see our way of life destroyed and Israel and Jews everywhere wiped off the map. Not to mention that with the possibility of at least two Supreme Court vacancies, as well as numerous appointments at the Federal court level, the damage done to the judiciary would be unrepairable for the next 20 years.

Mrs. Palin,

I, like you, have children, and I also have grand children, and I am scared to death for them and their future. Please help. Unfortunately and sadly John McCain is not a conservative. His mushy middle, reach across-the-isle, open borders, McCain-Feingold compromising has resulted in the conservative movement being relegated to insignificance. We in the conservative movement have no voice, no vision, no guts, and no leader. You Mrs. Palin, can provide that which John McCain cannot or will not provide; vision, leadership, courage, and a clear uncompromising direction for this country. It will not be easy. You will be joining the party at the national level that has lost direction and is weak on ideas. You will be fighting the main stream news media, and all entertainment media in general. You will be fighting our government controlled education at all levels. You will be fighting the UN global plans for world socialism. You will be fighting a growing radicalization within the Muslim world against the West and its values of freedom and equality. You will be fighting the growing hysteria and farce called, "global warming".

If I sound worried, and lest you think I am an alarmist, that our system of "checks and balances" will prevent the scenario I am presenting. Imagine that system of "checks and balances" run by an Obama controlled Congress, and possible Senate, with the ability to override vetos and filibusters, and a radical, "legislate from the bench judiciary", along with an already spinless Republican, out of touch, party. It does not sound so far fetched now, does it?!!

Mrs. Palin,

Please pray about this, consult with your family, and as it says in the book of Esther when the Jewish people were on the verge of being destroyed, and Mordecai went to Esther with these words to encourage her to take action to save her people,

Esther 4:14

"For if you, altogether hold your peace at this time, then shall relief and deliverance arise to the Jews (America in this case) from another place, but you and your father's house (America in this case, all of us) shall be destroyed. And who knows whether you are come to the kingdom (position of power) for such a time as this?"

Please think long and hard on this. I know you will do the right thing, for the good of

Sincerely,

Bill Longo

Randy,

Linda,

I'm writing to clarify my public records request: I'm requesting documents the governor's office has sent to and received from KABATA since April 12. In particular, I'm looking for about 80 pages KABATA recently sent the state in response to a request for more information about the Knik Arm bridge project.

Thanks,

Kyle

Jim:

In your capacity as counsel for KABATA, please advise if I may release the most recent document provided by KABATA to Mr. Kyle Hopkins. That document contains responses to some of the due diligence questions posed by the administration to KABATA. It has been marked "Confidential Deliberative Process Privilege" by KABATA. Mr. Hopkins of the Anchorage Daily News verbally requested a copy yesterday. I believe Kyle spoke to someone at KABATA yesterday and was told that KABATA did not object to the release of the document. If that is inaccurate and KABATA objects to the release of the document, you may also want to confirm with Kyle whether or not he wants to make a formal public records request for the document from KABATA, and appeal KABATA's decision.

Thanks,

Randy

Ok- I had to finally read a blog (yuck!) bc of comments I heard about wesley's account of the bear sighting in Juneau the other day.

Sheesh- nothing's changed since I stopped reading that ADN blog nearly two months ago!

But Wesley does need to clarify that, NO, I was not looking for publicity- I did not approach him about seeing three bears by the mansion... he approached me about it after hearing that I was one of the crowd looking at the bears that morning and he asked me to comment! Could he at least clarify that on the blog (without me having to admit to him that I actually spent the time reading his blog entry and the bloggers' replies). And I didn't put my kids in any danger, as the idiot blog comments claim.

Now, remind me to not peek in again at that ridiculous media forum - it's the most unhealthy and idiotic forum imaginable. Hopefully others can do that for us and call people on the untruths and misperceptions they read there.

Subject: Trooper Graduation Speech

Dear Governor,

Commissioner Monegan shared his speech to Trooper graduates on Thursday in Sitka. I found it very moving. Thought you'd like to see it. The Commissioner has a gift for words, which obviously helped during our visit to Togiak on Friday. I'll send you a report on that today.

Sitka, June 5th

Good afternoon to all of you.

To the parents of our graduates, thank you for instilling the values necessary for your son or daughter that prepared them for their challenging roles ahead. In doing so, you have provided a great service, to them .... and to all of us.

Thank you to the families as well, aside from the daily support that you will give your trooper or officer you will be a career long reminder of what must be protected.

Now to all of you graduating, soon you will be given a badge, a shield that will identify you as a protector, a guardian, a trooper. As you pin that on your uniform you may note that it feels a little heavy, it is because it is. That shield and uniform are more than ready identification, they are symbols. Symbols of: help, hope, courage, strength, compassion, and service. Symbols made that way by those who wore them before, by those men and women who had sweat, bled, and at times, wept in them.

You know, our world in part is of tradition. Traditions with roots back to the Middle Ages, and perhaps beyond; some of which we practice still. The salute we give to our flag and occasionally to ourselves began when armored knights would approach each other and deliberately lift the visors on their helmets to allow themselves to be recognized. The oath you are about to take is also tradition. Shamelessly I will quote the Knight's Pledge from the recent movie, "Kingdom of Heaven."

"Be without fear in the face of your enemies. Be brave and upright that God may love thee. Speak the truth always, even if it leads to your death. Safeguard the helpless and do no wrong. That is your oath."

This of course is a Hollywood creation, but it is founded on the principles of the Code of Chivalry or "Old Code" that had named values such as: Prowess; Justice; Loyalty; Defense; Courage; Faith; Humility; Largesse; Nobility; and, Franchise. Perhaps words somewhat antiquated, yet each describe values vital, vibrant, and desperately still needed in these perplexing times. Adhere to them and become a beacon of calm to those that you stand amongst.

Time has forced change so we have blended some of the old with the new. We had exchanged our broadsword for sidearm; our loyalty is still to the governing body, though since the American Revolution, it is now to the citizens we serve; and we have certainly reduced the size of our shield. Yet what beats beneath that shield is and must be the same as those who have ever carried one.

We can train your mind and your body, but the engine, the drive, can only be your heart.

The battery of tests and background investigations you had endured was to measure the width and depth of your character, your heart. An absolutely critical need for law enforcement, because if you don't care, who will? Heart is required to face the human challenge that will lie before you, and to be your anchor as you stand firmly between those who you protect and those who would do them harm. There may even come a day when your strength fails you and your mind says it is hopeless; it will be your heart that you must draw from to overcome that challenge whatever it may be..... that is what heroes do.

In time you will better understand and appreciate all of this; until then, trust me that to honor our profession, always provide the service you would want provided to the ones you love. Do that, and when the day comes that you lay your shield down for the last time, I guarantee that you will leave that it a little shinier for the next trooper that follows.

As you share the same heart, values, and oath with knights of old, then truly you are the knights of this day. Be both proud and humble in your duties and you too will add to this noble tradition.

Congratulations.

Please let me know if you have any changes and I'll amend. The oral version will be in the prompter for you when Andy and Jason record unless you have changes.

Bob will leave a briefing booklet in your vehicle, so you'll have it as soon as you arrive in Anchorage tomorrow. Janice will print out remarks for you today so that you may look them over at your convenience. I just wanted to highlight the following details:

-this is a ceremonial bill signing

-bill sponsors Rep. Thomas and Sen. Therriault are unable to attend, but will be honored in remarks

-staff from People magazine will be present

In this case:

- 1) More State employees may be involved and possibly charged;
- 2) This employee apparently will be arrested for felony theft, if the information we have is correct.

Subject: Possible Press Issue

I have been working with DOT management staff on a potential discipline matter involving a DOT/Local 71 employee. His duty station is in Palmer and it is alleged that he has taken a significant amount of state property (including fuel) for his own. We will be calling him in tomorrow to deal with the allegations on the personnel side. There may be others under investigation by the troopers.

We alerted Law and the Palmer DA of our personnel process/investigation. The troopers are close to the end of their investigation with the same employee/state property----the conduct appears to be a felony charge due to the significant value of property----I am told the value is somewhere around 25-30 thousand $$.

We sent the employee home while we dealt with the issue and will call him in tomorrow with his union representative to address the personnel allegations. Of course, we have worked 5th Amendment issues into our meeting with the employee. I understand that the employee will be arrested soon thereafter (day or two) by troopers.

Madam Governor:

Please add my name to your mailing/email list. I am writing John McCain to recommend you as the Republican VP selection.

You would be terrific and energize an otherwise lethargic party.

I hope you will consider this carefully if offered this job.

From the very Blue State of Washington but my spirtual home is Priest Lake, ID.

Go for it Sarah - it's your time!

I spoke with Kyle. He was able to get a copy of the document from KABATA in Anchorage. He is considering a follow up story in the next several days based on some of the statements in the document, such as estimated costs for the project, risks to the state, etc.

I will work with DOT to try and set up a meeting with KABATA for them to brief us on their new approach to the project.

Subject: Flint Hills Refinery/ Koch Announcement -

PERSONAL/CONFIDENTIAL - Attorney Client Privilege

Representatives of Koch Industries were in DC for a board of directors meeting a couple of weeks ago and met with the Alaska Congressional Delegation and staff to discuss the future of the Flint Hills Refinery. We are told that Koch intends to make a decision about the refinery's future on or about June 15th.

These representatives believe that the location differential premium for state royalty oil (averaging $1.08 per barrel between April 2004 to March 2008) causes the Flint Hills Refinery to be unprofitable. They further allege that the State has been unresponsive to their concerns.

In the aftermath of the Koch meetings, which I did not know about at the time, I have been involved in an email dialog with Senator Stevens. Armed with an excellent white paper prepared by Kevin Banks (which I provided to both Senators), I have been able to respond to the Senator's questions. Among other things, I have told him that the location differential, which used to be 15 cents and has been creeping up for several years, will likely be reduced later this year after DNR completes its audit of marine transportation costs.

Because of the various substantive and political considerations associated with a possible announcement by Koch, I wanted you to be aware of what has transpired in DC. There is not much we can do from here to help other than to continue responding to questions from the Congressional delegation. But, I wanted to advise you of the current situation in the event that more can or should be done at the Alaska end either to respond to Koch's concerns or to prepare for the announcement.

I have been working with DOT management staff on a potential discipline matter involving a DOT/Local 71 employee. His duty station is in Palmer and it is alleged that he has taken a significant amount of state property (including fuel) for his own. We will be calling him in tomorrow to deal with the allegations on the personnel side. There may be others under investigation by the troopers.

We alerted Law and the Palmer DA of our personnel process/investigation. The troopers are close to the end of their investigation with the same employee/state property---the conduct appears to be a felony charge due to the significant value of property---I am told the value is somewhere around 25-30 thousand $$.

We sent the employee home while we dealt with the issue and will call him in tomorrow with his union representative to address the personnel allegations. Of course, we have worked 5th Amendment issues into our meeting with the employee. I understand that the employee will be arrested soon thereafter (day or two) by troopers.

Governor,

Here are your remarks and event info for tomorrow's ceremonial bill signing (HB 166 "Check Off for Charity"). I've also attached a brief white paper on the legislation that you may find helpful. Bob will leave a briefing booklet in your vehicle, so you'll have it as soon as you arrive in Anchorage tomorrow. Janice will print out remarks for you today so that you may look them over at your convenience. I just wanted to highlight the following details:

- this is a ceremonial bill signing
- bill sponsors Rep. Thomas and Sen. Therriault are unable to attend, but will be honored in remarks
- staff from People magazine will be present

Please call or email me if you have any questions. Thank you!

MESSAGE:

I previously submitted these concerns almost two weeks ago. It is extremely hard to believe there is very little outrage with this governor's expectation that bonds will simply make up & cover the vetoed items. Has everyone forgotten how bonds are paid for? When bonds are approved, and most of them are due to voter ignorance or lack of knowledge and/or understanding, property owners like myself will see their property taxes go up. That is her solution to handling our budget when oil is at record highs & expected to go even higher?

Again- Regarding the article; "Palin's veto ax lops $268 million from budget" , and as a conservative Alaskan who did vote for Palin. If oil was $60 or $70 per barrel, I could see being more careful with spending and taking such action as Palin just did. Cutting the budget like Palin just did while we currently have $130+ oil & putting people out of work and ultimately impacting economic spending in the process is recklessly irresponsible, unacceptable & without saying- completely unnecessary. The "saving for a rainy day" justification is no longer an excuse with the amount of revenues this state is now taking in on oil alone. My own personal survey on this action by Palin with friends, family & acquaintances resulted in every single person agreeing with me, and they will not be voting for her again as well if she where to run for re-election (either for Governor again or for a higher office).

Words cannot express our disappointment in this governor's decision making process regarding the budget axing & then expecting property owners to foot the remaining balance with increased property taxes. Many people I have spoken to can only view Palin's recent demeanor & actions as an arrogant carelessness to show she has a position of power, and that she will use it at any cost. Regardless of the amount of people's lives that will unfortunately & unnecessarily be adversely affected with job losses. Again, Palin's actions come when oil is $130+ a barrel. This is entirely unacceptable action by any sitting governor.

I truly believe I speak for numerous people in Alaska right now with my comments. The most disturbing part of this issue is that Governor Palin must truly believe we are not paying enough property taxes already. The cost of property taxes has already caused some people to lose their homes and/or leave the state. Property taxes are too high in Anchorage as it is. To have this casual expectation for property owners to pay more property taxes right now when oil is at record highs (to make up the difference) is equally appalling? No one should have to lose their job with oil being at record highs (especially teachers & teacher assistants/aides), nor should property taxes go higher and cause more damage to families. I also just learned that the Anchorage Police Dept. was once again denied their requested funding for more office space for storing records, and that is unacceptable as well with our oil revenues being at record highs.

Thanks for listening and I hope more focus is shifted to my important & valid concerns, as it is warranted.

Joe, do we have any idea what Flint Hills' refinery margins are? Koch is not a publically traded company. So, I don't know the answer, but if there high, Koch doesn't have much of an argument.

Senator Stevens has focused primarily on the cost of aviation fuel and the possible loss of air traffic through Anchorage and Fairbanks. However, I don't know that there's any assurance that Flint Hills would pass on any savings to the ultimate consumers.

There has been some meandering discussion about granting an exemption from the Alaska aviation tax, which is currently at 3.2 cents per gallon. There is such an exemption for jet fuel used by foreign carriers. I'm told that a domestic exemption would cost the State about $4 million per year.

If you need Kevin's white paper, I'll dredge it up for you.

The Honorable Sarah Palin
Governor of Alaska
P.O. Box 110001
Juneau, Alaska 99811-0001

RE: Capital Budget Veto

Dear Governor Palin:

I was frankly shocked and dismayed when I learned that Alaska School Activities Association's (ASAA) $325,000 grant in the 2008 Capital Budget had been vetoed, especially after you and I had discussed administrative and legislative support of the program and its cost, during the state basketball tournament, and you had told me, 'Of course I will support your program.'

We have a tremendous problem with teen substance use/abuse in Alaska as I am sure that you know. A 2006 report by the United States Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration ranks Alaska #1 in teen substance abuse.

ASAA's program listed under the Department of Commerce, Statewide (HD 1-40), entitled, Alaska School Activities Association Substance Abuse Education and Prevention Program, is an innovative, comprehensive program of tobacco, alcohol and controlled substance education, prevention and remediation which is a unique approach to a problem that will not go away despite the efforts of multiple entities in the state. ASAA is working with other entities to jointly maximize the effects of the 'Play for keeps' program.

What makes this program unique is simply this. ASAA has been imposing consistent eligibility standards on student participants for over 50 years. There are over 40,000 students enrolled in Alaska high Schools. Of those, nearly 30,000 participate in interscholastic sports and activities for which they must meet ASAA eligibility rules. Students want to be able to play and will conform to higher standards such as the 'Play for Keeps' program. ASAA has an advantage that other entities in the state do not have - the broad, regular contact with 200 member schools and their student bodies.

While school boards around the state have various rules that deal with student use of tobacco, alcohol and controlled substances during sport and activity seasons, there is not consistency from school to school. ASAA's rule goes beyond that and applies equally to all student participants during the entire school calendar year, not just during a sport season. No longer will parties that occur after a season is over be overlooked.

During a recent presentation at the Klawock City School, a citizen who works for the local tribal association told me that most of her dealings are with citizens who have substance abuse problems who say that they started using during high school. In discussing 'Play for Keeps,' she said that, 'If this program puts me out of work, that's fine with me!'

'Play for Keeps' will go into effect beginning with the 2008-09 school year. Besides the written standards for students, it includes educational components and preventive and remedial measures for all high school student participants and their parents. The cost to develop and implement this statewide program will exceed $400,000. The veto of this important funding source will profoundly delay the full development and implementation of some of the crucial educational components.

In trying to learn why this important funding was vetoed, I have contacted your Anchorage office staff and left a message on your home phone. To date, I have not been informed why you made this decision. Please tell me your rationale so that ASAA knows where this program stands as a state priority.

Respectfully,

Gary Matthews

Dear Governor Palin:

Governor Palin,

I am a conservative from NY. I saw you on the Glenn Beck show and I was impressed with your views on domestic drilling. When he asked you if you would accept the position of Vice President if it was offered to you, your response was probably not because there is so much you can still do for Alaska. I say TAKE IT. Senator McCain will probably only serve one term. IF he does not pick a conservative VP I may not vote for the President. I appreciate your loyalty to Alaska but I think you could help Alaska and the country as VP and would be the presumptive nominee for President in either 4 or 8 years. Assuming he wins and if he doesnt, you get more national attention to run in 4 years as president yourself. I honestly feel that this country is ready for a woman president. Hillary Clinton was just the wrong woman.

MESSAGE:

Dear Mrs. Palin,

I am writing to urge you to strongly consider the opportunity to join John McCain as his vice president if the position is presented to you.

You are just what the national Republican party needs: a competent, principled, driven, personable, no-nonsense leader. You have a unique opportunity (if offered the position) to keep the Republican party at the forefront of national politics. You can do this by both showing that we still value our core conservative principles and that we are a progressive party too (a woman in a federal leadership position).

In addition, I lived in Anchorage for several years, and my parents have about 50 years of Alaska living between the two of them. I have much pride for the state and would love to see it represented on the national level. Lastly, I will add that as a believer in Christ, it is always good to see a fellow believer in a position of leadership outside the church walls.

Mrs. Palin, keep up the good work, and I implore you, consider the VP position!

-John Feeney

The Grant Institute: Certificate in Professional Program Development and Grant Communication will be held at Golden Gate University in San Francisco, California, June 16 - 20, 2008. Interested development professionals, researchers, faculty, and graduate students should register as soon as possible, as demand means that seats will fill up quickly. Please forward, post, and distribute this e-mail to your colleagues and listservs.

All participants will receive certification in professional grant writing from the Institute, as well as 3.5 CEU units. For more information call (888) 824 - 4424 or visit The Grant Institute at www.thegrantinstitute.com

Please find the program description below:

The Grant Institute
Certificate in Professional Program Development and Grant Communication will be held at Golden Gate University
San Francisco, California
June 16 - 20, 2008
8:00 AM - 5:00 PM

The Grant Institute: Certificate in Professional Program Development and Grant Communication is a five-day intensive and interactive experience in which participants will be led through the program development, grant writing, and funding acquisition processes through the completion of four courses. The Grant Institute is not a seminar. Participants will actively engage in exercises and activities designed to strengthen their mastery of grant acquisition. Through the completion of varying assignments, students will leave The Grant Institute with a real grant proposal outline complete with quality research, solid content, and expert review. The Grant Institute focuses on combining the fundamentals of grant proposal writing with expert knowledge of communication principles such as Strategic Research, Persuasion, Argumentation, and Framing.

The Grant Institute trainers and consultants do not merely lecture participants, but act as personal consultants and coaches dedicated to encouraging participants to succeed beyond their own expectations. While The Grant Institute uses collaboration and small groups for many exercises, each participant will work on their organization's project. Participants are not overwhelmed with negativity or discouragement, but will be given the highest level of expertise to generate confidence in pursuing any funding project.

At The Grant Institute, participants don't just learn to write grant proposals from top to bottom. Participants become specialists in our unique area of expertise: Grant Communication. Simply put, this is not your grandfather's grantwriting workshop. Our graduates are strategic, innovative, and confident. Whether you are new to professional grantwriting, or an experienced professional, you will not want to miss The Grant Institute.

The Grant Institute consists of four (4) courses that will be completed during the five-day workshop.

(1) Program Development and Evaluation

10/15/2009

This course is centered around the belief that "it's all about the program." This intensive course will teach professional program development essentials and program evaluation. While most grantwriting "workshops" treat program development and evaluation as separate from the writing of a proposal, this class will teach students the relationship between overall program planning and all strategic communication, including grantwriting. Consistent in our belief in grant communication, this class encourages students to understand successful program development and to think strategically about funding as an integral part of the overall program planning process. This class turns students into experts by teaching how to take ideas and concepts and turn them into professionally developed programs.

(2) Advanced Grant Writing

Designed for both the novice and experienced grantwriter, this course will make each student an overall fundraising communication specialist. In addition to teaching the basic components of a grant proposal, successful approaches, and the do's and don'ts of grantwriting, this course is infused with expert principles that will lead to a mastery of the process. Strategy resides at the forefront of this course's intent to illustrate grantwriting as an integrated, multidimensional, and dynamic endeavor. Each student will learn to stop writing the grant and to start writing the story. Ultimately, this class will illustrate how each component of the grant proposal represents an opportunity to use proven techniques for generating support.

(3) Strategic Grant Research

At its foundation, this course will address the basics of foundation, corporation, and government grant research. However, this course will teach a strategic funding research approach that encourages students to see research not as something they do before they write a proposal, but as an integrated part of the grant seeking process. Students will be exposed to online and database research tools, as well as publications and directories which contain information about foundation, corporation, and government grant opportunities. Focusing on funding sources and basic social science research, this course teaches students how to use research as part of a strategic communication effort.

(4) Advanced Communication Strategies: Institute for Communication Improvement Persuasion and Argumentation Techniques

This course, designed by Institute for Communication Improvement, will provide students with an arsenal of advanced persuasion and argumentation techniques. Centered around expert communication principles, this class will change the way students conceptualize grant proposals and other fundraising tools. Students will leave this course with ICI's masterful methods and will be more than just confident grantwriters, but communication specialists. This course is grounded on the idea that fundraising and nonprofit development represent profound communication activity. Without question, this course is part of The Grant Institute difference.

Registration

Subject: Re: Develop a new state?//Food for thought

As far as this administration is concern, be it any issue, their sense of the state of Alaska is Mat-Su and road system. Just like the issues regarding boards and commission. Now on the energy issue, it must be limited to the road system once again. I thought the Governor was aware of rural issues because she goes fishing in BB, or is it her imagination, or of those who she relies on to give her advise. Gasoline in Newtok is now $11.00/gal., while Fairbanks is probably below $5.00/gal. Now who has an energy issue?

Fairbanksgas says that a "majority of Alaskans do not have an energy crisis." I can't agree with that. Our energy costs in our villages are much greater than Fairbanks is experiencing. Our gasoline is going for $8 to $10 a gallon, heating fuel is $7 a gallon, and electricity in many villages is over 88 cents a kwh. Is Fairbanks anywhere near that? But, we all have to work together to get immediate relief. Fairbanks does need to push hard for relief as we do in our villages.

I don't think our legislators are being responsible for not calling their own emergency energy session and set aside AGIA to do that.

I am sure that all of you read about the Alaska Village Electric Coop's fuel costs going from $14 million last year to $26 million this year. They sent that to the state and the state has not convened a disaster team to examine the impact on those 53 villages that AVEC represents. As soon as the avalanche hit in Juneau, 17 state officials gathered in Juneau, led by General Campbell, to review Juneau's request for an energy emergency declaration. No state declaration emerged but the point is: That as far as I know, there was no state emergency team convened to review AVEC's fuel emergency. What is with that?

There seems to be a double standard of care to Alaskans depending on where they live. I don't want to think that is true but more and more evidence piles up that leads one to that regrettable conclusion.

Maybe it is time for villages across the state, where most of the natural renewable and non-renewable resources reside, begin to think of seceding from the State of Alaska and create a Northwestern State of Alaska. Those of us that live north of Anchorage and West of the Alaska Range are often given short shrift in Juneau. I think that the concentraton of political power in Anchorage is not in the best interests of those of us that live in the rest of the state. Maybe Fairbanks could be the new capitol of the new State of Northwestern Alaska.

PRA_GSP01_0019280

I posted the above in response to a writer named "Fairbanksgas" in the Fairbanks Daily News-Miner on their story about calling attention to in-state gas needs for Alaskans. The idea of a Northwestern State has been talked about by us in the villages for a long time. Now that it looks like many of our issues will never be attended to satisfactorily; it may be time to reawaken that debate and move the idea of a new Northwestern Alaska State forward.

Anchorage has the lowest cost of living, has few renewable resources and even less non-renewable resources, and a large population that all of us in Rural and Remote Alaska subsidizes. Anchorage takes most of our meager disposable incomes by providing much of the legal, accounting, engineering, food, and transportation services for us. And, many of our Native Corporations have substantial capital investments in Anchorage that could move out to our more Rural and Remote communities across the state.

Anchorage legislators, for the most part have never lived in Rural and Remote Alaska and therefore have a difficult time empathizing with our needs. We have tried unsuccessfully for many years to enshrine Subsistence into the state's constitution; we have a totally inadequate police force in our villages; our schools are closing and falling apart; the justice system leaves us with much to be desired by seeing so many of our women raped and murdered in Anchorage with no meaningful program to address it; our school student dropout rate is the highest in the nation; our economies in our villages are virtually non-existent; health care delivery for our citizens and veterans is shameful at best; there is no running water in many of our villages; suicides rates are very high; our airports need to be extended and lighted; human waste disposal is still a very serious problem; many of our villages have serious erosion issues that need immediate remediation; AND our energy needs are totally ignored and need immediate resolution.

We have few Native people in our university system; few Native school superintendents and Native teachers in our schools; few Alaska Native State Troopers, never had a Native Supreme Court Justice and few if any superior court judges, very few Alaska Natives in policy making roles in our state departments, and little or no influence in the over all policy making that affects our daily lives and our future. The list could go on and on and on.

Because it is useless to fight the Anchorage political power house, we need to find a new way to address our needs. We do need to do some work and more serious thinking about a new state. We could get all of what we need in Western and Northern Alaska IF we had our own state of Northwest Alaska.

The first attachment is the written version which is lengthier and more poetic. The second is the oral version for radio / television that you'll record in the morning. Please let me know if you have any changes and I'll amend. The oral version will be in the prompter for you when Andy and Jason record unless you have changes.

Thanks,

Subject: CriticalThinkRx & the Psychiatric Drugging of Children in State Custody

Dear Mr. Hogan:

In a last-ditch effort to avoid litigation as I begin drafting my complaint seeking a declaratory judgment and injunction against the state of Alaska for its massively harmful psychiatric drugging of children it has taken into custody, I thought I would draw your attention to a terrific, just launched, on line program about this issue, called CriticalThinkRx. Paid for by a grant from the Attorneys General Consumer and Prescriber Grant Program, funded by the multi-state settlement of consumer fraud claims regarding the marketing of Neurontin®, CriticalThinkRx was developed specifically for non-medical personnel making decisions about giving psychiatric drugs to children. In other words, it was put together so that people such as those working for the State of Alaska authorizing the psychiatric drugging of children subject to State control are able to make informed decisions.

By this e-mail, I am requesting (demanding) the State implement such a program for informed decision making regarding the administration of psychiatric drugs to children it has taken into custody.

Frankly, even if the State continues to ignore this problem, it might as well start looking at the CriticalThinkRx program now because it will be faced with this same information in the lawsuit. More importantly, the State should use the information to change what it is doing to the children whom it has taken into custody and subjecting to what can quite legitimately be characterized as State-inflicted child abuse. I suspect you take umbrage at this characterization and think it is an exaggeration, but it is an accurate one. It is a huge betrayal by the State of this most vulnerable population and should be stopped immediately.

As you know, PsychRights has tried for years to get the State to address the problem of it's very harmful program of psychiatrically drugging kids it has taken into custody. See, <http://psychrights.org/States/Alaska/Kids/Kids.htm>

I hope the State will now recognize the problem and immediately take steps to correct it. Unfortunately, based on past experience, my guess is this will not happen. Therefore, I am proceeding with developing the lawsuit unless I hear otherwise from you and we work out a satisfactory program to address this crisis, such as one consistent with CriticalThinkRx, that does not inflict such damage on Alaska's children for whom the State has taken responsibility.

Dear Governor Palin,

As a recent resident of Alaska and a continued registered Professional Engineer in Alaska, I have a suggestion.

John McCain has spoken recently about respecting States' opinions on opening offshore drilling in their area.

I suggest Governor Palin ask him to demonstrate this stance by co-authoring a bill with the Alaska Senators to open the coastal plain of ANWR (area 1002) for exploration and production of its oil and natural gas resources; just like it was planned in the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act when ANWR was enlarged to its present size.

John McCain has been speaking this "individual states should decide" point of view several times recently. It has been reported in articles such as:

House panel to consider lifting domestic drill ban

http://www.usatoday.com/money/industries/energy/2008-06-10-house-drilling\_N.htm

On a personal note, we left Alaska to assist aging parents in Texas. We hope to return to Alaska when our present situation changes. The continued development of the Resources of Alaska will help those job opportunities that will make that possible.

Congratulations on the birth of your son Trig. Family is very important and I wish you well along with your family.

Sincerely,

Todd Hackney

MESSAGE:

Honorable Governor Sarah Palin,

I am requesting that if you are offered the Vice Presidential position by John McCain that you accept it. Our nation, that includes the Great State of Alaska, is in desperate need of a leader with your zeal and ethical standards.

I am writing this as a long time resident of South Carolina, who just moved, to Georgia and I think Mark Sanford would be good for this nation and was the person I wanted John McCain to name for Vice President until I saw an article on the Governor of Alaska and started to research. Your anti-corruption, Fiscal conservative record is amazing. You are the first public servant not politician I have seen in a high level office in my entire life. You are the only person I know right now that could reform the political structure we have in place of individuals only worrying about themselves. The role of Vice President would give you the opportunity of doing this while earning the trust of all Americans to prepare yourself for the next position where the United States needs a leader of your quality. As Vice President you would be President of the Senate and you could clean up the corruption in the US Senate and this would force the House of Representatives to do the same or get repla ced.

You have the charismatic, straightforwardness, adventurous, honest down to earth personality and moral traits that our nation is yearning for. Americans can relate with you and as long as you and I doubt it, do not get corrupted by Washington our Nation will excel. I know this would be a big decision and would require the blessing and support of your family but I would ask that you pray over it and if the opportunity becomes available to consider it for this country.

I heard that you recently gave birth to a baby with down syndrome. For me to hear such things is very interesting since i also gave birth to a baby with downs on June 27 2007. MY baby is lovely and doing wonderful. Thank g-d.

I don't know what its like in alaska but here in N.Y. city they are trying to cut E.I. services. so they give to pple. twice a month family training. Which is causing a big problem. Since no good Therapist wants to take on such a case. and a baby with d.s. stays with out a therapists. either they should give once a week or no family traing at all.

i know that you are not my governer but since you can know relate to me, and you do have a stronger word than me please try to do something about.

Dear Governor Palin,

Sarah and Todd you folks just blow me away. Living your life so free of self protection - honest and real. It is like performance art without the performance. Is it because you are a self reliant Alaskans? Well that's part of the reason, I'm sure. I never had the pleasure of meeting you Todd. It would seem that Sarah has pick someone like herself. Of course that is some who knows himself because he know his Father God. One who loves because he is loved.

The greatest art, the greatest beauty is a life lived out as a shining revelation of how much God loves each and everyone of us. We lose something as a society, a people, as human beings when we mistakenly believe that our Father in Heaven loves us any less because our disability or imperfections. Jesus truly is the author of the "Ragamuffin Gospel." He came for the ones who need Him. Ones the world pretends that do not exist. Ones the world takes a step away from.

Trig and the two of you must have been born for "such a time as this." The world can not comprehend the intrinsic value of Trig. The joy that his innocence brings. Your actions give voice to the words they can not comprehend. Actions do speak louder than words. I am grateful that you did not hold your peace. That you stood up for Trig. That you love him as your Father loves you.

Es 4:14

For if thou altogether holdest thy peace at this time, then shall there enlargement and deliverance arise to the Jews from another place; but thou and thy father's house shall be destroyed: and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?

Esther stood up for her family and nation. Sarah, you have done the same, "for such a time as this."

I know a little bit of what you have gone through, are going through and will go through. Cami is 6 years old and has classic autism. She was diagnosed at 3. We denied it for months, cried for what her future may hold and how unfair it is. All the late milestones - walking, crawling and talking. The isolation and pain of not being understood or how to communicate how she feels. I could see glimpses of Cami through the veil of autism of how special she is.

Today, I am so proud of her. She just finished Kindergarten. She has friends that she plays with. She reads on a third grade level. She plays soccer, eventhough she runs the wrong way sometimes. She flaps her hands and kicks her feet. I think she is just more intouch with her inner cheerleader than most of the rest of us. She has worked really hard and had some really good therapists. She gets God more than I do. She has so exceeded my expectations. I am a proud PaPa. I have hopes and dreams for her. You never know how far they will go, you just celebrate each and every step along the way. The steps are more precious and more savored. I love her so much.

I still worry about Cami's future. But I know our Creator did not make a mistake. He created Cami in His image and He loves her.

I never knew you had it in you to be Governor. Your Creator must be proud of you.

I wish you, Todd and your family all the best. I will remember you guys in my prayers.

An old friend from college,

Erik

PS. I remember you encouraging me to "think big things." I am now even more encouraged by your example.

Subject: Summary of Chamber/Americas Commerical Visit to Belize, please let me know if you have any questions, thanks, Gil Cisneros

The Chamber of the Americas recently embarked on a commercial visit to Belize. The organization explored trade opportunities in the tiny but lucrative nation that is increasingly attracting international tourists and businesses. Chamber of the Americas CEO Gil Cisneros believes Belize is particularly promising for Colorado businesses due to already established relationships that the nation enjoys with Colorado residents, including divers. "There is a connection that already exists," observed Cisneros.

The Chamber seeks to strengthen and expand those existing connections. With that intention, Cisneros met with numerous Belize organizations in both the public and private sector, including the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce and the Belize Chamber of Commerce and Industry; is in the process of developing strategic partnerships with these organizations. The Chamber also discussed potential opportunities with major Belizean business and government leaders. Among the dignitaries key to the Chambers' exploratory efforts is U.S. Ambassador to Belize Robert Dieter, who the Chamber will present in Denver next month for further discussion about the economic opportunities that Belize presents to American businesses. Highlights also included meetings with Belize Speaker of the House Emile Arguelles and Sir Barry Bowen, owner of Belize Aquaculture, is one of the nation's premier entrepreneurs.

Coleen Merritt, the Chambers of the Americas Principal of Cross Marketing, is an integral player in the Chambers' goal to embrace Belize as a major player in Western Hemispheric financial markets. The Chamber plans to open an auxiliary office in Belize, allowing the organization to maintain a constant presence in Latin America. Cisneros said that the organization's long-term design is to promote and facilitate Latin American trade with the U.S., with Merritt serving as the Chambers' local representative and eyesight in Belize, Honduras, Guatemala, Mexico and other Latin American countries. "Merritt will be monitoring economic activities in that region," explained Cisneros.

The Chamber is currently studying the overarching dynamics and feasibility of business exchanges between American and Belizean businesses as it considers establishing a permanent office in the nation. And based on the organizations' initial discoveries, Cisneros is confident that opportunities are ripe to enhance and expand. While Belize is a former British colony and the country's dominant language is English, the nation boasts a diverse and exciting population with strong connections to other Latin American countries. For Cisneros, the nation offers American businesses the best of both worlds—the linguistic familiarity of the English language in Belizean society, along with proximity and ties to Latin America overall.

I just read something from a fellow Republican that Senator John McCain may ask you to run for the Vice President Position so I looked you up and read about you. You would definitely be a big boost to the presidency and would bring honesty and integrity to this great land. I hope that you seriously consider that and I'll promise to help you in any way I can. Its a crying shame that someone like Barrack Obama has got this far and the people can't see what a mistake he is. I know your loyalty is to your family and State but we need you in the White house now. Please consider it and bring some honesty back in the good ole United States. Dear Governor Palin,

As a recent resident of Alaska and a continued registered Professional Engineer in Alaska, I have a suggestion.

John McCain has spoken recently about respecting States' opinions on opening offshore drilling in their area.

I suggest Governor Palin ask him to demonstrate this stance by co-authoring a bill with the Alaska Senators to open the coastal plain of ANWR (area 1002) for exploration and production of its oil and natural gas resources; just like it was planned in the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act when ANWR was enlarged to its present size.

John McCain has been speaking this "individual states should decide" point of view several times recently. It has been reported in articles such as:

House panel to consider lifting domestic drill ban

http://www.usatoday.com/money/industries/energy/2008-06-10-house-drilling\_N.htm

On a personal note, we left Alaska to assist aging parents in Texas. We hope to return to Alaska when our present situation changes. The continued development of the Resources of Alaska will help those job opportunities that will make that possible.

Congratulations on the birth of your son Trig. Family is very important and I wish you well along with your family.

Sincerely,

Todd Hackney

You appear to be a coward in any situation that doesn't have an apparent groundswell of support.

That makes you a poll-driven governor, much like the Clinton Presidency was. Exactly what Alaska needed. It also makes you a liar, since you have done nothing demonstrate that you're the conservative or family-centric person you claim to be.

MESSAGE:

Honorable Governor Sarah Palin,

I am requesting that if you are offered the Vice Presidential position by John McCain that you accept it. Our nation, that includes the Great State of Alaska, is in desperate need of a leader with your zeal and ethical standards.

I am writing this as a long time resident of South Carolina, who just moved, to Georgia and I think Mark Sanford would be good for this nation and was the person I wanted John McCain to name for Vice President until I saw an article on the Governor of Alaska and started to research. Your anti-corruption, Fiscal conservative record is amazing. You are the first public servant not politician I have seen in a high level office in my entire life. You are the only person I know right now that could reform the political structure we have in place of individuals only worrying about themselves. The role of Vice President would give you the opportunity of doing this while earning the trust of all Americans to prepare yourself for the next position where the United States needs a leader of your quality. As Vice President you would be President of the Senate and you could clean up the corruption in the US Senate and this would force the House of Representatives to do the same or get repla ced.

You have the charismatic, straightforwardness, adventurous, honest down to earth personality and moral traits that our nation is yearning for. Americans can relate with you and as long as you and I doubt it, do not get corrupted by Washington our Nation will excel. I know this would be a big decision and would require the blessing and support of your family but I would ask that you pray over it and if the opportunity becomes available to consider it for this country.

I heard that you recently gave birth to a baby with down syndrome. For me to hear such things is very interesting since i also gave birth to a baby with downs on June 27 2007. MY baby is lovely and doing wonderful. Thank g-d.

I don't know what its like in alaska but here in N.Y. city they are trying to cut E.I. services. so they give to pple. twice a month family training. Which is causing a big problem. Since no good Therapist wants to take on such a case. and a baby with d.s. stays with out a therapists. either they should give once a week or no family traing at all.

i know that you are not my governer but since you can know relate to me, and you do have a stronger word than me please try to do something about.

It's going to be hard to vote for McCain, that is, unless you are his running mate. Looking forward to seeing you on the National scene.

Dear Governor Palin,

Sarah and Todd you folks just blow me away. Living your life so free of self protection - honest and real. It is like performance art without the performance. Is it because you are a self reliant Alaskans? Well that's part of the reason, I'm sure. I never had the pleasure of meeting you Todd. It would seem that Sarah has pick someone like herself. Of course that is some who knows himself because he know his Father God. One who loves because he is loved.

The greatest art, the greatest beauty is a life lived out as a shining revelation of how much God loves each and everyone of us. We lose something as a society, a people, as human beings when we mistakenly believe that our Father in Heaven loves us any less because our disability or imperfections. Jesus truly is the author of the "Ragamuffin Gospel." He came for the ones who need Him. Ones the world pretends that do not exist. Ones the world takes a step away from.

Trig and the two of you must have been born for "such a time as this." The world can not comprehend the intrinsic value of Trig. The joy that his innocence brings. Your actions give voice to the words they can not comprehend. Actions do speak louder than words. I am grateful that you did not hold your peace. That you stood up for Trig. That you love him as your Father loves you.

For if thou altogether holdest thy peace at this time, then shall there enlargement and deliverance arise to the Jews from another place; but thou and thy father's house shall be destroyed: and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?

Esther stood up for her family and nation. Sarah, you have done the same, "for such a time as this."

I know a little bit of what you have gone through, are going through and will go through. Cami is 6 years old and has classic autism. She was diagnosed at 3. We denied it for months, cried for what her future may hold and how unfair it is. All the late milestones - walking, crawling and talking. The isolation and pain of not being understood or how to communicate how she feels. I could see glimpses of Cami through the veil of autism of how special she is.

Today, I am so proud of her. She just finished Kindergarten. She has friends that she plays with. She reads on a third grade level. She plays soccer, eventhough she runs the wrong way sometimes. She flaps her hands and kicks her feet. I think she is just more intouch with her inner cheerleader than most of the rest of us. She has worked really hard and had some really good therapists. She gets God more than I do. She has so exceeded my expectations. I am a proud PaPa. I have hopes and dreams for her. You never know how far they will go, you just celebrate each and every step along the way. The steps are more precious and more savored. I love her so much.

I still worry about Cami's future. But I know our Creator did not make a mistake. He created Cami in His image and He loves her.

I never knew you had it in you to be Governor. Your Creator must be proud of you.

I wish you, Todd and your family all the best. I will remember you guys in my prayers.

An old friend from college,

Erik

PS. I remember you encouraging me to "think big things." I am now even more encouraged by your example.

Governor,

I have included your event info, remarks, and an updated, detailed schedule of the base tour for Friday. A few things to be aware of:

- Susan Hernandez, the FWA widow who initiated the legislation, will be present with her family.
- Sen. Wilkens will be present to introduce you and start the event, and will also close the event. FWA is in his Senate district.

Regarding the base tour:

-You are invited and encouraged to try out the simulations, so long as you are comfortable. They'd love it if you tried out at least one of the three (they can create a calm, battle-free scenario that won't be physically or emotionally jarring), but you are welcome, of course, to observe only, if you so choose. They planned the day out as though you'd have your entire family with you; their one concern was that you might have to climb a lot of steps while holding Trig; I let them know you'd be fine☺

Explanation of simulation acronyms in the order in which you will tour them (also included in packet info):

*BCTC – Battle Command Training Center. This is where you will spend the majority of your tour, and also where you will meet FWA soldiers.

**HEAT – Mock-up simulation of a Military equipped HUM-V; terrain and situation can be simulated to exact specifications, and is largely used to train soldiers how to exit vehicle if it turns upside down.

****EST (I believe stands for "Engagement Simulated Training") – room the size of a small movie theatre, with a massive screen that plays simulated situations to train soldiers for battle. Sort of a glorified video game; the room is equipped with sandbags, weapons, and the simulations will play out battle scenes where the soldiers "shoot the bad guys."

I believe that Shelley and Patricia are attending Kris' father's funeral; I will send the briefing booklets for Friday's two sets of signings out with them to give you before you leave. Please let me know if you have any questions. I hope you have a wonderful trip, and thanks so much!

She says it has the support of many of her constituents but she thinks it is a disastrous move for the state. Mike Ross would like a comment from you. He knows you are travelling to FBKS. Green drops reelection bid

by Channel 2 News Staff
Thursday, June 12, 2008

ANCHORAGE, Alaska -- State Senate President Lyda Green says she is dropping out her race for Just last week Sen. Green talked about defending her seat. After 14 years working for Senate District G in the Mat-Su Valley she says she is done because of the direction Gov. Sarah Palin is taking the state on the gas pipeline.

In a letter addressed to Alaskans she says it's become clear to her lawmakers and her constituents support Gov. Palin's oil and gas policies and her Alaska Gasline Inducement Act plan.

Green said in the letter, "I sincerely believe Gov. Palin is wrong. I am convinced that her oil and gas policy will lead to terrible consequences for Alaska. I must make a choice."

Lyda voted for AGIA.

She's dropping out due to all the recent polls showing how far behind Linda she is.

You can tell Ross that, in ypur own special way. My phone won't allow me coverage through Nenana. :)

Governor-

Channel 2 just called to say that lyda just issued a press release saying she will not seek reelection. She says it is because of the AGIA process. She says it has the support of many of her constituents but she thinks it is a disasterous move for the state. Mike ross would like a comment from you. He knows you are travelling to fbks. If it is at all possible to give him a comment - he is at 762 9248.

Hi Governor

I wanted to share with you that I've been speaking with Susan Hernandez who's husband was killed in combat and who is the motivation behind the bill to give property tax relief to widows. She was beyond words when I told her about the bill signing and when finally able to speak said this bill now means she and her young children can remain in their home.

I'm excited for you to meet her tomorrow.

I think this is one of the nice things about our jobs, don't you?

Governor - There is a limited number of seats available on the evening of Monday, June 30 Barrow - ANC (Return).

Departing Barrow at 8:01 p.m. Arrive ANC at 11:00 p.m. I can hold seats on the return and we will work on the June 30 morning flight - this way you would only be in Barrow for one day (Monday, June 30). How many seats would you need for this day. I know some gasline members will be in Barrow but would you like other staff to also accompany you. Janice Bill McKay, AK Airlines - would be willing to put on a larger plane into Barrow the morning of June 30.

You would depart ANC at 6:00 a.m. - Arriving Barrow at 10:18 a.m.

Spend one night in Barrow

Alaska Airlines would be willing to put on a larger plane out of Barrow the evening of July 1.

You would depart Barrow at 8:01 p.m. - Arriving FBKS at 9:21 p.m.

You would depart FBKS at 10:05 p.m. - Arriving ANC at 11:00 p.m.

They would be more than happy to do this as this would be a Great Community Event.

Governor,

I just got off the phone with Colonel Talkington. I let him know that there was a concern that Track was potentially being singled out and that you wanted to be sure that all the troops received the same attention and honor. I respectfully requested that Track be removed from any "tour guide" role or demonstration lead. I also conveyed that you are very much looking forward to the tour of FWA, and that you appreciate all the hard work and preparation that's gone into the planning of this event. Col. Talkington understood completely, and agreed to speak to Track's commanding officer(s) and have him removed from any spotlight.

Please let me know if you have any other questions or concerns. Thank you!

Kate

True- this could have come from his own bosses mistakenly thinking this is something he'd actually like to do. :)

So we'll get him off the hook with Roseanne's neighbor who happens to be our guide on base that day. Thanks

Very good. Track is begging that, at the most, we stop by his company to say "what's up" and that he not have his shift schedule changed just to accomodate our visit. He's deathly afraid of being given special treatment or attention, so please tell the Army brass that at the most we'll swing by and see his company but he won't be asked to hang with us. Thanks!

He just texted me, nervous that his 1st Sgt told him we asked that he be our tour guide when we do the bill signings and tour of Ft Wainwright on Friday. I reassured him we did not request that he be put on the spot and under pressure to guide us - that any random soldier or top brass could do this. Track thanked me for that because he doesn't want to be treated any differently than other soldiers up there - so could we look into that and make sure our tour guide(s) are less camera-shy than my son? I promised him we'd get him off the hook. Thanks!

Also, the question regarding the McNeil River Trip - I talked with Comm. Lloyd last evening as he was inquiring and I let him know that we would like to look at a 1 day trip for you. He is going to inquire regarding the tides and if it looks feasible we can put you on for a 1 day or 2 day if you prefer. Web mail from: Mr. ROBERT BRUCE PARHAM
address: 4310 Seeley Circle Anchorage, AK 99502

The Honorable Sarah Palin

Governor of Alaska

Dear Governor Palin:

I wanted to thank you so much for signing the capital budget item to appropriate $7.5 appropriation for the Alaska State Library. It is crucial to take the necessary steps to preserve the state records, manuscript collections, and museum artifacts.

I hope that a new State Library, Archives, and Museums Building can be a permanent legacy and memorial to the 50th Anniversary of Alaska statehood.

I strongly support actual construction of a new Library, Archives, and Museums building in Juneau. The present facilities lack modern temperature and humidity controls, storage space, exhibits space, and modern safeguards for permanent records. Temperature should be 65F with a relative humidity of +- 45 degrees relative humidity to ensure preservation for most records. The permanent collections will suffer permanent damage and eventually disintegrate without the proper environmental controls.

I have visited the Alaska State Archives in Juneau as a researcher and in my capacity as a Federal archivist. Last year, I flew the Juneau (my second visit in 19 years to the capital) specifically to use their collections.

The archives building is literally tearing apart. The archives building (at the end of Willoughby Avenue) is on unstable fill and is splitting apart. I toured the facility four years ago and vividly recall the metal plate over the bottom door frame to cover the large gap in the cement floor. I noticed that there was no earthquake bracing on the shelving, which was in need of replacement.

The Alaska Historical Collections section of the Alaska State Library was the former territorial library (founded in 1900). As the oldest repository in the state, the documents, photographs, and other paper records are invaluable to researchers.

I would like to also express my strong support for your work on the Alaska gas line. I am very encouraged about your efforts and support the Trans-Canada Pipeline Company as the best choice for Alaska.

Sincerely,

R. Bruce Parham

For your information and files, I wanted you to have the attached letter from Governors Manchin and Palin to Congress urging support for federal-state programs that assist states in promoting energy security.

Rosanne/Sharon, this might be worth a press release on a slow news day given the State's current efforts with respect to energy policy and Governor Palin's leadership on NGA's Natural Resources Committee.

Dear Governor Sarah,

Have had you in much prayer since we were together in March. Am still in awe of how God works things out.

I understand my boss, Ron Peck, was at the World Trade awards luncheon recently and got a few moments to speak with you about the signing of HB147. How exciting to have a media event associated with the signing.

How is sweet little Trig doing? My granddaughter is getting ready to turn two, and I remember being there for her birth. What a precious time. The dance ministry that I am in have been keeping you, Trig in prayer. God has placed the two of you deeply on their hearts, for which I am grateful as it joins with mine.

I am forwarding an email from Mary Glazier of Windwalkers. She and her global team are going to Japan July 2-11 for the G-8 meetings and Japanese Prayer Convocation. She has requested the following:

- > I'd like to contact Governor Sarah Palin regarding
- > our state sending a greeting and/or a gift to cement
- > this diplomatic time which will precede the meeting
- > of the eight leaders of the industrialized nations
- > (G-8). Can you put me in contact with Governor
- > Palin?

I respect your privacy, so rather than just give her your email, have forwarded you her email. I heard that you would be speaking at Mary's conference in October. Wow! Am checking my schedule, and I believe it is the week after the ATIA convention, so I should be able to make some of it! Mary's email is maglazier@msn.com.

My dear friend Nancy Haney and team just got back from a 7 week ministry trip to Hong Kong, India and China. She was in China when the earthquake occurred, however with only minor detours to the ministry plan. I have gotten a few amazing written reports, but am looking forward to hearing first hand how God's hand was at work every step of their journey.

It is so amazing to take a step back and see the bits and pieces where God is at work and contemplating how they may fit together. Knowing that He will complete the picture that we only see in part.

This has been more lengthy than I anticipated and assume your time is at premium. May God continue to pour into you his grace, mercy and wisdom for these days ahead. May the Holy Spirit fill you to overflowing and be the conduit that gives you direct communication with our Heavenly Father. May you rest in and draw strength from Him, the Alpha and Omega. In the name of Jesus....Amen

In His Service,

Fallico, 66, had cancer, said Ann Potempa, a spokeswoman with the state Department of Health and Social Services.

Fallico retired from his job as the state's lead medical examiner in April, a position he held since 2001. He had been on extended medical leave since October 2007.

During his tenure, he was a well-known figure in courtrooms, in the news and among law enforcement around the state. He performed 1,577 autopsies, including those for some of Alaska's most gruesome crimes.

In 2005, he appeared in the Werner Herzog documentary "Grizzly Man" about the bear mauling of Timothy Treadwell. His brief onscreen interview telling the morbid and riveting details of what happened grabbed the attention of national film critics. A New York Times reviewer said he was a "character around whom an entire reality show could be built."

There were a few Ft Wainwright visit pictures in Fairbank's newspaper yesterday- could you get them so I can sign for Oscar Hall and the soldier shown in one of them- I could only see the pics online, but they looked like appropriate ones to signature and send from our office. Thanks! (Maybe a copy for the base, too, as one pic showed Todd looking at their Wall of Honor.)

Dan,

Received your letter dated 6/10/08. In response, this was not a Jolt intent to claim. It was a response with back-up from our aluminum supplier that the chromate conversion coating you have been concerned about had indeed been applied. It documented our conformance to Standard Specification 730-2.01 which was the single complaint you have made to Jolt starting in Nov. 2007 and continuing through May, 27th of this year. It was and is an attempt for finding a reasonable solution to your concern. In your latest letter you now quote from another Standard Specification, 615-301, indicating the Jolt installed signs "detract from general or color match." Let me point out that any discoloration is white in color over silver colored aluminum and that it is on the back of the sign. Also, I provided a corrective action plan over six months ago that would correct any "color match" discrepancy and in reasonable fashion. That action, recommended by Jolt's aluminum supplier, consisted of lightly sanding any white spots then painting the entire back of the sign with an aluminum based paint. This would be at no cost to the AKDOT. Would this not reasonably solve all issues? Please advise.

Dan,

Received your letter dated 5/27/08 outlining AKDOT corrective action for oxidation on sign backs. Seems a bit heavy handed to replace sign panels that have been up and directing the Alaska public for the past seven months and show no sign of degeneration. The $60,00.00 warranty bond also seems somewhat high for a job that totals about $72,000.00 and you have paid only $42,000.00. It also flies in the face your offer to accept the job if the reflective sheeting manufacturer warranted their product in spite of back of sign oxidation. See both attached letters. Yours and theirs. I also have attached a new letter from my aluminum supplier backing up our claim and the accepted submittals you already possess stating the chromate conversion coating has indeed been applied. Taking into account this new information, if Jolt is still in non-conformance with Standard Specification 730-2.01, please detail precisely what that non-conformance is.

Good Afternoon, Ladies. I hope you are all enjoying the summer so far. Special session is in full swing and as you know the legislature is now on the road. I wanted to take a few minutes to send you all an invitation to an exciting event that will be taking place next month. The Council of State Governments –West (CSG-West) conference will be in Anchorage July 16-20th at the Hotel Captain Cook. As chair of CSG-West I wanted to be sure to get our strong Alaskan women in politics involved in this event. This meeting will provide you an opportunity to participate in a variety of sessions geared toward issues affecting our Western region. We have a number of excellent meetings and activities planned that will provide educational opportunities as well as let you share your knowledge and experiences with others.

I would also like to highlight a special event taking place on July 18th that will focus specifically on “Women Working Together.” We will have guest speaker Fawn Germer, a four time nominee for the Pulitzer Prize and best selling author for her books Mustang Sallies, and Hard Won Wisdom, and most recently Woman Rules. She is internationally acclaimed as a speaker with heart and humor. This event is sure to be a great one. I truly hope to see all of you there.

Please see the attached schedule and registration form for the CSG-West conference and I have also attached more information on the “Women Working Together” forum. You can also check out the CSG-West Anchorage Conference website for more details. www.csgwest2008.org

And please feel free to contact me directly if you have any questions or my staff by calling my Anchorage office, 907-269-0250.

Thank you very much for your time and consideration.

Warmly,
Lesil

Governor, Karen and I are working on a separate budget op-ed that is Juneau-specific and that should be ready in the next day or two. Also, the Juneau Empire is going to run your letter to AEL&P as a letter to the editor in tomorrow's paper.

On the hard copy of the Southeast budget op-ed I gave you, as soon as we have the go-ahead from you, I will ship it out to the Southeast papers. (Will send to Ketchikan Daily News, Petersburg Pilot, Daily Sitka Sentinel, Skagway News and Wrangell Sentinel.)

Governor -

I just received a phone call from Kelly regarding a requested meeting for tomorrow, Tuesday, 06.17.08 at approx. 1:30 p.m. This would be in regards to Energy Legislation. We had tried to have it in JNU but attendees were not available then.

Attendees: GOV, Haggesson, Balash, Goode, Stedman, Hoffman, Meyer, Chenault, Green, Harris. The meeting should last approx. 30 minutes.

Thanks, Janice

Governor,

Here are your remarks and event info for your 6 p.m. HB 330 bill signing (Noxious Weeds & Invasive Plants). This is a three-part event: bill signing, logo unveiling, & proclamation. Your remarks for the bill signing and proclamation portions are included; the logo unveiling does not require remarks.

You should now have all three sets of remarks and information for your three bill signings tomorrow. Please let me know if you are missing anything or if you have any questions. Thanks so much!

It's time to vote 'yes' on AGIA and TransCanada

- Comments

A local legislator recently opined that the legislature's priority in special session should be Fairbanks' short-term energy needs. Of course, we all know that Fairbanks and other communities across the state are suffering the impact of sudden high energy costs. And many have encouraged Gov. Sarah Palin to lead us where your legislative leaders failed during the regular session, and she's doing it.

But this special session isn't about short-term energy needs — it's about enabling a gas line to be built that will serve Alaskans for the next 100 years. With the right gas line comes the opportunity for Fairbanks to enjoy low-cost gas comparable with any place in the nation.

One of the "must-haves" in the Alaska Gasline Inducement Act is "distance sensitive" rates. That is, gas coming down the "big line" must carry gas to five state take-off points. The corresponding tariff, the transportation cost, will be the average of the cost to each take-off point and no further. That means natural gas in Fairbanks will be less than in Alberta (some 1,300 miles distant) and at the Henry Hub (Oklahoma/Louisiana). Bottom line? Off the "big line," Fairbanks will have low-cost natural gas. It won't be cheap, but it will be low-cost. The price of our gas, at the Fairbanks flange, will be low, not only because of this short transportation tariff, but also because the fixed and operating costs to carry each gas molecule down the pipe will be spread over 4.5 billion cubic feet of gas per day, not over a much smaller line. Our savings are simply a matter of the economies of scale.

In addition to a take-out point to provide natural gas to Fairbanks, there is an opportunity for a "bullet line." The recent Gasline Determination Public Forums repeatedly underscored the fact that the legislature does not have to choose between a short-term supply to Fairbanks delivered through a small "bullet line" and the "big line" to Alberta delivering 4.5 billion cubic feet a day. AGIA does not preclude a "bullet line" if it is needed and is deemed competitive with hydro power (Susitna Dam or the like) or an enhanced development of the Cook Inlet basin (which is thought to contain as much as 17 trillion cubic feet of reserves, according to the USGS). At the forums, the experts explained construction of a "spur line" becomes much more likely if the larger pipeline project moves forward first.

On a separate note, I hope Alaskans fully appreciate the value of the state assisting TransCanada with development costs leading to project approval by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission. This cost sharing secures a world-renowned, multibillion-dollar company as a partner that has, by all accounts, a sterling reputation for bringing projects in on time and on budget. TransCanada has agreed to enforceable steps toward the actual construction of a gas line. They have also pledged to expand the line in a manner that will not price any newcomers wishing to invest in Alaska out of the market. This in turn will provide meaningful incentives for new exploration and production across the North Slope.

Additionally, the investment of up to $500 million will result in slightly lower transportation costs in the pipeline which will increase, to Alaskans, the wellhead value of the gas. During the life of the line, this will result in increased earnings to the state well in excess of the initial investment. That means we get our $500 million back, plus millions more. In short, our financial participation to get the project rolling with a capable partner gets us many meaningful commitments and the cash is paid back over time. The competing "Denali" proposal contains none of these commitments.

Additionally Alaska is telling the natural gas world, and our Congress, that we are ready to put forward a portion of our oil revenues to make Alaska's gas America's gas as envisioned by the federal government when Congress passed the groundbreaking Alaska Natural Gas Pipeline Act of 2004. The $500 million is an investment that pays returns for generations. To characterize it as a "subsidy" is simply wrongheaded; it's an investment by any definition of the word. We should do it and we should be proud of it.

It's time for vision and courage as we begin to move Fairbanks to an alternative energy source. It's time to use America's thirst for gas to benefit our town and our state. It's time to do it right and it's time to vote "Yes" on AGIA.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

No. 08-060

Governors Urge Congress to Support Energy Security Programs

June 17, 2008, Anchorage, Alaska - Governor Sarah Palin and Governor Joe Manchin III of West Virginia are urging Congress to support federal-state programs that assist states in promoting energy security. Governor Manchin is chair of the Natural Resources Committee for the National Governors Association, and Governor Palin serves as vice chair.

Given recent energy price increases and projected long-term growth in energy demand, both governors are calling on Congress to support efforts to conserve energy resources while actively seeking to diversify supplies by expanding renewable resources.

In a joint letter, Governors Palin and Manchin urged members of the House and Senate Appropriations Committees to fully fund the Energy Policy Act of 2005 and the Energy Independence and Security Act of 2007.

"We can't afford to just talk about energy security," said Governor Palin. "In these uncertain economic times, states must leverage investments to promote efficient renewable energy projects."

The National Governors Association promotes visionary state leadership, shares best practices and speaks with a unified voice on national policy. Its members are the governors of the 50 states and five territories.

Governor - We need to make plane reservations for this Thursday afternoon/evening flight to JNU 06.18.

Flt, #64 - Depart ANC 1:37 p.m. Arrive JNU 3:24 p.m. or

Flt, 74 - Depart ANC 6:50 p.m. Arrive JNU 8:32 p.m.

1) June 18 (Wed.) - I just received a call from Rick Cook, City Manager - Kenai. His is requesting that he and Senator Wagner meet with you this upcoming week. They want to meet with you in regards to:

- 1) Marathon Road
- 2) Bluff Erosion - Kenai
- 3) Upgrade Spur Hwy.

The meeting request is for ANC - I did not tell them that you will be in Kenai on Wed. 06.18.08 until we decide a time/date for the meeting to take place. Staff Assistants are preparing briefing paper on issues.

2) June 26 (Thurs.) - I received an email from Mayor Hornaday and City Manager - Homer. They are requesting a meeting with you when you are in Homer on Thursday, 06.26.08. They want to meet with you in regards to:

- 1) Water treatment Plant Upgrade/Alternative Water Source,
- 2) Deep Water Dock Expansion,
- 3) East Boat Harbor,
- 4) Homer Intersection Improvements,
- 5) Main Street Reconstruction, and Fairview Avenue - Main to East End Road.

They realize that this day is for Rep. Paul Seaton and don't want to take away from that. His office said they will try to include the mayor into the program so he can welcome the Governor and give her a key to the city. The mayor has also offered to give a tour of the city if desired. Staff Assistants are preparing briefing paper on issues.

3) June 28 (Sat.) - Korean Consul General Golf Tournament - Begins at 12:00 Noon. They are making up the program and wanted to know if you are bringing a golf partner - otherwise they will pair you up with the Korean Consul General. You had wanted to just stay a short period so whoever is going to take over for you should partner with you. Bill Sheffield's 80th is from 1:00 - 5:00 on this day.

Thank you, Janice

Good morning Governor,

We have been looking for a good location to sign, HB 319, Rep Ramras' dental bill in the Mat-Su Valley; per your suggestion maybe a dental office.

Yesterday, Fran Ulmer contacted Kris and offered UAA as a place to sign the bill. I thought it might be a great idea and am looking for your thoughts on this.

We must take action on the bill before June 25th.

Please let me know if you like this suggestion.

Thanks, Kelly

Governor,

Randy is working with several folks in Kenai on various DOT and OMB related issues. He has also spoken with Glen Martin who may stop over to say hi at tomorrow's events. Glen's issues are related to a Keystone Drive project, oversight of that project, and contractors complaining of fuel escalation fees in project bids. Leo is looking at the fuel escalation issue but the fix isn't as easy as relayed. Randy followed up with DOT's Gordon Keith and DOT does plan to oversee this project's engineering and design work. Other issues Randy mentioned you may hear about are all being worked on as well:

- The Marathon road issue may be resolved this Thursday at a meeting we arranged with Leo.
- The decision that the crime lab will be located in Anchorage was made and communicated to Rick months ago by Walt.
- The $18 million dollar capital project for bluff erosion is a budget issue for next session and information on it should go to OMB.
- DOT says they cannot put the Sterling Highway project into the STIP because there is not enough funds to complete the project and federal regs don't allow them to put projects in the STIP anymore if full funding of the project is not reasonably foreseeable, and the project is not a statewide priority.

As we discussed, we'll direct any folks with questions to Randy. If you have any further questions please let us know and we can track them down.

Governors Urge Congress to Support Energy Security Programs

June 17, 2008, Anchorage, Alaska – Governor Sarah Palin and Governor Joe Manchin III of West Virginia are urging Congress to support federal-state programs that assist states in promoting energy security. Governor Manchin is chair of the Natural Resources Committee for the National Governors Association, and Governor Palin serves as vice chair.

Given recent energy price increases and projected long-term growth in energy demand, both governors are calling on Congress to support efforts to conserve energy resources while actively seeking to diversify supplies by expanding renewable resources.

In a joint letter, Governors Palin and Manchin urged members of the House and Senate Appropriations Committees to fully fund the Energy Policy Act of 2005 and the Energy Independence and Security Act of 2007.

"We can't afford to just talk about energy security," said Governor Palin. "In these uncertain economic times, states must leverage investments to promote efficient renewable energy projects." The National Governors Association promotes visionary state leadership, shares best practices and speaks with a unified voice on national policy. Its members are the governors of the 50 states and five territories.

Governor - I received an email from Commissioner Kreitzer who said that she spoke with you yesterday, Monday, 06.16 regarding a 30 minute presentation that she would like to show you along with her ETS folks regarding a software program. Mike has seen some of the presentation and has some questions that have not been answered. The recommendation is that the Commissioner do the presentation with the COS and Anna Kim. At that point a briefing paper can be done and presented to you with the pros and cons of the program. I do not think you need to sit down with this presentation at this point.

NOTE:

There are also now 3 entities wanting the cost and project information from KABATA; FHWA, the State, and AMATS. FHWA must approve the project and sign the Record of Decision (ROD) for the project to move forward. Frank Richards and I met with FHWA last week. FHWA has been working on their own review of the project and have a lot of the same questions we do. FHWA will probably not sign the Record of Decision on the NEPA process KABATA needs to actually build until KABATA provides satisfactory answers to all the questions. FHWA also asked if they could work with the State to review the project, which we agreed to do. AMATS has also asked KABATA for cost and project information. AMATS could amend their Long Range Transportation Plan to remove the project which would stop it cold.

I stated to Mr. Hamilton that your schedule is booked during the Bill Signing and asked if he was going to attend. He said he was going to try to attend as he also attends Chamber events.

I just wanted you aware in case he approaches with this request. I did let Frank know earlier too. I have discouraged this in terms of timing. Janice

Gov. Sarah Palin is preparing to drop her proposal to offer $100-a-month energy debit cards to all Alaskans. But she's looking at replacing it by asking the Legislature to just directly send everyone money instead.

Mike,

I am checking to see if there is going to be a response to this email. I wanted to make sure I didn't need to do anything else with this email. I did send it to Kris also.

Hello,

It's been 10 days since I received this inadequate reply from this governor's office. Please reply with an appropriate answer and with the reassurance that I will not be getting anymore calls from Ivy Frye from 623 698-6986 or any other number associated with Ivy. You do realize that Ivy called me for the sole purpose to tell me that I better stop blogging on ADN. I'm not sure what you are up to Sarah, but I expect a real response with an explanation from you.

Thank you for writing to Alaska Governor Sarah Palin. The concerns, opinions, and/or information you have sent are important and valuable to the Governor. Although she is unable to respond to each and every email herself, your message has been received and is being reviewed by the appropriate staff person in this office who can best address your need, suggestion, or comment.

MESSAGE:

Dear Sarah,

I received an interesting phone call Saturday May 31 6:33pm from one of your underling, but also at a high level being your assistant. That is your girl, Ivy Fry. To remind you again, I am a private citizen and I can say or blog anything I want about you or any other incompetent around you. Ivy didn't call me to discuss the many issues that Alaska is facing with your lack of leadership. I'm sure she called to intimidate me in some way. However, she did not succeed. This is the 3rd attempt to contact you about this situation since Saturday concerning Ivy Frye's inappropriate behavior.

Question? Was she encouraged by someone to attempt this tactic, or did she do it on her own? Please reply with an appropriate answer and with the reassurance that I will not be getting anymore calls from young Ivy Frye.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Sherry Whitstine

We will have a gift. Janice, since the Governor said from the beginning that she would only caddy - I would let them know that she will attend only and not golf. We'll find someone from office or Commissioner to fill-in on remaining time.

Sorry to chime in on this late as things may have changed, but I thought the Governor was going to caddy or drive a golf cart.

I would offer to be a partner but there are statehood events that day in Anchorage. That would have been fun (okay, not really as I completely suck at golf). Vic Fisher and Katie Hurley are tentatively scheduled to pin a star on the flag that day at noon.

Pls sched flt for afternoon on Thurs thanks

And I'm still trying to find golf partner so I don't have to stay all 18 holes of golf.

And no need for entire Homer city tour... I'll figure that agenda out in a few days.

Governor - We need to make plane reservations for this Thursday afternoon/evening flight to JNU 06.18.

Flt, #64 - Depart ANC 1:37 p.m. Arrive JNU 3:24 p.m. or

Flt, 74 - Depart ANC 6:50 p.m. Arrive JNU 8:32 p.m.

1) June 18 (Wed.) - I just received a call from Rick Cook, City Manager - Kenai. His is requesting that he and Senator Wagner meet with you this upcoming week. They want to meet with you in regards to:

- 1) Marathon Road
- 2) Bluff Erosion - Kenai
- 3) Upgrade Spur Hwy.

The meeting request is for ANC - I did not tell them that you will be in Kenai on Wed. 06.18.08 until we decide a time/date for the meeting to take place. Staff Assistants are preparing briefing paper on issues.

2) June 26 (Thurs.) - I received an email from Mayor Hornaday and City Manager - Homer. They are requesting a meeting with you when you are in Homer on Thursday, 06.26.08. They want to meet with you in regards to:

- 1) Water treatment Plant Upgrade/Alternative Water Source,
- 2) Deep Water Dock Expansion,
- 3) East Boat Harbor,
- 4) Homer Intersection Improvements,
- 5) Main Street Reconstruction, and Fairview Avenue - Main to East End Road.

They realize that this day is for Rep. Paul Seaton and don't want to take away from that. His office said they will try to include the mayor into the program so he can welcome the Governor and give her a key to the city. The mayor has also offered to give a tour of the city if desired. Staff Assistants are preparing briefing paper on issues.

3) June 28 (Sat.) - Korean Consul General Golf Tournament - Begins at 12:00 Noon. They are making up the program and wanted to know if you are bringing a golf partner - otherwise they will pair you up with the Korean Consul General. You had wanted to just stay a short period so whoever is going to take over for you should partner with you. Bill Sheffield's 80th is from 1:00 - 5:00 on this day.

Thank you, Janice

I sincerely wish that Governor Palin would seriously consider the vice presidential position if offered. I, as well as others across the US, feel that Mrs. Palin is the perfect choice for VP. I feel that if she were the vice president, the whole country would benefit from her expertise and obvious common-sense. Taking the VP position is not a rejection or abandonment of her homestate, but rather an opportunity to benefit the entire nation the way that she has benefitted Alaska. If offered the VP position on the republican ticket, I urge her to take it and run on a national level.

MESSAGE:

Dear Governor Palin;

I'm listening to KTOO right now and there's a story on NPR (about 2pm tuesday) about the boy with Down's Syndrome that is in the movie "Notes on a Scandal" (a very good movie, we watched it some time ago from Netflix). You might enjoy listening to it.

And I thought of you and your family, in the sense of having a child with Down's syndrome. I know this is a very personal matter and I hesitated to even write.....I just want to say how much I applaud you and your family on being open and sharing and I delighted in seeing a news story of you signing a bill while holding Trig.

The very best to you, Trig, and all of your family.

Sincerely and respectfully,

Kim Rivera

Hello,

It's been 10 days since I received this inadequate reply from this governor's office. Please reply with an appropriate answer and with the reassurance that I will not be getting anymore calls from Ivy Frye from 623 698-6986 or any other number associated with Ivy. You do realize that Ivy called me for the sole purpose to tell me that I better stop blogging on ADN. I'm not sure what you are up to Sarah, but I expect a real response with an explanation from you.

MESSAGE:

Dear Sarah,

I received an interesting phone call Saturday May 31 6:33pm from one of your underling, but also at a high level being your assistant. That is your girl, Ivy Fry. To remind you again, I am a private citizen and I can say or blog anything I want about you or any other incompetent around you. Ivy didn't call me to discuss the many issues that Alaska is facing with your lack of leadership. I'm sure she called to intimidate me in some way. However, she did not succeed. This is the 3rd attempt to contact you about this situation since Saturday concerning Ivy Frye's inappropriate behavior.

Question? Was she encouraged by someone to attempt this tactic, or did she do it on her own? Please reply with an appropriate answer and with the reassurance that I will not be getting anymore calls from young Ivy Fry.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Sherry Whitstine

One brother facing most serious charges is the one who quit before we could complete our personnel investigation. This email is in regard to his brother, a foreman for the State - who has admitted taking State property. Again, I have not asked for names of the individuals, but will after the troopers take action next week.

Per call late this afternoon, the brother (a Forman for the state) has admitted to criminal investigator to taking some state property. The property value apparently does not rise to the same value as the first employee. In addition, apparently when he became aware of the investigation, he also took steps to dispose of some of the property. So he may also be facing "tampering with evidence charges" from state troopers.

Investigator has move estimated arrest time for brothers to next week.

Subject: Possible Press Issue

I have been working with DOT management staff on a potential discipline matter involving a DOT/Local 71 employee. His duty station is in Palmer and it is alleged that he has taken a significant amount of state property (including fuel) for his own. We will be calling him in tomorrow to deal with the allegations on the personnel side. There may be others under investigation by the troopers.

We alerted Law and the Palmer DA of our personnel process/investigation. The troopers are close to the end of their investigation with the same employee/state property----the conduct appears to be a felony charge due to the significant value of property----I am told the value is somewhere around 25-30 thousand $$.

We sent the employee home while we dealt with the issue and will call him in tomorrow with his union representative to address the personnel allegations. Of course, we have worked 5th Amendment issues into our meeting with the employee. I understand that the employee will be arrested soon thereafter (day or two) by troopers.

It'll be $1200, you can let reporters know that- and it's all about RETURNING surplus revenue to the people of AK- the resource owners... That should be the message! That, and "short-term" energy relief as we work on long-term solutions... This helps bridge the gap and allows people to fund conservation efforts.

Okay, Governor. We're in a teleconference right now -- Joe, Kelly, myself, Steve H, Randy, Mike , and a number of lawyers. We're going over the draft bill.

I stressed with Sean the $1,200 and also the returning the surplus to the resource owners, Governor.

It'll be $1200, you can let reporters know that- and it's all about RETURNING surplus revenue to the people of AK- the resource owners... That should be the message! That, and "short-term" energy relief as we work on long-term solutions... This helps bridge the gap and allows people to fund conservation efforts.

But please clarify w reporter(s) that the debit card idea is too expensive to administer, so plan changed.

You wish!

Nah... and I just told the local Kenai reporter that we'd be "saving money" with our shift in thinking... a direct check to Alaskans instead of debit/credit card idea. It makes sense. It's all good.

I stressed with Sean the $1,200 and also the returning the surplus to the resource owners, Governor.

It'll be $1200, you can let reporters know that- and it's all about RETURNING surplus revenue to the people of AK- the resource owners... That should be the message! That, and "short-term" energy relief as we work on long-term solutions... This helps bridge the gap and allows people to fund conservation efforts.

But please clarify w reporter(s) that the debit card idea is too expensive to administer, so plan changed.

You wish!

Nah... and I just told the local Kenai reporter that we'd be "saving money" with our shift in thinking... a direct check to Alaskans instead of debit/credit card idea. It makes sense. It's all good.

It'll be $1200, you can let reporters know that- and it's all about RETURNING surplus revenue to the people of AK- the resource owners... That should be the message! That, and "short-term" energy relief as we work on long-term solutions... This helps bridge the gap and allows people to fund conservation efforts.

But please clarify w reporter(s) that the debit card idea is too expensive to administer, so plan changed.

You wish!

Nah... and I just told the local Kenai reporter that we'd be "saving money" with our shift in thinking... a direct check to Alaskans instead of debit/credit card idea. It makes sense. It's all good.

Might as well tell them that the amount is still $1200, too... No need for Joe's statement to make it sound like we don't know the amount yet. And the message needs to be all about a RETURN of SURPLUS revenue that can best be spent by the people of AK - the resource owners!

It needs to be clarified asap that the reason is it's too expensive. Pls clarify and have Joe do the same.

And he said in the print story our REASON for dropping the debit cards was that lawmakers didn't like it. Which is not the reason!! It makes you look weak! The reason is because it would have been too expensive!!!!

You wish!

Nah... and I just told the local Kenai reporter that we'd be "saving money" with our shift in thinking... a direct check to Alaskans instead of debit/credit card idea. It makes sense. It's all good.

Good afternoon Governor,

What a great day for a drive - you couldn't have picked it better.

We are working on finalizing the bill signings for next Tuesday, June 24th. You are scheduled to sign HB 373 (sch bond debt reimbursement) by H FIN at the Chamber at noon. I would like to propose you also sign HB 297 (veterinary residency) by Rep Neuman at the same time.

My reasons are two-fold. First, if we hold the vet bill signing at 9am (per Neuman's request to ensure Martin Buser's attendance) then you have too much time on your schedule between events. Second, I don't think the media will show to both events and will more than likely attend the Chamber luncheon.

My gut says to wrap them together in one event but we can handle it either way. Please let me know your preference and we will work with Neuman's office.

Thanks so much.

Kelly

But please clarify w reporter(s) that the debit card idea is too expensive to administer, so plan changed.

You wish!

Nah... and I just told the local Kenai reporter that we'd be "saving money" with our shift in thinking... a direct check to Alaskans instead of debit/credit card idea. It makes sense. It's all good.

You wish!

Nah... and I just told the local Kenai reporter that we'd be "saving money" with our shift in thinking... a direct check to Alaskans instead of debit/credit card idea. It makes sense. It's all good.

Gov. Sarah Palin is preparing to drop her proposal to offer $100-a-month energy debit cards to all Alaskans. But she's looking at replacing it by asking the Legislature to just directly send everyone money instead.

Just need to be there the day before it begins...

And you may need to find a ticket for Bristol, flying from Texas (if she can shorten up her internship by a few days), so pls check on that - leaving from San Antonio. Thanks

We have not purchased the Philly tickets yet as it was dependent upon what you would be attending to see what date you would want to arrive and depart. From what I understand we would be purchasing tickets for: GOV, Piper, Perry, and one Security. We are still within the timeframe (21-day advance) purchase through tomorrow (Thurs.).

I can go over these flights with you tomorrow afternoon when you arrive and/or list them out via email the choices for you to look over.

Thanks, Janice

Do we have the tickets for Philly yet? I'm hoping these aren't outrageously expensive at this time.

You wish!

Nah... and I just told the local Kenai reporter that we'd be "saving money" with our shift in thinking... a direct check to Alaskans instead of debit/credit card idea. It makes sense. It's all good.

You wish!

Nah... and I just told the local Kenai reporter that we'd be "saving money" with our shift in thinking... a direct check to Alaskans instead of debit/credit card idea. It makes sense. It's all good.

Governor,

I am trying to get a hold of James Rowell, but here are directions as written on the Kenai Landing website:

Stay on the Sterling Highway until Soldotna, about 1 hour (do not turn onto Kenai Spur Road to Kenai City, but continue through Soldotna and cross the Kenai River Bridge). At the first stop light, immediately after the Bridge, turn right onto Kalifornski Beach Road (K-Beach Road). Drive 6 miles. Continue past Aimes Bridge Access (Aimes Bridge to Kenai). Stay on K-Beach Road for 2 miles, watch for the sign...and turn right onto Cannery Road. Drive 1 mile and turn into Kenai Landing.

Kate

It'll be $1200, you can let reporters know that- and it's all about RETURNING surplus revenue to the people of AK- the resource owners... That should be the message! That, and "short-term" energy relief as we work on long-term solutions... This helps bridge the gap and allows people to fund conservation efforts.

You wish!

Nah... and I just told the local Kenai reporter that we'd be "saving money" with our shift in thinking... a direct check to Alaskans instead of debit/credit card idea. It makes sense. It's all good.

Governor Palin Pleased with FERC Decision

June 19, 2008, Anchorage, Alaska - The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission decided today that the owners of the trans-Alaska oil pipeline – BP Pipelines (Alaska) Inc., ConocoPhillips Transportation Alaska Inc., Exxon Mobil Pipeline Company, Unocal Pipeline Company and Koch Alaska Pipeline Company LLC – failed to prove that their 2005 and 2006 rates were just and reasonable. The FERC ordered refunds to TAPS shippers that are estimated to result in at least $600 million, plus interest, in additional tax and royalty revenues to the state.

"I am pleased that the FERC agreed with the ruling made by our state regulators in 2002, that the rates being charged by the TAPS carriers were not just and reasonable," Governor Palin said. "This decision shows how having a pipeline constructed and operated by the producers can result in inflated tariff rates that cause the State of Alaska significant revenue losses and discourage others who do not own a share of the pipeline from developing the state's oil and gas resources."

The case began in 2004 when the state protested the proposed 2005 rates. Anadarko and Tesoro also challenged the rates. The FERC will set a new rate for future shipments after the TAPS carriers make a compliance filing. The Departments of Revenue and Natural Resources will be able to calculate the total revenue owed to the state after the FERC determines the timing of the refund payments and sets the prospective rate.

1. ALLIED WASTE AND REPUBLIC WEIGH POSSIBLE $6.77 BILLION MERGER

Republic Services said that it is in talks to acquire its much larger rival Allied Waste Industries in an all stock transaction worth about $6.77 billion. Both companies confirmed the talks in a mutual press release last week. A merger between the number two ranked Allied and number three ranked Republic would create a formidable competitor (with $9.3 billion in combined revenues) to number one ranked Waste Management which had revenues of $13.4 billion last year. Allied's roughly 22,000 employees operate a network of 300 collection companies, 164 transfer stations, 169 active landfills and 53 recycling facilities in 37 states and Puerto Rico. Republic employs about 13,000 and operates about 135 hauling companies in 21 states where it also has 93 transfer stations, 59 solid-waste landfills and 33 recycling facilities. Together the companies would own 228 landfills and 257 transfer stations and 86 recycling facilities. The merger is especially interesting because Republic does not add many new markets to Allied's existing portfolio. The notable exception is Las Vegas where Republic has a very strong presence in that rapidly growing area and Florida, from which Allied had retreated in recent years. Rather, the combination appears to present an opportunity for both firms to better integrate existing markets, especially in Indiana and Ohio which are important for their proximity to the Northeast...Read More »

2. CASELLA REPORTS FOURTH QUARTER LOSS BUT REVENUE GAIN

Casella Waste Systems reported a net loss for the fourth quarter of $7.8 million or $0.31 per share, compared to a loss of $20.3 million or $0.80 per share in last year's fourth quarter. However revenues for the quarter rose to $139.6 million from $126.7 million last year, exceeding analysts' expectations. "This was an exciting year for our team. We made great progress on all of the operational and financial goals we set at the beginning of the year, even in the face of a weak economy in the Northeast," John W. Casella, chairman and CEO. The company is optimistic for fiscal year 2009 in which they estimate revenues of between $610 million and $628 million...Read More »

3. INTEGRATED WASTE SERVICES ASSOC. CHALLENGES STUDY ON ZERO WASTE

Last week we reported on a study called "Stop Trashing the Climate," which criticized waste-to-energy for contributing to climate change. Ted Michaels of the Integrated Waste Services Association has countered that in addition to erring on the facts, the groups miss the big picture, especially since waste-to-energy is a net reducer of greenhouse gas emissions. On average, communities that utilize waste-to-energy have higher recycling rates than the national average. He also points to Europe which has achieved the world's highest recycling rates by either banning or severely restricting landfill use and using waste-to-energy to manage whatever cannot be recycled...Read More »

4. REPORT SAYS BIOMASS TO PLAY BIG ROLE IN EUROPEAN MARKET

A new study suggests that biomass will play a significant role in the European energy market and will be crucial for attaining 20% renewables use there by 2020. The study entitled "Strategic Assessment for European Biomass Energy Markets," by Frost & Sullivan describes rising energy costs and the need to reduce carbon emissions as driving demand for biomass feedstocks where it already represents two-thirds of all renewables. Currently biomass accounts for about 5% of total European energy consumption but is as much as 15-20% in countries such as Finland, Sweden and Austria where it is supported with specific policies. High capital costs and poor fuel quality remain as the principal challenge...Read More »

5. VIRGINIA WASTE IMPORTS DOWN SLIGHTLY IN 2007

The good news for Virginia is that out-of-state waste imports decreased by 2% in 2007; however, the amount of in-state waste declined by 9% meaning that imports as a percentage of all waste disposed actually increased. They are now about half of all waste disposed according to the report by the Virginia DEQ. Maryland, New York, Washington, D.C., North Carolina and New Jersey represent the top five exporters...Read More »

6. DELAWARE SENATE REJECTS RECYCLING FEE DEEMED UNFAIR

The Delaware Senate recently rejected a bill passed by the house which would have added a $3 per ton fee to all landfilled waste to support statewide recycling programs. As usual, the devil was in the details. For example, municipalities already recycling would be exempt but as Alice Jacobsohn, director of the Maryland and Delaware Solid Waste Association points out, "These new taxes would be assessed unequally...many Delaware residents - who recycle on their own, would not be exempt and would be forced to pay, nor would the exemption be offered to local businesses that already have recycling programs." Others pointed out that the fee would have created more administrative overhead and been a burden to residents already struggling with higher fuel and energy and other costs...Read More »

7. ELECTRONICS INDUSTRY CHALLENGES MAINE'S E-WASTE PROGRAM

The Electronic Industries Alliance is challenging Maine's two-year old electronics recycling law, saying that it violates federal law governing the transportation of hazardous wastes. The group, which represents manufacturers and recyclers, has asked the U.S. Department of Transportation to effectively strike down Maine's first-in-the-nation program. Other states have similar programs which could be challenged in the same way...Read More »

With tourism business leaders and government officials watching, Gov. Sarah Palin signs a bill into law that will cut the price of a business license from $100 per year to $50 per year during a ceremony at Kenai Landing on Wednesday afternoon. She also signed into law a bill that will lower from 50 percent to 30 percent the funds tourism trade associations will have to provide to match state funds.

Subject: 2 Bills Need Signing in Juneau

Good morning -

Mindy is in possession of two bills which come due tomorrow, June 21st, and need the Governor's signature.

HB 305 - Rep Meyer's bill to restrict campaign fund raising (the LeDoux bill)

HB 419 - Rep Meyer's bill on state lease-purchase agreements

In addition, the following bill is also due on the 21st and will be in Juneau sometime late this afternoon.

HB 373 - H FIN -- school bond debt reimbursement - planned for a ceremonial signing at Wasilla Chamber on Tuesday

Just want to be sure we all know that the Governor needs to sign ALL 3 bills before she leaves Juneau.

Hi Governor Palin:

Thanks so much for attending the weed warrior celebration at Lydia Selkreig in Anchorage last week. I appreciated and enjoyed your presence there, as well as Todd and Trig Palin. I hope the Sate can also ensure we don't spread weeds up and down the state road with maintenance equipment. It would be great to certify weed free borrow sites and to clean equipment regularly.

On another transportation note. Please use funds for a Knik Arm Bridge for a light rail connection to the Mat-Su Valley and Anchorage bowl instead. This would be used by many more people. I don't think enough people would use the bridge to include a toll fare and high fuel costs, in this time of shrinking federal dollars. We need to invest State funds in sensible transportation now to save costs to Alaskans in the future. Thanks for reading and listening to teh people of Alaska.

To the best candidate for Vice President of the United States, Governor Sarah Palin:

I recently saw you listed on AOL as a potential candidate for Vice President, so I looked up your record and am I impresssed! As the owner of a small business in Illinois, I applaud your pro-business stances and your willingness to use our own natural resources to slow our independence on foreign oil in order to help stem the stagnant economy, which is experiencing a negative trickle-down effect from high gas prices. I continue to be discouraged by Senator Obama's response to the stagnant economy to be one of increased taxation. When are the Democrat's going to learn that continued taxation only makes the problems worse in the long run? As a small business owner, any increased taxation I incur will have to be passed on to my customers. I can't afford to absorb it!

And I mean no disrespect by this, since you're a married woman and I'm am married man, but it doesn't hurt that you're hotter than fire on ice. Let me know what I can do to support your nomination.

Subject: Lesil - Mediator Request

I got a call tonight from Wesley Loy wanting a comment on a "proposal" from Lesil to bring in an MIT mediator to work out the differences between the Producers, TC, and the Administration prior to the AGIA vote. He said that Lesil told him that she planned to send a letter tomorrow to Ralph & Charlie asking them to bring in the MIT mediators for a couple of days to try to work something out.

I reiterated to him my response to Lesil during the hearing that we don't see anything in the AGIA License that will be a barrier to getting the Producers into the project, but it is important for the state to set the parameters for any discussions by passing the License. Without the License things are too wide open to expect to get anywhere with a mediator.

Wesley asked if I thought a couple days of mediation could help. I reminded him that the previous admin negotiated with the Producers for two and a half years, and ended up with a deal rejected by the legislature. We need the legislature and Admin to establish the terms of the discussion through the AGIA license.

He asked if we would participate in the mediation, and I said there was no formal proposal, but the legislature needs to complete the process they started last year, and make an up or down vote on the license.

He then said it would be a private session, and I said no way.

I'll check with Hollis tomorrow, and call Lesil. I'll let you know what I hear...

MESSAGE:

I attended a town meeting tonight in Wasilla on the gas pipeline.

I want to first tell you a bit about myself and background. I am now and always have been a registered Democrat. I went across party lines to vote for you for Mayor of Wasilla both times. The first time was because I didn't like your opponent and you were a woman. The second time because I liked what you did for Wasilla. I and my staunch democratic husband both voted for you for Governor because we liked what you did for Wasilla and were sure you would do the same for Alaska.

We are a bit miffed as to why the "all Alaskan gas pipeline" girl has been taken over by the Canadians? My husband says it's because if we keep it in state you can't line your pockets. He is very sceptical about "politicians". I am praying that is not the reason.

I believe we should ask the people of Alaska in a vote if they want Canada to have that much control over our gas or if we want to use the infrastructure already in place in the oil pipeline to build it ourselves.

I am concerned by the opportunities for Canada to use our gas by diversion or by using our gas to develop Canadian fields. Or by charging exorbitant tariffs. It just seems to me there are too many ways we can lose by accepting this Trans-Canada proposal.

Why can't we simply build it side by side of the existing pipeline? Funding? I bet the people would vote to use the permanent fund with the reassurance that their used dividends would be replaced with interest, once the pipeline was built.

It only makes sense to me to keep it "all Alaskan", creating jobs in the building and exporting, keeping all the revenues to ourselves.

I see a grim future if we stay thinking along the lines of not keeping it all Alaskan. We did it before.....we can do it again!!!!

Sincerly,

Pam Murray

P.S. You are always in my prayers as a mother and govenor. God Bless you

MESSAGE:

Honorable Governor Palin,

Your friends and admirers from Olympia, Washington, suggested I contact you -- especially those representing the National Day of Prayer. I will be conducting a communion service on the steps of the Alaska State House this Saturday (06/21/08), at 11:23 AM. This is Communion-event number twenty-three of fifty one events. The final event is the Nation's Capitol in Washington DC, December 19-20, 2008.

I am the Founder of the SEAL America Campaign -- National Communion 2008 [www.sealamerica.org (918) 237-6440]. I am personally traveling to every State in the USA, this year, gathering Christians who love America, to join me for an open, outdoor communion service, to bless our State Legislatures and America. SEAL America is not a political organization, nor do we have a political agenda -- our aim is higher.

SEAL America has received three state proclamations, thus far, and I am in hopes to receive one from Alsaska. We intend to ask President Bush to sign a Presidential Proclamation recognizing a National Day of Communion, this November.

I will call your office, Friday. I am in hopes you will spend a few minutes with me to discuss SEAL America and the Alaska State Communion, and have a word of prayer.

Blessings,

Larry Huggins, DD

Subject: Lesil - Mediator Request

I got a call tonight from Wesley Loy wanting a comment on a "proposal" from Lesil to bring in an MIT mediator to work out the differences between the Producers, TC, and the Administration prior to the AGIA vote. He said that Lesil told him that she planned to send a letter tomorrow to Ralph & Charlie asking them to bring in the MIT mediators for a couple of days to try to work something out.

I reiterated to him my response to Lesil during the hearing that we don't see anything in the AGIA License that will be a barrier to getting the Producers into the project, but it is important for the state to set the parameters for any discussions by passing the License. Without the License things are too wide open to expect to get anywhere with a mediator.

Wesley asked if I thought a couple days of mediation could help. I reminded him that the previous admin negotiated with the Producers for two and a half years, and ended up with a deal rejected by the legislature. We need the legislature and Admin to establish the terms of the discussion through the AGIA license.

He asked if we would participate in the mediation, and I said there was no formal proposal, but the legislature needs to complete the process they started last year, and make an up or down vote on the license.

He then said it would be a private session, and I said no way.

I'll check with Hollis tomorrow, and call Lesil. I'll let you know what I hear...

Governor,

Earlier today, Marvin Odom from Shell tried to reach you over the phone to deliver some disappointing news. Due to the lack of ruling by the 9th Circuit, they are going to announce tomorrow that they are canceling their 2008 drilling program.

Cam Toohy called me to pass on the information and stressed that this decision does not indicate that they have changed their long term plans for Alaska. They are going to continue to work on their seismic program in the Chukchi and they are going to re-start their plan of exploration process in hopes of getting a decision out of the Bush Administration before they leave office. That new plan will be for multiple years and will be legally engineered to withstand 9th Circuit review.

They will start informing stakeholders in the morning, including a call to Marty. Mr. Odom wanted to let you know today, though.

If you have any questions for Shell, or if you'd like to talk to Odom, they are happy to arrange a call (or I can just talk to Cam).

Sheesh- I heard her comment tonight also. I met with Exxon the other day, then with CP, we all (naturally) agree that everyone will come to the table with TC-Ak AFTER TC is licensed. Everyone agrees BP will be there too. Mulva said he looks forward to me "bringing them all together" - he pointed to my conf table and we agreed we'd all be around that table at the appropriate time (I said that would be after the legislature votes for AGIA/TC). So... there you have the "mediation" vehicle. Lesil need not call for it - we're on it. We don't need to be told what to do on that front.

Governor Palin Pleased with FERC Decision

June 19, 2008, Anchorage, Alaska - The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission decided today that the owners of the trans-Alaska oil pipeline - BP Pipelines (Alaska) Inc., ConocoPhillips Transportation Alaska Inc., Exxon Mobil Pipeline Company, Unocal Pipeline Company and Koch Alaska Pipeline Company LLC - failed to prove that their 2005 and 2006 rates were just and reasonable. The FERC ordered refunds to TAPS shippers that are estimated to result in at least $600 million, plus interest, in additional tax and royalty revenues to the state.

"I am pleased that the FERC agreed with the ruling made by our state regulators in 2002, that the rates being charged by the TAPS carriers were not just and reasonable," Governor Palin said. "This decision shows how having a pipeline constructed and operated by the producers can result in inflated tariff rates that cause the State of Alaska significant revenue losses and discourage others who do not own a share of the pipeline from developing the state's oil and gas resources."

The case began in 2004 when the state protested the proposed 2005 rates. Anadarko and Tesoro also challenged the rates. The FERC will set a new rate for future shipments after the TAPS carriers make a compliance filing. The Departments of Revenue and Natural Resources will be able to calculate the total revenue owed to the state after the FERC determines the timing of the refund payments and sets the prospective rate.

Governor,

Regarding the Wynona concert, this from Tennys: a small group of 50 will meet at the Susitna Club on Elmendorf and will go to the concert by special escorted buses. Upon arrival, there will be a small reception for everyone (a meet and greet for you and small group w/Wynona) and the viewing will be from a cat walk type of area on the 2nd floor of the hangar which will be a great view of the concert. There will be limited seating up there but people can take turns sitting and standing.

I will talk to Bob on alternate transportation should you not want to ride the bus. Tennys needs to know how many will be in attendance with you as there is limited space and they need to allocate. She has invited me (and Clark) so we are going but that is separate from your count.

She also asked if you'd be willing to say a few words to welcome Wynona before concert begins. We will nail down the specifics and timing.

Governor,

Regarding the Wynona concert, this from Tennys: a small group of 50 will meet at the Susitna Club on Elmendorf and will go to the concert by special escorted buses. Upon arrival, there will be a small reception for everyone (a meet and greet for you and small group w/Wynona) and the viewing will be from a cat walk type of area on the 2nd floor of the hangar which will be a great view of the concert. There will be limited seating up there but people can take turns sitting and standing.

I will talk to Bob on alternate transportation should you not want to ride the bus.

Tennys needs to know how many will be in attendance with you as there is limited space and they need to allocate. She has invited me (and Clark) so we are going but that is separate from your count.

She also asked if you'd be willing to say a few words to welcome Wynona before concert begins. We will nail down the specifics and timing.

Kris

I am sending her a copy now through this response.

The only issue I do not have listed here is a Privileged or Personal component of the bill that Steve said he would like to talk to her about. I don't understand it fully so I can't set it out here.

Hi

I called Lyda Green to ask her if she is still committed to help getting those two bills to pass and she said she is. She also said that she hoped it wouldn't be done in a third or fourth special session as it will be harder to get people there. I agreed with her. I have to say that I think the pro-life bills are a good fit with the energy crisis issue, all family related: Energy relief for families, protection of parental rights and protection of our smallest citizens through the PBA ban. I see Alaska Family Council is still pushing their parental rights petition and I know you don't need convincing about these issues. I also don't like that they are narrowing the discussion to only one of these important bills. They both will garner the same votes and we need to seize the moment on both. If we drop the PBA ban, we will have to bring it up again later. Aaaagh!

My question to you is, "What can I tell people on my list?" Would you mind giving me something I can quote? It would help tremendously. I keep telling them I am in contact with your office and key legislators. Is there something more specific I can say or do I stick with that?

Respectfully,

Debbie Joslin

Subject: Oral Arguments

Friends,

Please read and forward on the transcription of the oral arguments that was presented to the Alaska Court of Appeals and which resulted in the article in the Anchorage Daily News. If you wish to listen to this you can do so at: <http://www.alaskastateofcorruption.com/>

For those of you who could not attend it should help make it clear the injustice that happened – especially when the State’s justification for guiding charges & the sentence they wanted was their proven perjury claiming the evidence was found where I guide instead of in the Game Management Unit in which the Wolf Control Program was being conducted. We appreciate everyone reading this and letting us know what you think.

Thanks again for everything.

David Haeg

Oral Arguments 5/8/08
Alaska Court of Appeals
Haeg v. State A-09455/A-10015

CLERK: Please rise. (GAVEL) The honorable judges of the Court of Appeals for the State of Alaska.
JUDGE: Please be seated.
CLERK: The Court of Appeals is now in session. (GAVEL)
JUDGE: We're here for argument in the case of David S. Haeg versus State of Alaska. -Uh- it's number 9455 and -uh- 10015. Mr. Haeg if you're ready you may begin. (00:27)
HAEG: May it please the Court - my name is David Haeg. Our constitution guarantees fundamental fairness. I did not receive fundamental fairness. The constitutional rights violated in my case are equal protection under the law, due process, double jeopardy, self-incrimination, nature and cause of accusation, compulsory process for witnesses, assistance of council, and unreasonable searches and seizures.
My case started out with the State claiming they found the evidence of wrongdoing in a place where it wasn't found. In essence they – they moved the evidence. They maybe didn't move the evidence but they claimed it was found in a different game management unit. –Uh- the unit they claim it was found in was where I guide – was licensed to guide. The evidence was actually found in a game management unit in which a wolf control program was taking place -uh- in which I was participating. (01:39)

JUDGE: Well -um- I've – I've reviewed your testimony at the trial and -um- according to your testimony all 9 of the wolves were in fact taken outside the area where you had the permit.

HAEG: –Uh- I've read a lot of law. It makes -um- you're ... to make sure something's fair they have to follow certain things. Due process is one – one thing due process is the government is not allowed to make false claims - even if something's wrong. The risk is that you may be charged with the wrong crime or pay a punishment that you're not of - deserving. And that's what I'm claiming.

JUDGE: Ok.

HAEG: –Uh- it started out with they – they put the wrong game management unit on every search warrant that was used to seize all of my property that I use to provide a livelihood. We entered into plea negotiations with the State. I informed them that the evidence was not found where they say it was. After the plea negotiations broke down they persisted in claiming that the evidence was found where I guide - after they had been told and they taped me telling them this. Upon immediate cross-examination they admitted that the evidence was not found where I guide. It was all found in the game management unit in which the wolf control program was taking place. And the taint of that was proven at sentencing even though upon cross-examination the States admitted the wrong - the very judge, when I was sentenced, said the reason for my sentence is because 'most if not all the wolves were killed where you guide'. And that is a completely false statement. Not a single wolf was killed where I guide. –Um- the Supreme Court says that a nation – a free and strong nation cannot abide by convictions based on false testimony known to the State. And they knew that that testimony, to my judge and jury, was false. There is no doubt about that. (03:52)

When they seized my property - they seized my airplane, which is the primary means by which I provide for my family. I have a wife and 2 daughters. They did not give me notice of a hearing so I could contest or even ask to bond the property out. So immediately, before I was even charged, I could not make a living. I was not charged for 8 months. For 8 months I had no income. It was a year and a half before I went to trial and it was decided that I should – the property should be forfeited. On no -uh- warrant and no information and in no charge did they ever say that they wanted to forfeit my property. And the Supreme Court says that there can be no forfeiture or use as evidence when you did not have notice that they intended to forfeit it or they did not give you notice of a hearing 'within days if not hours' of seizing property that's used as the primary means to provide a livelihood. I was not a lawyer and I did not know I could contest. The State claims that no notice is needed. But it's in direct violation of U.S. and Alaska Supreme Court cases. (05:10)

JUDGE: Let – let me ask you – did you – did you talk to the judge about the forfeiture at your – at your sentencing hearing?

HAEG: Correct. That was the big item. But at that point we didn't know to prepare. We didn't know that we could bond the property out. We had no notice that – that - there was no official notice up until that point that the property would be sought to be forfeited. And I... The main thing is - is I was deprived of my income with no opportunity to contest because I didn't know for a very long length of time. And I asked the trooper that was seizing the property can I get my plane back? Cause I had clients coming in the day after they seized my plane and he says, "Never – you will never get your plane back." Well in commercial – in fishing boat seizures in Bristol Bay when you have a 2 week season if a trooper seizes your boat and sits on it for 2 weeks that trooper effectively cost you a whole seasons income. You may not know that you could go bond it out or even say, "hey it was somebody else". (06:17)

I'd like to point out that the statutes that the State used – I believe its 16.05.190 and 195 - I believe are unconstitutional, as written, because they require no prompt notice of a hearing -uh- when property is seized. – Uh- they require no prompt notice that the items may be forfeited. So it – essentially those statutes allow property to be seized with no – without due process. (06:43)

I also -uh- -uh- you know after that that happened there was a plea negotiations – we arrived at a plea agreement. That plea agreement was arrived at in August. For that plea agreement I had given a statement – 5-hour statement to the prosecution. It required me to give up guiding for at least one-year -um- and also to talk about a moose hunt. I took and gave up guiding for the year. I gave up a September and October and if you guys hunt you know moose seasons in September. That's what we primarily do and bear season is in October. In November the State filed charges that were in agreement with the plea agreement and then -uh- 5 business hours before we were supposed to fly to McGrath and present the plea agreement to the judge they filed an amended information changing the charges. And what that did is two things. It violated the plea agreement after there was enormous detrimental reliance put on it. Not only a 5-hour statement, which the State used, but my wife and I both of whom depend on guiding for our entire livelihood was gone. I got nothing. Um and we flew in all the – I mean it happened so close ... they changed the charges so close to the time at which it was supposed to happen that we'd already flown in witness from – witnesses from as far away as Illinois. We had bet the farm on this plea agreement. And after we'd bet the farm on it and the farm was gone they pull it away from us. And I asked, "how can they do that" to my attorney. He said, "It's the way the games played." Well I don't think that's fair. I don't think anybody would think that's fair.

They then used ... Since I had agreed to talk about this moose issue for that plea agreement – after I was convicted on the harsher charges they said, "Well since Dave Haeg agreed for this moose issue to enhance his sentence, for these lesser charges, it means Dave Haeg agreed for these – this moose thing to enhance his sentence on these harsher charges." So not only did they break it that time later on down the line they use it. The Supreme Court says you can't break a paid for plea agreement or change charges without justification. You cannot increase the severity of charges or the number of charges without going before the Court and proving justification because it – they say basically that there's the likelihood of vindictive or the appearance of vindictive – vindictiveness if they do that. (09:26)

Ok then I told you that I gave a statement. After they changed the charges they used them not only for the original information that they filed in agreement for the plea negotiations -they used it for the amended information – my statements. They said Dave Haeg came in and said this this and this so we're you know – it essentially provided probable cause for a whole lot of charges that they had absolutely no evidence for. Evidence Rule 410 states, "To foster negotiations the rule provides that nothing that is said during plea-bargaining may be used against the accused in any proceeding, whether criminal, civil or administrative. Thus, the accused is free to discuss the case without resort to hypothetical statements of fact and without fear that a slip of the tongue may be devastating at a later trial or other proceeding." I was devastated by my own statement that I gave for a plea agreement that then vanished. They used the statement in all the informations. They used the statement to obtain their main witness against me at trial. They gave my statements to the media. It was published around the world – my statements admitting what we had done. And they used it to enhance my sentence.

I hired a gentleman named Brent Cole to represent me. I asked him about all this. He says, "You can't do anything". "Alls you can do is call Leaders boss." Leaders was the prosecutor. I said, "is that all I can do?" He said, "That's all you can do." (11:00)

I was so concerned after I hired my next attorney and went to trial and lost – I was so angry and so upset and so frustrated over all I had given for nothing that I subpoenaed Mr. Cole to my sentencing - I subpoenaed Mr. Cole to my sentencing. I bought him an airline ticket. I bought him a hotel room. I paid for his witness fees. And then Mr. Cole never showed up. My second attorney said, "There's nothing you can do about that Mr. Haeg." -Um- he said "go to trial". Well this is – he said that after we'd been to trial but when I first hired Mr. Robinson he said there's nothing he could do about what happened with Mr. Cole", "you have to move forward", "it's all water under the bridge". He says, "Go to trial." He says, "don't put on any evidence...I have a tactic that there's no subject matter jurisdiction." Well me being - fighting for my life and fighting for my family and everything I had built in my life – I said I'm gonna help Mr. Robinson create a – the best tactic – the best defense known to man. So I did my research. He said, "That for the subject matter jurisdiction to work you can't talk about the plea agreement or all that you did for it or admit to the Court that there was jurisdiction – subject matter jurisdiction". He said, "Don't bring up any of that Dave. Don't talk about it." Well I started looking at subject matter jurisdiction. AS 22.15.060 "Criminal jurisdiction – the District Court has jurisdiction (1) of the following crimes (A) a misdemeanor." I was charged with a misdemeanor in District Court. There was nothing else the District Court needed for jurisdiction. Why would Mr. Robinson have me hide all of the other constitutional violations in my case for a tactic that irrefutably would never work? (PAUSE) (12:59)

He then failed to enforce the subpoena against Mr. Cole. I was then given an illegal sentence. They revoked my lic – my guide license for 5 years. It could only be suspended. That revocation cost me to loose – lose numerous guiding camps that I pay leases on to the federal government. Because they said if it was suspended you still have a license and we'll allow you to keep the camps and it says revoked you have no license. Those camps must be removed. I removed those camps because of an illegal sentence that my own attorney never objected too. My own attorney says I cannot appeal the sentence. And the judge in my case told me that – never told me I could appeal the sentence. So I didn't know – I knew I was appealing the conviction but nobody told me I could appeal the sentence. And in fact my attorney told me I couldn't appeal the sentence. Mr. Robinson's points of appeal that he submitted to you prove what I'm telling you about the subject matter jurisdiction is true and about the other stuff. (14:04)

After I figured out ... after I became very unhappy with Mr. Robinson I hired Mr. Osterman, my third attorney. After a week of looking at all the evidence he said it was the biggest sellout he'd ever seen. And let me put ... back up a moment. Because of problems of my first two attorneys and what I felt - the lies told to me - I tape-recorded every single word I ever had with Mr. Osterman. Every word. From the day I called him up to hire him to the day I fired him. He said it was the biggest sellout he'd ever seen by attorneys. That I didn't know my attorneys were going to quote "load the dice so the State would always win". He said Robinson's no jurisdiction – no subject matter jurisdiction tactic was no good. We – me and him were gonna sue Mr. Cole and Mr. Robinson after my conviction was overturned. A month later Mr. Osterman ... I couldn't get a hold of him for a month and my deadline for my appeals coming up or for the brief to you – to this Court was coming up. A month later he told me that Mr. Robinson's tactics were good – about the subject matter jurisdiction. And when I asked him about all the other things that I had on those two attorneys he told me quote "I can't affect their lives and livelihoods". Well

PRA_GSP01_0019668

I found caselaw in the U.S. Supreme Court and in Alaska Supreme Court that says if you can prove that a conflict of interest of your attorney – that he was representing interests in conflict with yours that you don't even have to prove prejudice because the likelihood of prejudice to a defendant whose attorney is representing interests in conflict with that defendant it's – it's – it's automatically ineffective assistance. There – there can be no – or there need be no proof of prejudice. Ok. (15:57)

In my appeal there've been what I feel are errors. I haven't been able to -uh- to stay my appeal so I can go post conviction relief, subpoena in the attorneys and prove exactly what went on. -Um- my illegal sentence was not fixed. I lost approximately 100,000 dollars in camps because of my illegal sentence not being fixed. (16:17)

JUDGE: Mr. Haeg on the – on the question of the illegality of your sentence I – on the – on the part about whether it should have been suspended or revoked I was just looking through the file. -Um- last August this Court issued an order saying that you could in fact go back to the District Court and ask for correction of the sentence. Did you – did you do that? (16:36)

HAEG: No I did not...

JUDGE: Ok.

HAEG: ...your honor. What happened is – is I asked this Court and this Court I believe said "although we could fix your sentence we will not do so until we decide your appeal" and the federal government said "camps better be gone". So the camps were gone and now it no longer matters. Although now if I got to go get my guide license - no longer will it just be unsuspended - I'll have to become an assistant guide for 5 years, become a registered guide for 13 years to become the master guide I used to be. So instead of a suspension it'll be a 18-year end of my guide career because of a revoked sentence. Or a revoked guide license. Ok. (17:15)

Some other things that I don't think are quit right. -Um- when Magistrate Woodmancy was assigned to rule on whether I could represent myself - he was involved in my original trial and he'd throw up his hands in – in frustration whenever we would try to assert my rights. So I tried to recuse him according to law. I submitted an affidavit, in the time required, under AS 22.20.022 and he never was removed. And that law – that's a law - says that if you want to recuse somebody and you submit an affidavit, which you did – without requiring proof and immediately that judge shall be recused. But not in my case. I don't know. (17:55)

I've - 2 years ago I started trying to get my property back because of the due process violations. It's now over 2 years since I started that. I don't really mean to – to harp but I had to tell the Courts that I was goanna go get my property before anyone would actually hear my – my request for my property. Everybody said – the District Courts said you had jurisdiction. You said they had jurisdiction. Even though you both had the orders. I didn't think that was fair. That was 2 years ago. I'm getting hungry. I mean we're done. We're – we can't go on forever. It's 4 years since this stuff started. -Um- the property hearing with Woodmancy – he made it constitutionally ineffective. The U.S. Supreme Court says when you're fighting for your property you can submit evidence, you can cross-examine adverse witnesses, you can present witnesses, and you can have oral arguments. Mr. Oster – Mr. Woodmancy says, "you can't submit evidence, you can't cross examine adverse witnesses, you can't present witnesses, and there will be no oral argument." Well when I read what the U.S. Supreme Court says I need to get my property back for a fair fight and the magistrate says, "no" I don't think that's fair. He made an adverse decision deciding I couldn't get all my property back. I then appealed that decision and it's been over a year since then. And another summers coming up. It's May. June and July – August September's when I make my livelihood. I need my property back. (19:30)

I would like to ask this Court for immediate return of all my property. And I'd like your honors to look at the de – the order of the 1st of January 2008 granting expedited consideration. That was in January. It's now May. And 2 more granting's for expedited consideration and expedited decision issued on March 6th 2008. I'd ask this Court to declare that 12.35.020 and 025 and AS 16.05.190 and 195 are unconstitutional as written because they don't provide for due process. I'd like a reversal of my convictions with prejudice because of vindictive and malicious prosecution and ineffective assistance of counsel. I would like this Court to recommend civil and criminal proceedings for those involved. And I would like a ruling on all issues from this Court so that -uh- there can be some justice or some resolution in my case. And I'm out of time and I'd - thank you very much unless you have any more questions? (20:40)

JUDGE: Thank you Mr. Haeg. Mr. Peterson?

PETERSON: May it please the Court my name is Andrew Peterson. I am an assistant attorney general at the office of Special Prosecutions. The – the claims set forth by Mr. Haeg in his brief can really be lumped into kind of two categories. There are those claims which should be brought as part of a post conviction relief application with trial court in McGrath and then there are claims which are being raised for the very first time in this appeal. I'm starting with the PCR issues. Mr. Haeg alleges a number of wrongs that he believes demonstrates ineffective assistance of counsel by his -uh- 2 prior trial attorneys. Issues -uh- committed by prosecutors, which they never objected to, and acts by the judge in that case, which his lawyers never objected to as well. (12:51)

This Court has held that ineffective assistance of counsel claims is not appropriate on direct appeal absent plain error and the problem here for Mr. Haeg is showing plain error. -Uh- in Barry this court held that it will seldom find ineffective assistance of counsel for the simple reason that there's no explanation in the record for the Court that tells the Court why the trial attorneys did what they did. Was it tactical decision or not? We don't have that information before us. It's not in the record. His attorneys never challenged any of the issues that he raises. And therefore there was no hearings; there was nothing in the trial court that would give this Court an understanding of why his lawyers did what they did. (22:33)

Now Mr. Haeg has indicated in his briefing that he's been denied the right to file a post conviction relief application. In part that's true. He filed a PCR application in McGrath while he was still represented by counsel. But he filed it himself. He was told once he was determined that he could not be pro se he could re-file his post conviction relief application. He hasn't done so yet. And this Court should indicate that that is how he should address most of the wrongs that he's alleging. (23:02)

The second grouping really falls into waiver. -Um- these claims that he's raising for a first time on appeal. Monroe addresses those. He not only has to show plain error. He has to show substantial prejudice and that these errors he alleges are not tactical and he has to overcome the presumption that his trial attorneys were competent. (23:26)

Starting with the issues that he raises. The first one is the constitutionality of his property seizures. -Uh- he alleges that he was violated - he was denied due process because he wasn't told he had immediate right to a hearing to get his property back. That simply isn't true. He had immediate right under Criminal Rule 37(c) to seek the return of his property and the suppression of evidence, which is (c). -Uh- his property was seized subject to a valid -uh- validly executed search warrant. -Uh- Mr. Haeg was present during the seizure on March 29th of 04. Less than two weeks later he hired Mr. Cole. No motion was ever filed under Criminal Rule 37(c) to seek the return of his property. When he was ultimately arraigned on the original or the amended information Criminal Rule 12 takes like - it's 45 - he or his counsel has 45 days to file a motion. No motion was ever filed -uh- seeking the return of his property. The only motion that was filed -uh- was in April - actually I'm sorry July 8th of 2005 - a motion seeking to bond out his property. In the State's opposition the State indicated that it was seeking the forfeiture of the property under -uh- the applicable statutes and that it -uh- it objected to the return of the property and the Court denied his request for bonding the property out. Bottom line here is that Mr. Haeg wasn't denied due process. He had the right to seek -uh- the return of his property under Criminal Rule 37. He didn't ... he didn't veil himself that right and consequently he can't now come in before this Court and claim he's been denied due process. (25:09)

The next issue he - he raises is that of the alleged perjury by -uh- Trooper Gibbens. Trooper Gibbens stated in his affidavit for the search warrant that he saw sign of somebody -uh- committing act of same day airborneing of wolves in a subunit of 19 -uh- game management unit 19. And then he indicated he went back the next day - followed -uh- the tracks and found the - the wolf kills, which were outside the predator control zone. -Uh- Trooper Gibbens testified at trial consistent with what was in his affidavit and then upon cross-examination he corrected himself. He said no actually it wasn't in 19C it was in 19D but it was outside of the wolf control program. The importance here is anytime you go outside of this predator control program area - the boundary you are now committing the act of same day airborne. It doesn't matter if it was in 19D - 19C - where it was - as long as you're outside of that zone which allows you legally be same day airborneing wolves you're committing the act of ... the crime of same day airborne. In his... As the Court's already pointed out not only did Trooper Gibbens testify at trial consistently with what was in the affidavit and correct his mistake but then Mr. Haeg testified at trial and admitted to killing the wolves outside of the predator control zone. He testified at sentencing and admitted again and then he submitted excerpts to this Court which indicate that he was outside of the -uh- the control zone so the State would argue there is no -um- there's no error here. He's waived this issue. It was never raised -um- but even if the Court was to consider whether or not there's plain error -uh- there's certainly no substantial prejudice to Mr. Haeg because he admitted committing the crime repeatedly. (27:04)

The next issue he raises is -uh- the State's violation of using his plea agreement statements against him. The - the State's first argument with respect to that would be that he's waived any right to raise this claim. His lawyers never raised it at - when he was arraigned -um- it was never raised prior to trial. Now Mr. Haeg indicated it - it was raised in a reply brief filed by his attorney prior to trial. It was actually raised in an affidavit attached to the reply brief by Mr. Haeg -um- which the State would argue doesn't preserve it for -uh- appeal. (27:46)

-Um- the second thing that Mr. Haeg overlooks in this case is that his codefendant Mr. Zellers also gave a statement -uh- to the prosecutor and the trooper in this case. His codefendant waived Evidence Rule 410 and his codefendant testified at trial. -Uh- there's no indication that any of the information used in the amended information -uh- or used to prosecute him at trial was information that could not have been gathered from Mr. Zellers. -Uh- so again the State would argue that there's - this issues been waived - that even if the Court were to consider whether or not there was plain error here it would be that there's no prejudice to Mr. Haeg because all that information came out - or could have come out through his codefendant. Mr. Haeg raises a number of claims with respect to judicial misconduct ... (28:37)

JUDGE: Before we leave this issue...

PETERSON: Certainly.

JUDGE: -um- Mr. Haeg also raised the issue of a detrimental reliance on the plea bargain and then the State changing the charges at the last moment.

PETERSON: Certainly your honor and your honor I would ar[gue] ... I would answer that by saying first of all his attorney never raised any objection. We don't know why. It's not in the record before this Court. The only reason the only way we are ever goanna know why is through post conviction relief application where his attorney can be deposed and we can ask why. Now through other proceedings I believe I know why there was no objection raised and why the plea negotiations broke down but that's not in the record before this Court. (29:16)

JUDGE: Ok.

PETERSON: The next area of -um- claims Mr. Haeg raises is a number of issues of alleged judicial misconduct. The State intends to rely on its pleadings for most of them. -Uh- the only issue that the State would like to briefly address is that of -uh- -um- the judge's failure to give the required jury instruction. Essentially in Mr. Haeg's briefing he claimed there was a required accomplice instruction that needed to be given -uh- in order to - it - it is required by law. -Uh- first of all the State would argue that he's waived this issue. He lawyer - his own lawyer never asked for this instruction. But second -uh- no accomplice instruction has been required in the State of Alaska since 1975. Long v. State sets that forth. And Mossberg - Mossberg v. State states that the decision to give an accomplice instruction is generally a tactical decision. Again this would indicate to the Court that -uh- the decisions not to give this instruction or at least not to ask for it is certainly an issue for PCR and not for a merit appeal. (30:27)

And finally Mr. Haeg -uh- raises - he - he asks for a number of forms of relief. I believe I have addressed most of those or all of them -uh- in my briefing and I'm goanna rely on the briefing with respect to everything except for -uh- his guides license issue. -Uh- he claims first that the Courts order is illegal because its - it calls for a revocation and not a suspension. Alaska Statute 8.54.720(f)(3) provides that the Court shall suspend a license for a minimum of 3 years or may permanently revoke the license. So that the Court has the option. Now in this case the Court stated that it would - it was revoking it for a period of 5 years. There's certainly no indication first off that that's an illegal sentence. And second -um- ... (31:21)

JUDGE: Doesn't it sound like Judge - Judge Murphy intended to suspend it for 5? Because the - your options are revoke perm - end of story - or suspend (talk over each other) ... Ok so...

JUDGE: On the judgment form there's only the word revoke. There's not the word suspend. It looks like Judge Murphy just kind of without thinking used the form and didn't strike out revoke and say suspended. (31:47)

PETERSON: And I don't disagree with that. But Mr. Haeg could have raised this issue as this Court has indicated with the trial court and I'm not certain ... I - I don't know that I would have objected to him asking to have ... (31:58)

JUDGE: Would you object now if it's modified to being a 5-year suspension? Shouldn't we modify it to that? (32:03)

PETERSON: Certainly if - if the Court feels it has the authority to modify it now despite him not originally raising it with the trial court.

JUDGE: Well it...

PETERSON: ... I don't have an objection...

JUDGE: ... Not if we told the trial court to do it. (32:12)

PETERSON: Now the only issue though... This brings me to the next issue whether it's a suspension or a revocation - it makes no difference. Occupational Licensing treats it the exact same. Because of the -uh- the 2-year periods in which guide licenses are valid for - a 5-year suspension or a 5-year revocation - at the end of that period Mr. Haeg is going to have to reapply for his guides license. I don't believe under either scenario he has to start it over as an assistant guide. He still has on the records experience to become a master guide again. He just needs to reapply for his license. (32:45)

JUDGE: Well... regardless of what consequence it might have he's entitled to have the judgment amended, right? (32:50)

PETERSON: Certainly.

PETERSON: ... Right...

JUDGE: And then the consequences are not really before us at this point. (32:55)

PETERSON: Exactly. The - the last issue with respect to his guides license is the - his request to stay the revocation or if the Court's goanna change it - the suspension of his license. And the State would oppose that as it has in the past for a number of reasons. First of all if the Court -uh- were to stay the suspension of his license at this point in time -uh- the State would be entitled to bail conditions. Trial court has the option -uh- the authority and the broad discretion to issue bail conditions. One of the conditions the State would ask for is that he not be involved in any type of guiding activities pending his appeal. And there's good reason for that. -Uh- Title 8 regulates the activities of big game guides. They have the privilege of guiding in the State of Alaska. And one of the things that the State requires is not only that they not commit crimes while they're actually guiding somebody but title 8 requires they not commit any fish and game violations and in fact it authorizes prosecution under title 8 - if somebody commits any State or Federal -uh- wildlife -uh- violations - even the regulation ... and it doesn't even have to be a violation committed in the State of Alaska. And - the explanation's obvious. We trust them to follow the law when they're guiding somebody in the field for monetary gain. We don't want that same person then on their own to be going around committing fish and game crimes but at the same time think we're goanna trust them when they're guiding. So the State would be asking for a bail condition prohibiting him from guiding if - uh- his revocation or suspension was stayed. In - with that I don't believe I have any additional comments unless the Court has any questions for me? (34:39)

JUDGE: Thank you Mr. Peterson. Mr. Haeg it is your time to respond to the arguments that - that Mr. Peterson has raised. (35:00)

HAEG: Ok -um- your honors Mr. Peterson says that -uh- if there even was plain error that this Court shouldn't do anything. And I think that - that the purpose of the Courts of Appeals are to fix plain error. Especially error that had an effect on the individual. And I think that has been -uh- shown over and over. (35:32)

Mr. Peterson also says that there was no need to give me notice of a hearing because the opportunity was available to me. And in essence Mr. Peterson makes the argument that -uh- it's my own fault I didn't know I could ask. Ok. And I'd like this Court to read the U.S. Supreme Court case of Memphis Light, Gas, and Water. It states, "The purpose of notice under the Due Process Clause is to apprise the affected individual of, and permit adequate preparation for, an impending 'hearing.'" (PAUSE) Notice in a case of this kind does not comport with constitutional requirements when it does not advise the customer of the availability of a procedure for protesting a proposed termination." (PAUSE) -Uh- Mr. Peterson also goes on to kind of allude that since it was a criminal seizure that - that - that -uh- does away with that need. -Um- and that since it was available that's all that need be. I'd like this Court to also look at Fuentes versus Shevin - another U.S. Supreme Court case. "If an applicant for the writ perceives something - knows that he is dealing with an uneducated, uninformed consumer with little access to legal help and little familiarity with legal procedures, there may be a substantial possibility that a summary seizure of property - however unwarranted - may go unchallenged, and the applicant may feel that he can act with impunity. Appellant Fuentes says that in her case she was never told that she could recover the stove and stereo. And, of course, no hearing need be held unless the defendant, having received notice of his opportunity, takes advantage of it." I think it's pretty clear that there's an affirmative duty when the State comes and seizes property from someone who's not a lawyer that they have to tell them that you have the right to contest this before a judge and to have the State put on proof for taking away your means for putting food in your families mouth. -Uh- Perkins versus City of West Covina - Ninth Circuit - the U.S. Court of Appeals. "Here, the notice left at Perkins' home did not mention the availability of any procedure for protesting the seizure of his property, let alone the existence of a formal judicial procedure for obtaining return... The notice was 'skeletal', like the notice that the Memphis Light court found unconstitutional." This is very close to what Mr. Peterson's telling you right now. "The city charges Perkins with the responsibility for his own confusion. It cites his failure to persist and to unearth the proper remedy and the method of its invocation. The risk of erroneous deprivation, especially in the emergency situations often underlying search warrants, is substantial. By contrast, the administrative and fiscal burden of providing adequate written notice is slight." (38:55) They - all they would have to do was write a little note on the search warrants. Said Mr. Haeg you have the opportunity to go before the judge contest it or maybe even just to ask to bond the stuff out until a jury determines you should be put out of business. I didn't get that. -Um- "The notice must inform the recipient of the procedure for contesting the seizure or retention of the property taken, along with any additional information required for initiating that procedure in the appropriate court." (39:25)

And I think I alluded to the - there's three cases - Baranof - I think the best one is fishing vessel American Eagle. It says when the property is used by the person in providing a livelihood that that notice must be given 'within days if not hours'. I was never given that notice. I hired an attorney two weeks after they took my airplane and my property and I had clients coming in the very next day. And I told the troopers that and the trooper said 'you're never going to get your property back'. That's the notice I received. (40:03)

"The idea of wage garnishment in advance of judgment, of trustee process, of wage attachment, or whatever it is called is a most inhuman doctrine. It compels the wage earner, trying to keep his family together, to be driven below the poverty level." That's me and my family. (PAUSE) (40:24)

Um- Mr. Peterson speaks about -uh- since -uh- during plea negotiations we -uh- said that we took wolves outside the area. I'd like to -uh- let the Court know that a week before we went on the Wolf Control Program I was at the Board of Game meeting in Fairbanks speaking with a sitting Board of Game member who sits today on the Board of Game. And that gentleman told me that with this first experimental wolf control program they had very few wolves. That they had to have more wolves or the program would be seen as ineffective. He then went on to say that if we took wolves outside the area to just mark them on our GPS as inside the area. And that is a person appointed by the Governor that sits on the Alaska Board of Game. And you may think that that was never brought up. That was in my statement that was given to the Court the trial court or the District Court for a plea agreement and that statement remains there. -Um- -uh- as far as the plea agreement I did everything I could to enforce that plea agreement and everybody - my own attorneys told me "there's nothing you can do". (41:40)

Mr. Peterson -uh- says that you should overlook the use of my own statements because they had my codefendants statement. My codefendant has testified under oath, along with his attorney, that he cooperated with the State because of my statement, which was given first. So that whole thing's a fruit of my statement. -Um- in other words everything the State got as far as knowledge of what went on - came from my statement. Whether it came from me or not - whether they went to someone else who felt compelled to - to talk that's -um- you know that's just the way it was. (42:28)

As far as my revocation of a guide license compared to suspension. I want to know whose goanna give me my camps back? (PAUSE) I asked the Courts to fix something that should have been very clear and nobody did and I lost a hundred thousand dollars in camps. Who is going to give me my camps back? (42:48)

-Um- Mr. Peterson says that -uh- -uh- since we took wolves outside the area it makes no difference -- that automatically turns it into a -uh- fish and game case. I applied for and received a wolf control permit that specifically said anyone participating is intentionally excluded from any fish and game violations. They still could have a violation but it wouldn't affect fish and game. The reason why it affected my guide license is because fish and game violations affect your guide license. I think it's quit the coincidence that the evidence that was found in the game management unit in which the Wolf Control Program was taking place all of a sudden appeared, according to the State, where I guide. I think that's a pretty significant fact. Along with the fact that I paid -- we informed them of that and they persisted at trial and Mr. Gibbens -- Trooper Gibbens just didn't remember -- it was under cross examination. If you look at the -- the -- the statute for perjury someone can correct themselves up until the time at which it was -- it -- it is likely or shown that they are going to be found out. It was only when Mr. -- Trooper Gibbens knew he had been found out and was being questioned on it he says, "I forgot - it was all in game management unit 19D and not where you guide." You - anybody here believe that if he wouldn't have been cross-examined that that would have ever come out? (PAUSE) It would not have come out. And the prejudice of that -- the taint ... And see I never really knew how something could be tainted if you fixed it. But the taint of that is proven by the sentencing judge says, the reason for this severe sentence, even though you have no criminal history whatsoever, is because 'most if not all the wolves were taken when you guide'. And that is simply an absolute falsehood. So upon cross-examination there was no -- the taint was still there. I want fair proceedings. I would like this court to give me fair proceedings. -Um- I had a closing thing I'd like to say but I'm out of time and thank you.

JUDGE: Ok thanks Mr. Haeg. Counsel. We will take the case under advisement and please stand - adjourned. (GAVEL) (45:30)

I, JACKIE Haeg, being first duly sworn depose and states as follows: I listened to and transcribed the 5/8/08 Oral Arguments before the Alaska Court of Appeals. Deb:

Please let your DP person know that the Governor is waiting for LAW to complete its work today and that completion of that bill drafting assignment depends on LAW's DP person getting the system back up and running so you can produce the bill today.

Also, if you have a hard copy of the most recent draft and know the changes that need to be made, please have a secretary start retyping the bill in a new word doc. As I recall, the bill Privileged or Personal Material Redacted should not be more than 3-4 pages.

Governor -

I have received word that for Thursday, 06.26.08 (road trip) - DPS has a Turbo Prop - Single Engine Plane (Caravan) - 2 pilots that is at your disposal. You have flown in this same aircraft last year when you flew into Skagway. It is an 8 seater.

They can pick you up on Thursday, 06.26.08 at the Wasilla Airstrip at approx. 11:15 a.m. for Soldotna. This is a 45 minute flight. You would land 1 mile from the Soldotna Sport Center.

The Soldotna to Homer Flight time is 20 minutes. Then from Homer back to Wasilla is a 1 hour and 15 minute flight time. This would take out the 10-12 hour drive time that you would be on the road. Something for you to consider - Thanks, Janice

Subject: Talking Points for National Interviews

Governor,

From the oil and gas perspective, attached are the talking points for your three national interviews this week.

As I am sure others are working on, all three may ask a range of questions from abortion to guns and oil. The attached only discusses oil and gas issues.

Glenn Beck (CNN) probably has the greatest chance of launching into numerous issues. He loves to make fun of everyone and is incredibly good natured. You should laugh a lot with him. He has a couple children and recently adopted one, if not two, children. Glenn is pro-drilling, pro-oil. You both should see eye-to-eye other than he doesn't feel people should always pick on the oil companies.

Larry Kudlow (pronounced KUDD-low) is with CNBC and Kudlow & Company. His energy mantra is, "Drill. Drill. Drill." and doesn't understand why the Presidential candidates don't get it. On Monday, CNBC is launching a full-day show re: historical meetings with Saudi Arabia tomorrow. In my opinion, your interview with Kudlow will be all oil and gas. Sharon can shed further light once they provide more hints. Again, he should be a friendly, but he is all about the numbers and firing questions and shouting. You'll see we have a section in the attached that provides a number of specifics for you re: Alaska's oil and gas reserves, etc.

Also, here is a link to a Kudlow article that you may find helpful reading as well:
<http://article.nationalreview.com/?q=YzIwMTQzNDIzMzRlY2RjMzk2MTBjMDC5MTM3N2MwM2I=>
<<http://article.nationalreview.com/?q=YzIwMTQzNDIzMzRlY2RjMzk2MTBjMDC5MTM3N2MwM2I=>>

Neil Cavuto I have not been able to watch because I do not get FOX News. Sharon will also hopefully have more information on him for you, if you do not already have it.

There are two highlighted portions: price of gas in the bush - we'll have the latest numbers for you in a couple of days. And I am waiting for the exact dollars re: price per barrel upon which the state balances its budget. The figures in the attached are rough.

Please let us know if you need anything else.

Thanks,

Meghan

Ms. Christensen – Let me begin with offering our condolences for the loss of your brother. Lives lost are difficult for most, yet devastating for loved ones left behind; having lost a son, I know.

Now on the heels of saying that, I had researched my e-mail and had not found any messages from you until this one. I offer this not as an excuse, rather as an explanation because I truly try to respond to questions and concerns asked of me. I have been advised that AST Capt. Mlynarik did respond, now twice, in trying to answer your concerns. I hope your original issues are now resolved.

Given the perception of a non-response of my office, I offer an apology for that. Last Friday, I did send a trouble report to our IT section because people advised that their messages sent to me directly was being returned as undeliverable. That has since been corrected and certainly not a fault of anyone other than us internally.

Once again, I am sorry for the loss of your brother. Weak sounding words, I understand; but accept our language's inability to convey these feelings any stronger.

Should you have further or future concerns that are not answered timely in e-mail, my officer number is (907) 269-5086.

To those of you who HAVE responded to my previous emails I apologize for sending you another one. I just wanted everyone to know how difficult it seems for me to get a response from Walt Monegan and Talis Colberg. These are the two people I was directed to for answers and not once have they even acknowledged the receiving of my emails.

This email makes it #4. I believe that 4 emails are 3 too many for a response from ANYONE in high authority in the State of Alaska where my brother's FATAL accident took place.

Can any of you directed me to someone that actually cares?????? Please???

Appreciate any and all the help I can get.

Sincerely,

Donna Christensen

Subject: REGARDING FATAL ACCIDENT IN YOUR STATE

Good Morning,

Below are two emails I sent out. The last one was sent out June 11th 2008 (by now someone should be responding). The second was sent out two days ago, but I think two days is enough time for someone to at least respond saying in anything "Received your message will respond in a day or two" something..... Or maybe these email boxes really aren't being read at all and they were given to me to shut me up. Won't work. I want answers and I as Donna's twin sister deserve answers.

Good Afternoon,

Below is an E-mail I sent out to dps.abi.web@alaska.gov on June 11th 2008. I have yet to hear anything definite back from any of the e-mails I have sent this to, which are several people in Alaska, including the Governor's office. Since June 11th, I have learned a bit more, but I am still looking for answers. Can you answer any of my questions? I have one more question not listed in the original email below. Is it true that Ms. Miller appeared to be "playing chicken with on coming traffic"? If so, I would think that criminal charges are indeed pending.

Hello,

My name is Donna Christensen. I am writing to see how much information you can share with me now. Obtaining information in the early days was almost impossible. Having a trooper tell me to go to Peninsula Clarion to obtain information off the web, was somewhat surprising. As if this wasn't a nightmare enough, I could get NO ONE to deal with me in the early days of learning the news that my Twin Brother had been killed in a car accident on May 24th 2008 at approximately 1700 hours, in Soldotna, Kalifornsky Beach Road and Community College Road.

We as a family have the right to know what happened?????? I am not going away you can trust me on that. I want to know what happened that day. Four of our family members went to Alaska to get my Brother Donn Phillip Johnson 6-27-54. We had a very difficult time determining when to schedule a flight there and back home, as apparently the Medical Examiner's office was short a pathologist. As it turned out, the family wasted a day in Alaska because they could have returned one day earlier, but since nobody could be more positive in giving us a time frame that the autopsy would be done and from there the cremation. It wasn't until I actually spoke with the supervisor of the Medical Examiners office (Ms. Hickman) that communication actually started. The investigator at the Medical Examiners office was Lori Bye (spelling?).

I have spoke with Trooper Carson, who advised me to look at the Peninsula Clarion. I spoke with Sgt. Trooper Loop (spelling?), whom apparently had the next two days off after my brother's accident and no one else could speak for him. So after waiting two days for the assigned investigator with the State Troopers, I still only learned that if my brother was wearing a seatbelt, "it wouldn't have made a difference".

While the family was in the wonderful state of Alaska, they met some of my Brother Donn's friends. Through them we have heard that there were nine 911 calls prior to Elizabeth Miller crossing the center line and hitting my brother. We have heard that at the time of impact her speedometer stuck at 71 miles per hour. We have learned that there were NO skid marks in her lane, but skid marks in my brother's lane, indicating that he saw her coming and couldn't do anything about it. We have also heard that she went right over the top of my brother's rental car, killing him instantly! Well if he saw it coming, no instantly enough!

I have recently learned that the death certificate is being completed, listing the cause of death as "severe trauma car accident". No surprise there, we knew he died in a car accident. We were also told according to the website for Peninsula Clarion that "there is no preliminary indication that drugs or alcohol were a factor in the collision." The Clarion also stated, "Miller was taken to Central Peninsula Hospital, treated and later released." Sgt. Trooper Loop told me that blood was drawn at the scene and at the hospital. Hearing of so many car accidents in the past where the driver of one car is treated and released, while the other driver is a fatality, usually drugs or alcohol ARE a factor.

So my questions for you this day are:

1. Do you have the BAC (Blood Alcohol Content) levels back yet for both Miller and my brother?
2. Did Ms. Elizabeth Miller have a valid driver's license?
3. Is it true that there were nine 911 calls about her driving, prior to her striking my brother's car?
4. What was her speed at the time of impact?
5. Were there no skid marks in her lane, but true there were in my brother's lane?
6. Did Ms. Elizabeth Miller have valid insurance?
7. Did Ms. Miller's vehicle actually go over the top of my brother's vehicle?
8. Are any criminal charges being brought against Ms. Elizabeth Miller?

For now this is all I can think of, but I am sure I will have more questions later. Please do not ignore me, as I am not going away. This was my twin brother for 53 years of our lives and my birthdays will never be the same. He was more than just a driver behind the wheel of a car in the wrong spot at the wrong time. He was a son (surviving mother), father (two surviving sons), grandfather (two surviving grandchildren), brother (two surviving brothers, one sister), uncle (two nephews & 3 nieces) and a loving friend to many.

I appreciate any and ALL of your assistance,

Donna P. Christensen

Governor Palin,

Could you please invite Senator McCain to ANWR. I believe that it would be a great opportunity to "sell" the idea of exploration in ANWR to the American nation. As Governor, I believe it is your responsibility to educate the general public on this opportunity. Our national security and bank accounts depend on your leadership.

For America's future, please consider this?

Thank you.

P.S. Is it true McCain has spoken to you about the VP slot? After watching your performance on Glenn Beck, I think it would be a great idea.

Governor-

If the announcement comes out on Wednesday, could we schedule a 5 o'clock live shot with Channel 11? This could be live in studio or via phone.

Also, the Homer radio station would a few minutes of your time on Thursday to talk about House Bill 25. The station is only a few minutes from the bill signing event. Please let me know if you would like me to pursue this.

Regarding the "$1200 Stimulus Check" that you are proposing...

I think its a wonderful idea. However, I have a recommendation. For those who are on Welfare, I feel that $1200 should be divided between their Gas/Electric and go directly into their Utility accounts. That way, this great gift that you are proposing is not abused, but being used for the sole purpose of the check.

Thank you for taking the time to read my view. God Bless!

And a hug to baby Trig!

I have received word that for Thursday, 06.26.08 (road trip) - DPS has a Turbo Prop - Single Engine Plane (Caravan) - 2 pilots that is at your disposal. You have flown in this same aircraft last year when you flew into Skagway. It is an 8 seater.

They can pick you up on Thursday, 06.26.08 at the Wasilla Airstrip at approx. 11:15 a.m. for Soldotna. This is a 45 minute flight. You would land 1 mile from the Soldotna Sport Center.

The Soldotna to Homer Flight time is 20 minutes. Then from Homer back to Wasilla is a 1 hour and 15 minute flight time. This would take out the 10-12 hour drive time that you would be on the road. Something for you to consider - Thanks, Janice

Subject: ADN opinion

Sharon:

Just a quick note, the ADN criticizes the Governor's plan to provide checks to Alaskans because it is not need based.

ADN is off base for 3 reasons:

1. This is sharing a one-time special payment with Alaskans. Since all Alaskans share the state's resources and wealth equally, (No one person owns more or less) it is only fair that the one-time special payment provide each Alaskan the same amount.

2. ADN ignores the fact that there are already a number of programs to benefit low income Alaskans or Alaskans living in rural areas. These Alaskans can "stack" their PCE and LIHEAP and any other federal or state program, and any programs offered by their utilities (Such as AEL&P's levelized billing - spreading payments out over 12 months at an even level instead of high payments in the winter) that are targeted directly at low income ratepayers, on top of this one-time special payment if they choose to do so. (65% in the KTUU poll said they would choose to use the payment for energy costs)

Subject: Talking Points for National Interviews

Governor,

From the oil and gas perspective, attached are the talking points for your three national interviews this week.

As I am sure others are working on, all three may ask a range of questions from abortion to guns and oil. The attached only discusses oil and gas issues.

Glenn Beck (CNN) probably has the greatest chance of launching into numerous issues. He loves to make fun of everyone and is incredibly good natured. You should laugh a lot with him. He has a couple children and recently adopted one, if not two, children. Glenn is pro-drilling, pro-oil. You both should see eye-to-eye other than he doesn't feel people should always pick on the oil companies.

Larry Kudlow (pronounced KUDD-low) is with CNBC and Kudlow & Company. His energy mantra is, "Drill. Drill. Drill." and doesn't understand why the Presidential candidates don't get it. On Monday, CNBC is launching a full-day show re: historical meetings with Saudi Arabia tomorrow. In my opinion, your interview with Kudlow will be all oil and gas.

Sharon can shed further light once they provide more hints. Again, he should be a friendly, but he is all about the numbers and firing questions and shouting. You'll see we have a section in the attached that provides a number of specifics for you re: Alaska's oil and gas reserves, etc.

Also, here is a link to a Kudlow article that you may find helpful reading as well:
<http://article.nationalreview.com/?q=YzIwMTQzNDIzMzRlY2RjMzk2MTBjMdc5MTM3N2MwM2I=>
<http://article.nationalreview.com/?q=YzIwMTQzNDIzMzRlY2RjMzk2MTBjMdc5MTM3N2MwM2I=>

Neil Cavuto I have not been able to watch because I do not get FOX News. Sharon will also hopefully have more information on him for you, if you do not already have it.

There are two highlighted portions: price of gas in the bush - we'll have the latest numbers for you in a couple of days. And I am waiting for the exact dollars re: price per barrel upon which the state balances its budget. The figures in the attached are rough.

Please let us know if you need anything else.

Thanks,

Meghan

Governor Palin Orders Flags Lowered for Former Territorial Legislator

June 23, 2008, Anchorage, Alaska - Governor Sarah Palin today ordered state flags to be flown at half-staff on June 25 in memory of former territorial legislator Glen D. Franklin, who died June 17 at the age of 95.

"Todd and I extend our deepest condolences to the family and friends of Glen Franklin during this difficult time. We will continue to pray for their comfort," Governor Palin said. "We are grateful for his pioneering spirit and public service during the state's formative years."

Franklin represented Fairbanks for two terms in the Territorial Legislature. He served during the 1949 and 1951 sessions of the legislature.

A longtime Alaskan, Franklin moved to Fairbanks in the early 1930s to attend the Alaska College and School of Mines. He followed up his schooling with a career in the mining industry and was partners in various mining operations throughout the Fortymile country and Yukon Territory. Over the years, he was active in Pioneers of Alaska and the University of Alaska.

Franklin is survived by his second wife, Patricia, who was by his side when he died in his sleep last week, daughter Glenna and son-in-law Chuck Hutchens, stepsons and numerous grandchildren, great-grandchildren and one great-great grandchild.

State flags will be lowered Wednesday to coincide with a memorial service for Franklin in Fairbanks.

Subject: Neil Cameron

Dear Governor Palin,

Apparently Dan Fagan called my Juneau office to talk to me about "Neil Cameron". I am in Fairbanks today and I do not plan to call Mr. Fagan.

I think I should give you a heads up on what is likely the source of the call. Mr. Cameron is represented by Wayne Anthony Ross. Mr. Ross was apparently on the Fagan show today.

Mr. Ross had asked for a meeting with me this spring to talk to me in person about matters that concerned him. I met with Mr. Ross. The matters of concern to him were two of his cases involving two of his clients being prosecuted for crimes by the Anchorage DA's office. I told Mr. Ross I would look into the cases but that I would in no way commit to override staff prosecutors. One of the two cases was Mr. Cameron. I did ask staff for an explanation. Privileged or Personal Material Redacted

Mr. Ross followed up with a letter chastising me for not following up and nor changing direction for his clients. I wrote back to Mr. Ross that I appreciated him but that I was sorry that he misconstrued my willingness to listen to him as a commitment to override staff. He wrote back again even more curtly saying he was disappointed and looked forward to telling me "I told you so" after his clients were exonerated. Now, he has apparently taken his case to Fagan.

Privileged or Personal Material Redacted

If you are interested I can arrange for a briefing for you on the details of the charges against Mr. Cameron. The case is set for trial in mid-September. Talis

Faster, Better, Safer Transportation for the 21st Century

By Tom Donohue, President and CEO

The failure of the U.S. transportation network to meet the needs of a growing population and economy is already having an impact on everything from safety to the environment, from quality of life to economic growth. We must immediately reform the approach we take for funding, planning, and building infrastructure so that we can keep people and goods moving across the country and around the world.

Evidence of failure is overwhelming.

Capital Roundup

Labor, Business Unite to Rebuild America's Transportation System
Business, labor, and transportation leaders came together in Washington, D.C., on June 23 to launch the FasterBetterSafer campaign, a grassroots effort aimed at putting pressure on leaders across the nation to increase transportation infrastructure funding.

Chamber Wins Supreme Court Victory in Employers' Rights Case
The U.S. Supreme Court on June 19 ruled in Chamber of Commerce of the United States et al. v. Brown et al., that states may no longer restrict employers' rights to communicate with their employees about unionization.

Donohue Talks to Reporters About Health Care Solutions
All of the new health care proposals being floated around Washington during this election cycle must include measures to increase transparency, the use of information technologies, and a focus on preventive care, U.S. Chamber President and CEO Tom Donohue told reporters during a June 17 luncheon at

Govenor,

I am responsible for providing information/Input for Womens' Equality Day, August 26. I listen to 91.5 a Christian radio station, and they reported that you gave birth to your 5th child and are Govenor of Alaska. I was so proud and impressed that a career woman wanted a large family and gave birth to a special needs child, God blessed you and your family. This also led me to believe that you are pro-life. I truly am tired of the political women who want to kill babies, I do not believe they represent the majority of women in our great nation. I am a retired MSgt/Air Force with a BA in Education, Major Special Ed. When I was young I thought feminism was great, boy was I wrong. I really would like to have an article on your views of Womens Equality Day in our base paper, "The Freedom Flyer". After researching Women behind the equality movement; many had one or no children and many seem to have their own personal agenda. In my opinion, the only way they could accomplish their goals in lif e was to enlist other women to fight for their cause. I was disillusioned and found this sad for children who need nurturing mothers, something that has fallen by the way side with the help of feminism. Our young children are crying out for protection, love and guidance. Unfortunately, Feminism has provided women the opportunity to take up vices that plague men. Granted, it is great to vote, but we should be walking along side of men and proud in our own rights of what we can do and accomplish as mothers, wives and professionals. Any plans to run for President?

Dear Gov. Palin,

My family and I visited your great state recently and the natural beauty is beyond description, as I'm sure you know. What we found equally refreshing and satisfying is the approachability and accessibility of government at all levels. We are Wisconsin residents and I can tell you that I have been to our Capital building several times and have worked with our senators, representatives and governors on a variety of issues and have never had the welcome feeling that your capital building and staff afforded us. I talked with Christopher Clark while I was touring your capital and he was very willing and able to take the time and effort to talk with me and give me a brief history lesson and bring me up to speed on state government in Alaska. Your state seems to have kept government at a more manageable level than most states and as a result has retained a more relevant and responsive leadership role than some of the more "progressive" states. You have renewed my faith in peoples ability to self govern without government becoming so big and controlling as to become a bigger challenge than those issues it was designed to help manage. Great job and if there is anything that I can ever do to help you or your great state, please don't hesitate to contact me. Thanks again!

I have worked in the oil industry for 25 years. The last 18 years I have been with the largest privately held Seismic company in the US. I have designed 3D seismic surveys and have been involved in all aspects of research and development. Our company has very close ties to Shell, Conoco/Phillips, BP/amoco and Exxon, plus numerous other companies that are currently exploring in Alaska. I am working on some ideas for seismic shoots that are needed in your state that will help prove up and develop reserves there. I would like to start a dialog with youre office to help in planning these potential projects. We will be meeting with the head of shell's Alaska group next week. I would like to coordinate an effort that will maybe employ Alaskian citizens and benifit the Alaskian people, but I need your direction. I would like to talk and possibly meet with you on what we can provide.

Well Governor,

I just wanted you to know that your accomplishments, passion & ability to lead are making waves all the way across the country. I'm a political junkie who keeps his finger on the pulse and works with the great radio host Bob Grant.

I've been spreading the word to my fellow political fanatics that you just may be the strongest consideration for McCain's ticket and I do hope that you are given a careful look.

Continued success, love & health with your family and I hope to see you in the national spotlight in the very near future.

Dear Governor Palin:

I am not a citizen of Alaska, but have read about your work to get rid of corruption in state government. Please keep up the fine work. You are a shining light in today's political world. You give us hope for the future of the country. I hope you run for president in 2012 on a ticket with Bobby Jindal . You would have my vote.

May God Bless you and your family.

Gov. Palin,

Congratulations on the birth of your precious son. What a joy to know that God has entrusted you and your family with such a precious soul. I do not know you, but have recently heard many fine things about you. How refreshing to hear of a politician that 'walks the walk and talks the talk'. Your decisions now, as you know, will not only stand in our current time, but will stand for eternity. To your husband, what a godly man you must be to be able to provide such strong support to your wife in her calling/career. Not many men would be able to do that.

From what I am reading, you may be on the short list for VP. I KNOW I could stand behind you as Vice President of the United States. As Mordecai told Esther in the Bible, perhaps God placed you where you are for just such a time as this.

Be blessed. Elizabeth, VA

Congratulations on your newest addition to your family. My Uncle Chuckie had Down's Syndrome, and he was a blessing. We all loved him and he loved EVERYBODY, including Red Skelton, whom he wanted to watch on TV as much as possible. He'd laugh at Red. My parents were of the generation that spanked (not hard), and when we did something that warranted it, they'd get a hairbrush. Chuckie always hid the hairbrush before they could get it! I'm a first grade teacher, and I have yet to see one child with DS that is not loving and a pleasure to be around. It is uplifting that someone with real influence has set an example for those who think there is a "choice". There shouldn't be any choice, except to love each and every child. Each child is a gift from God and should be treasured for who they are as they are.

Web mail from: Mr. Alfred Musgrove
address: 364 Oxford Street Hayward CA 94541

MESSAGE:

Dear Governor Palin,

My name is Alfred Robert Musgrove, a native Californian, husband and father. I am 35 years old and have Bachelors in Business Management from Saint Mary's College in Moraga, California. I work in Gas System Operations for Pacific Gas and Electric, and have been doing so for the last thirteen years. On the side, I am a writer and have also been performing voice-over work, attending school to possibly open other doors of opportunity. I am an active member of my community and parish, serving with the Knights of Columbus, and volunteering often. I am an active supporter of life and appreciate your support of it, as well.

I want to say that I have been honestly touched and inspired to learn about you and your family. As a father of 2 daughters, ages 8 and 6, and a son, 16 months, I know the difficult challenges which face parents is these seemingly dark times. The moral decay which seems to bombard our children is frightening, forcing parents to remain ever vigilant to protect them from all which surrounds us.

I applaud your efforts and the stances you have taken as a conservative, amongst the political gauntlet in which you stand. I applaud your dedication to protecting marriage, while also fighting for the lives of the unborn. I support your dedication to resource preservation and for harnessing the natural resources we have.

What I want to say is this: When I read about you, I was inspired. A glimmer of hope, if you will. I feel, in some way, as a registered Republican for the past seventeen years, that my party has let us down. I believe that this current administration sailed in, under the Christian vote, yet has done nothing but injured the poor folks who are fighting to make ends meet.

I have a great job, and love what I do. But even now, I am barely able to keep my home which I bought in 2003, due to the collapse of the housing market accompanied by ridiculous interest rates. I am being murdered at the gas pumps because I have to travel 25 miles each way to work and I've seen my bill double over the last 4 years! I send both of my daughters to private school because, frankly, in my area, it would be a disservice to anything different based on the schools in our area.. plus, I believe it is important to have education wrapped in the faith of Christianity.

In closing, I just wanted to send you a note with a few of my thoughts. I am so touched by your story, and by the recent addition to your lovely family. Thanks so much and please keep up the good fight. We need individuals like you to stand up and challenge the dragon at times.

Thanks and May God Bless you and your family,

Alfred R. Musgrove

Dear Governor Palin:

I read with interest your story of your son Trigg who was born with Downs Syndrome. My son Kris was born in 1986 with Cerebral Palsy, Epilepsy and several other behavioral disorders. We were told that he wouldn't do well in school, if he attended at all, he would be in special (I hate that word)Ed all his life and would have trouble just surviving and he would probably never drive a car.

While he has had his troubles, let me share this with you, first of all, all children have purpose. He did go to school, in fact, his Junior and Senior years in High School were mostly spent in regular classes where he got mostly B's, he has had his drivers license for over 5 years now, strangely enough, he got his license the same year he learned to tie his shoes. Although he will probably have to live in an assisted living type of setting, he is planning on getting married in about a year. All of this has happened even though our Doctor talked to us about abortion because my wife needed Gal-Bladder Surgery only 1 week after we learned of her pregnancy. It was not an option. As far as his lifes purpose, who knows! It is strange about him though, during Dads funeral, he was going around the room consoling everyone who was upset. Strangly enough, I feel he would make a good Suicide counsular. Be strong, children are great gifts from God. You never know what they will add to your life.

Dear Honorable, Governor Palin:

On September 30, 2008, a small group of women will be traveling to Alaska on an adventure mission's trip. We will be staying for ten days traveling to Kenai Fords up to Fairbanks where we will serve with a local church in the community.

I would like our small group (six Marylanders) to meet you. I think you are an extraordinary woman who has made tough decisions on behalf of her state, most notably, the polar bear veto and the ANWR drilling. Your courageous to stand up for what is best for your community is what I would like my ladies to be exposed to. I would like them to have an opportunity to meet you, an extraordinary woman, mother, Governor.

If you would have 30 minutes to meet with us, just chat, on either Wednesday, October 1 or Thursday, October 2, 2008, I would greatly appreciate it.

If you have any questions about this mission's trip, I am at your service to answer any questions. My number is listed above.

MESSAGE:

First I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate you and your family on the wonderful new blessing from God you received recently. I was a first time mother at 34 almost 2 years ago now and I know that the miracle of a birth is beyond words. I have no doubt that Trig will be fine and well loved, a good friend of ours had a little girl a month before Zoe was born and Addison also has downs syndrome. She's awesome and loves life even through a medical issue here and there. Now she is going to be a big sister soon, and she's so excited. So, before I'm selfish and ask for something for my child, I first wanted to wish you well for your newest child!

Now, the reason for my email is that a year ago, I sent out a request to all the 50 state Governors for my daughter Zoe's 1st birthday, we were trying to collect information and a signature or letter from each Governor, the response was AWESOME, and 29 state Governors replied. Now Zoe will be two July 4th and I thought I would try to get the other 21 states to send a greeting to put in her scrapbook, a part of history of each state. I understand you are busy and want to take care of the residents of your state first, but if you have time, please help us obtain information and a letter about your great state for Zoe. Thank you for your time!

MESSAGE:

Hello Governor Palin,

I am writting regarding my uncle Homer Mayo and his wife Vivian. I would like to request that you consider giving personal recognition to Homer for the following reasons. Homer Mayo and his wife have been in Wasilla and in the Meadow Lakes region since 1959. Together they homesteaded and founded what is Pittman Road.

My uncle owned alot of property between Beverly Lakes Road and the road he personally named Wyoming Drive (named after their former home) and beyond. Today the area is home to dozens and dozens of people. Homer was the first one to begin paving a road between Pittman and Rainbow Lake to allow for better travel. He also planed the first mailbox on Beverly Lakes which he grew to four selling each box to a particular resident for a small fee. Eventually it became apart of the USPS.

My Uncle is also a very kind and loving man who built my Grandmother a house for free so long as she came up to enjoy Alaska, a home which she has lived for the past eight years.

My Aunt Vivian I was told is your former Sunday School teacher from when you were a child. It might also be of interest to recall some old childhood memories. My Uncle is 78 going on 79 and he is now 90% blind but is able to do more then any other person I've encountered. I believe it's the saying "Walk by faith and not by sight" that he's taken to heart.

I hope you consider this request as it would mean alot to me and this charming old man. (Not that he knows what I'm up to of course.)

Sincerely,

Travis Livengood

EDITORIAL

Ports-to-Plains trade corridor secures jobs, prosperity, and a sustainable future to Colorado and to North America

By Gil Cisneros and Joe Kiely

At a time when security threats, global instability, and economic uncertainty dominate the headlines, a highway project seems an unlikely topic as a good news story. However, Coloradoans would do well to take note of the Ports-to-Plains Trade Corridor, a regional highway that already serves Colorado's robust exports and promises to bring new prosperity to the state.

This little road embodies the promise of the North American partnership, its value to Coloradoans, and the common aspirations NAFTA can serve when it is fully embraced by America's heartland.

Created in 1998, the Ports-to-Plains Trade Corridor Coalition secures the benefits of the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA), to the 38.5 million citizens of the nine-state, 2333-mile Great Plains corridor, an economic space extending from the Montana-Canada border to Laredo, Texas, the busiest border crossing on the U.S.-Mexico border. Working together as the Great Plains International Trade Corridor, Ports-to-Plains, and two other regional groups – the Theodore Roosevelt Expressway (from Rapid City, SD to the Canadian border) and the Heartland Expressway (Rapid City, SD to Denver) – promote mobility and economic connectivity throughout North America’s agricultural and energy heartland, and connect our region to world markets.

As defined by the Ports-to-Plains coalition and its partners, the Great Plains region is North America’s energy and agricultural heartland: Colorado; Montana; Nebraska; New Mexico; North Dakota; Oklahoma; South Dakota; Texas; Wyoming. To the north, the Great Plains connects its member states to North America’s new energy boom provinces, Alberta and Saskatchewan. To the south, Great Plains states tie into Laredo and two other key U.S.-Mexico ports of entry, and Mexico’s industrial capital in Monterrey, and connect to a state-of-the-art intermodal network offering new points of access to the Latin American and Asian markets.

The Great Plains economic region is a good club to belong to. In 2006, the Great Plains region provided most of America’s domestically-produced energy and nearly a quarter of U.S. commercial farm output, generated 14% of US GDP (about $1.7 trillion), and transacted about 20% of all U.S.-NAFTA trade (about $166.7 billion). Collectively, the Great Plains region exported $43.2 billion to Mexico in 2007, about 32% of the U.S. total. Clearly, our region has a disproportionate interest in a continuing, vibrant, fully engaged trade relationship with our NAFTA partners.

The Great Plains partnership is the engine of Colorado’s trading relationships with other U.S. states and with the world. Each year, Colorado ships over $6 billion goods to the eight other Great Plains states, and, strikingly, $7.9 billion beyond U.S. borders. Of its exports to foreign countries, $2.8 billion, or over 35% of all exports, went to Mexico and Canada. That means, for every dollar earned by Coloradans in 2006, 35 cents came from purchases of Made-In-Colorado products by Mexican or Canadian buyers. Canada alone (Colorado’s top export destination) bought enough from Colorado to employ over 120,000 people, about the population of Pueblo.

More good news: those exports are growing, thanks in significant part to the infrastructure network now being put into place by Colorado’s trade corridor champion, the Ports-to-Plains coalition, and its partners. For example, between 2004 and 2007, Colorado’s truck-borne exports to Mexico grew by 37.3 percent.

Business goes where it knows it can produce and move product most efficiently, to most places. Great Plains trade corridor provides Colorado reliable, efficient and secure highways for trucks moving Colorado goods throughout North America, and secures Colorado’s top ranking as a place to do business.

There is no question that NAFTA has made Coloradans and North America generally more prosperous. Since 1994, Canada and Mexico have replaced other nations as destinations for our agricultural exports, surpassing China, Japan and the European Union combined. Our partnership with Canada and Mexico will enable us to steadily reduce our dependence upon Middle Eastern and other unstable countries for our energy. Currently, almost one-third of the United States crude oil imports are from either Canada (17 percent) or Mexico (15 percent).

Additionally, construction projects, roadside services, manufacturing, and warehouse and transportation companies associated with the Ports-to-Plains corridor also receive the direct and indirect benefits of the international trade detailed above. Those economic benefits have been estimated in more than $4.5 billion per year for the whole corridor.

The data tells a happier story than our headlines would have us believe. Great Plains really is strengthening our relationships with our most important trading partners, boosting our energy security, and attracting new business and investment into the corridor. The Great Plains group gives voice to the region's common values and aspirations and will play a vital role to industry, elected officials and government in promoting our future prosperity. In 2009, we will be hearing more from this coalition. We encourage Coloradoans – and citizens throughout North America's energy and agricultural heartland – to take note, learn more, and participate.

You may not read it in your morning paper. But Ports-to-Plains and its partners doing a bit more every day to improve the infrastructure that makes Colorado one of the most desirable places in the U.S. to live, learn, travel and do business. At the same time, by integrating Colorado into a robust, regional economy, Ports-to-Plains is helping us to sharpen our game as a competitor in the global market. We think that's worth a headline.

MESSAGE:

Gov. Palin... the following was addressed to Northeast City Council and the Anchorage Assembly. I wanted to ensure you received a copy of the communication and see if there was anything you could do to encourage support for this endeavor.

To our Distinguished Members representing our Community:

I am writing as a concerned parent of two Nunaka Valley Little League members. I have been recently informed that money for capital improvements to Nunaka ball fields was placed in the state budget, but was removed because the Municipality of Anchorage did not have Nunaka improvements on their project list. The reason Nunaka field improvements were not on the project list was because the Northeast Community Council did not submit the Nunaka project as a priority to the Municipality. With monies already allocated from the state budget for this very important project, I can only assume that this was an oversight on the part of the Northeast Community Council and one that can be corrected by re-submission of the project list requirements. There is great community support for these renovations that include:

$ Re-orient the fields so that they are not close to Craig Street (decreasing the fly balls into the street and neighbors yards);

$ Add a coach pitch/tee ball field for our very youngest players

$ Build a new building with a concession stand, bathrooms and storage

$ Add irrigation to the fields

If we are to continue to encourage our youth to participate in sports and activities that keep them off the streets and out of "trouble", I implore you reconsider your decision to remove this project list from the capital improvement budget. Creating opportunities for East Anchorage to better support its youth community should most definitely be a priority for both the Northeast Council and the Assembly. The league has requested time at the Northeast Community Council meeting on Thursday, June 19th to present their case, and I am not sure that they were given an opportunity to do so.

In the event that they were not granted time, or even if they were, I would respectfully ask that you note my concerns as a parent and community member.

Kind regards

Dear Gov. Palin,

First off, I would like to say "Thank you" for taking time to speak at the Alaska District Council of the Assemblies of God this past April. You Shined! My husband considered it a high privilege to escort you into the meeting and my teenage daughter was THRILLED to meet you. I personally was proud of what you have accomplished.

I am writing in regards to soliciting your interest in an international group, I am working with, that would like to schedule a Millenium Summit in Anchorage next year. It would be dealing with the Millenium Development goals of the United Nations.

Daniel Germain President and Founder of the Millennium Summit is flying in from Canada and has requested I set a meeting with you for him. I would love the opportunity to speak with you and see if we may set a meeting date with the International Director in August.

This awesome opportunity is ours - to set this up with a support system of strong integrity based people. It would be a non-religious gathering but You and I would have opportunity to recommend speakers.

I know you are coming to Homer this week and I live in Soldotna, is there opportunity to have 10 minutes of your time?

You may reach me at 907-398-0708 or 907-262-9177

Rev. Renee Duncan

Additional Information regarding the summit:

Building on the incredible success of the past Millennium Summits, Anchorage will now have the same opportunity to participate in the Millenium Conference movement. The original Millennium Summit (called the Montreal Millennium Promise Conference) was convened in Montreal in November, 2006. 3000 participants heard renowned speakers, celebrities; politicians and humanitarians discuss the world's progress in meeting the Millennium Development Goals as promised by the United Nations. In 2007, the second Montreal Millennium Summit was expanded to also include panel discussions for development professionals working in NGO's, government, academia, and the private sector and a youth forum. With the theme "It's Time For Children", the conference assembled over 4000 people of prominent figures - individuals who are devoted to social causes and the fight against poverty from here and around the world.

Attendees had the opportunity to hear these and other speakers:

- Mr. William J. Clinton, forty-second President of the United States
- Ms. Mia Farrow, actress and UNICEF Goodwill Ambassador
- Mr. Jeffrey Sachs, Ph.D., Director of the UN Millennium Project
- Mr. Craig Kielburger and Mr. Mark Kielburger, authors of the best-selling book We and and founders of Free the Children and Leaders Today
- Mr. Gérald Tremblay, Mayor of Montreal
- Archbishop Desmond Tutu, Archbishop and Nobel Peace Prize Laureate
- Mr. Paul Martin, Former Prime Minister of Canada
- Mr. Michael Douglas, actor and activist
- Ms. Cherie Booth Blair, noted British attorney and Human Rights advocate
- Ms. Trudy Styler, actress and humanitarian
- Mr. Ishmael Beah, author and former child soldier

- Senator Romeo Dallaire, Lt. General and former UN Commander

At the conclusion of the past Millennium Summit, it was promised this conference would initiate a series of annual forums. Well, a promise is a promise! The unquestionable success of the first conference opened the door for the event to assume a new vision, resulting in the creation of an independent and autonomous non-profit organisation, subject to the decisions of its own board of directors. The new entity is called The Millennium Summit.

In any event, he has hinted at this before and it is not news, but he seems increasingly determined to let everyone know he is determined to undermine AGIA. Talis

Good morning -

Rep Craig Johnson just called to invite you to a going-away party for John Tracy this Sunday, he'll call back with exact time.

Many many of the past employees will be attending so he wanted to be sure you were included. It'll be held at Rep Johnson's home - since his wife has worked for Channel 2 News for 25 years.

Address: 12200 Timberland Drive (south Anchorage)

Gov Palin,

MG Layfield Concealed Carry Policy allows us to carry a Machinegun overseas, but not a sidearm on our home soil. He is attacking the Constitution of the United States which I swore before God to defend from enemies foreign and domestic. By signing on to this Policy he's coming close to a domestic enemy himself. I've only ever fought foreign enemies, I don't have enough rank to loose to confront him. Last time I checked President Bush is our Commander in Chief and wouldn't like to know one of his Generals doesn't trust his own men. He also asked APD to enforce, but a APD officer told me he can't since it isn't AK law.

Fratricide against your own men, is wrong no matter what your rank. But I don't or ever will have enough rank to stop this. You simply do not shoot your buddy, real rounds or policies.

Please email me or call me so I can be sure you can forward this higher. I have downloaded a copy of the Policy that is found on the Ft Richardson intranet.

If a Blue Jeep Wrangler is outside my Quarters on post, I'm home. Stop by, I have an "Open Door" policy, if I'm home it's open. And my grill usually has extra, just incase people stop by. However my wife might want a few hours warning.

Dear Governor,

First of all thanks for the capital budget items. We had to have that to make this years construction come out right. Also thanks for coming to the port last Sunday for the tour with your family. We had over 250 people come on the first day. We plan to do this every Sunday through August. People were excited.

If you have 30 minutes sometime soon I would like to talk to you about the gas line. I have been following the hearings and while I am not up to speed like I should be I have a couple of concerns and feel as a friend the need to talk to you about them. I'll call Kris and Mike Nizick to alert them. Thanks.

Governor,

You will soon be taping a video for the opening of the Miss Alaska (America) pageant (the pageant will take place July 19 in Anchorage). Bonnie Faulk has requested that the picture of you as Miss Wasilla appear during the opening video; she feels it will be very encouraging to the girls and solidify the message that they can accomplish anything they put their minds to. Please let me know if you are comfortable with the photo appearing in the video (Jason and Andy would manage it, so it would not be released to the pageant itself but would be contained in the video).

I will wait for your approval before contacting your sister, Molly, for the photo (your mother's suggestion) - thank you!

Dear Governor Palin,

We appreciate your honest management! You are one terrific lady!

Here are our thoughts on the high energy costs for some areas in our state:

We are opposed to a pay-out to everyone across the state. We don't think that giving money away is even a short-term solution. Citizens in some communities are affected more than others. A pay-out should be based on needs.

We'd like to suggest that you consider the idea of subsidizing the utility systems in communities with high rates so that they can charge what -- for example -- Anchorage citizens are now paying per kwh.

It's our understanding that the State has considerable "oil" money in a savings account, completely separate from the PF and CR. It seems reasonable that this oil-money profit the State is enjoying could be used to subsidize utility plants in communities that are really suffering from high energy costs -- like Fairbanks and the bush. We're concerned about what will happen next winter when some people won't be able to afford to heat their homes and /or businesses.

With all good wishes,

Jo and Dick Scott

PS I spoke briefly with Melissa Stepovich last week, hoping that you might be in Fairbanks some time during the Fairbanks Summer Arts Festival. I think you and your family would be interested in seeing what we have established here. The last two days -- Saturday and Sunday, July 26 and 27 are jam-packed with exciting performances. If you could have time, please take a look at our web site: www.fsaf.org Thanks -- and I hope to see you this summer.

Sure hope you run for VP... Need someone like you to counter McCain. Below is copy of email I sent to my Senators

We have got to get involved before congress or the two pReSiDeNt tO bE (both only half-way qualified) will listen to us.

Some of my ideas

Don't complain about gas prices until you get off your 'gas' and become active. Start by writing you Congressman/Senator and tell them to start supporting the US citizens. Still believe if we tapped our resources, the price of fuel would drop like crazy. That would buy us time to finally get a rational energy policy.

I hear the mumblings,,, but remember the Socialist Democrat Party and environmental extremist are the ones who stopped drilling off out coast, even Kennedy/Kerry demanded that wind fields are not build in an area where the towers will be seen while they are sailing... examples go on and on... Easier to go global when they finally destroy our economy.

We all know ethanol is not the way to go. Matter of fact only the American gas guzzler will burn ethanol. Of course, they drive big gas guzzlers that can burn ethanol. Only thing our congressional porkers have accomplished with ethanol is to raise food prices.

Too many people view high gas prices only in terms of what it cost them to drive their own car. Energy costs are the foundation of our whole economy; why can't people understand this? They don't make the connection to the farmer's equipment to plant and harvest. They don't factor in the trucks that haul crops and livestock to processing plants; that deliver to distribution centers and on to markets - all of which are driving up food prices. They don't see transportation of raw materials for processing; or parts to assembly plants or distribution centers; or finished goods to consumers - all of which drives up the cost of manufactured goods.

Some simple things that could be done to start an energy policy.

Open up our oil resources and encourage expeditious drilling. If necessary provide low interest loans for building of refineries and require only production of three grades of fuel based on criteria of majority of states. If exceptional states need better emission standards, put the problem on shoulders of automobile manufactures or perhaps on the backs of the states for additional refining - then maybe they will realize they really don't need it after-all.

Require all automobiles to achieve 35 miles per gallon (includes SUVs) by 2010. A challenge; but U.S. ingenuity and engineering should be able to accomplish it. Light trucks should achieve no less than five gallons/mile below the automobile criteria. Any vehicle that do not achieve the criteria can be sold but owner will be assessed an additional property tax based on average miles driven estimate by DOT and percentage based on difference between required miles per gallon and DOT supported by consumer report miles per gallon tests. If all foreign cars can meet fuel requirements, then American Manufactures should be able to accomplish the feat. Automobile manufactures will also be fined using criteria above for all vehicles sold that do not meet criteria. (Vehicles produced before 2010 will have to be exempted to protect the average citizen who can not go out and buy another vehicle.)

Encourage development of alternative fuels such as electric/gas power trains like in Toyota Prius; Several water/hydrogen engines have shown potential; Production of bio-diesel from used oils such as vegetable/animal/used fuels. Electrical cars are not the solution, they only increase demand on power stations which are already overloaded every summer.

Not sure it is economical to move freight cross country by truck. Ideally, trucking should move freight from rail thermals to local users. This will take time to accomplish in this Country.

Encourage and support power companies to develop other power sources such as wind, natural gas, nuclear, clean coal. etc. Several companies are already using gas from garbage dumps to power their plants. Power companies will have to be provided protection from environmental terrorist groups. Any attacks by these groups should be met with very active force including deadly force to prevent damage. These groups must be actively prosecuted as terrorist by conservative judges. Wind mill obstructing view while sailing is not a viable defense to stop a wind farm.

Congress is threatening to investigate the oil companies for excessive profits. As Neil Cavuto said to some Democrat, I don't recall who (but they're all alike), what business does the Government have in setting the profit a corporation can make? Let them make the profits - and let them invest those profits in more drilling and more refineries.

THE MAJOR PROBLEM IS THE SILENT MAJORITY (THE AMERICAN CITIZEN). We have let the loud mouth extremists and porker barrel take control of our Country. We, the silent majority, have got to make our voices heard and let our congressional porkies know that we are tired and demand they start doing their job or the silent majority will remove them from their plush job. One way to accomplish this is to demand the House and Senate bring to vote a bill to open our natural resources before the end of Sep 2008. We can use their support of the bill to decide who to vote for this year.

Who will run this country; the patriots concerned with its future or the whacko's concerned with some wildlife? Extinction of species is not a new phenomenon. As most outdoor people know, wildlife are very adaptable and adjust to their surrounding. Just have to make make it very expensive on oil companies who pollute.

I am sure that all of you can provide other views on energy policy.

Don't bother to blame it on Bush.

Eight years of Clinton and Democrat controlled congresses haven't accomplished anything either. Well, take that back our grandkids now believe oral sex isn't sex.

Actually the wording is for remand for the court to remit the punitive damages accordingly for 507.5 million. This suggests more of a directive rather than further reduction. Talis.

John,

It has been reported on radio that the Supreme Court has sent the ruling back to the 9th circuit to determine the amount awarded (not to exceed the $500 million). Is that accurate?

Kris

Governor-

After much debate with their corporate execs, CNBC has asked us to put the interview that was scheduled for the afternoon, back on the schedule. Please let me know if this is okay with you.

If so - it was be CNBC at 2:10 ish and FOX News about 2:40 ish.

We're working on a bill signing for late next week in Dillingham for the family. Representative Edgemon would like to sign his Head Start bill in Dillingham and he'll be there Thursday, July 3rd.

We could fly you and the girls out mid afternoon on Weds. Janice pulled flight options and I'll bring those with me so we can review tomorrow and discuss return if this is of interest.

Governor,

You will soon be taping a video for the opening of the Miss Alaska (America) pageant (the pageant will take place July 19 in Anchorage). Bonnie Faulk has requested that the picture of you as Miss Wasilla appear during the opening video; she feels it will be very encouraging to the girls and solidify the message that they can accomplish anything they put their minds to. Please let me know if you are comfortable with the photo appearing in the video (Jason and Andy would manage it, so it would not be released to the pageant itself but would be contained in the video).

I will wait for your approval before contacting your sister, Molly, for the photo (your mother's suggestion) – thank you!

In follow-up to Monday's meeting, there was consensus that the messaging regarding in-state gas needs to step up. There are obviously a lot of misconceptions (or lack of information) of the Administration's position on this, accusing the Governor of flip flopping, no longer supporting an Alaskan line, etc. The Governor is inquiring on the status of said messaging. Each day there continues to be news that furthers these misconceptions. Please let me know.

Also, the Governor received a strong letter from Governor Hickel today requesting a meeting with her. I'm working on scheduling that for Tuesday; likely late morning. She would like Marty and Tom to be there. Please let me know if there are any conflicts on that day/timeframe.

I wanted you to see the email exchange below between me and Chuck Kleeschulte of Senator Murkowski's office, together with the Senator's recent letter to Governor Palin.

I believe that we anticipated this activity by the Congressional delegation, and your previous statements have put the State in a good position. However, I wanted you to be immediately aware of Senator Murkowski's correspondence in the event that there's anything further DNR should do from a substantive or public relations perspective.

Please let me know if we can do anything further from here.

p.s. I don't normally forward exchanges with staff level people in the delegation, but I wanted you to get a flavor of the impact that Koch has had.

Thanks for forwarding the Senator's letter. Senator Stevens and I have had quite a dialog on the same subject.

The bottom line for us is that Tom Irwin and his staff are ready and willing to talk with Koch at any time, the gas pipeline notwithstanding. Recently, Tom stated this publically and, I believe, to Flint Hills directly. However, it is critical that Koch be willing to open its books, and they have been reluctant thus far.

At the moment, the State receives a $1 per barrel premium on royalty oil sold to Flint Hills. It is my understanding that the premium has crept up over the years and will likely be reviewed soon.

I will make sure that the Senator's letter is circulated to appropriate State officials.

Hi. John: Here is a copy of the text of a letter that was faxed to the Governor in Juneau Wednesday afternoon her time and also mailed to her office. Senator Murkowski has spoken several times with Koch/Flint Hills folks and they have convinced her that they are serious about selling -- that might not be so bad, but more likely closing or turning the North Pole refinery into a fuel distribution facility -- that would be the worst of all worlds if they can't get some royalty oil contract relief given that prices have changed so and contract readjustments don't appear to be open until next year. This is not meant as a political attack, but the Senator is actually very worried about the loss of the refinery and given our chief of staff's talks with Joe Balesh she is really concerned that the Administration may not be taking Koch's concerns terribly seriously. Having real ties to Fairbanks where teenage home, she is concerned about the loss of employment and a host of other issues should the refinery issue fall through the cracks given Tom's, Marty's and Pat workload on AGIA and other issues. June 25, 2008

Governor, State of Alaska

P.O. Box 110001

Juneau, Alaska 99811-0001

Dear Governor:

While I know it may seem paradoxical for an oil refinery to be facing significant losses at this time of record crude oil and gasoline/diesel prices, I am writing to ask you and your administration to immediately undertake a new review of the equity of the state's current royalty oil contract with Flint Hills Resources, which runs the state's largest oil refinery at North Pole.

As you well know the Flint Hills refinery, owned by Koch Industries, is vital to Alaska's economy for a host of reasons. Not only does the refinery employ 155 residents in the Fairbanks area, one of the largest manufacturing employers left in the state, the refinery also produces significant amounts of aviation fuel, which is one of the key reasons why the state's air cargo transshipment industry has boomed in the past decade at both the Anchorage and Fairbanks International Airports. Those shipments also constitute a vital revenue source for the state-owned Alaska Railroad. If the refinery were to close due to its losses, or simply convert into a fuel distributor of imported product, it would deny Alaskans of about 60 percent of their locally produced fuel, potentially requiring the state to purchase more expensive fuel from refineries in the Lower 48 States, further hiking prices for gasoline and other fuels - something that simply should not be allowed to happen at this time of record energy prices throughout the State.

I understand fully that there have been issues with the willingness of the refinery's parent company to fully "open their books" so that the state can confirm the actual level of losses that the refinery is facing. I would hope that a confidentiality agreement could be reached quickly should new negotiations open concerning revisions to the 2004 contract so that the State can fully inspect the financial health of the refinery. Given the fundamental importance of the refinery to the state's economy, I encourage the state to consider contract revision talks that could benefit the State overall and the Fairbanks economy in particular.

I know how busy you must be this summer and I thank you for your consideration of this important matter at this time of record fuel prices nationwide. Best wishes.

Sincerely,

Lisa Murkowski,

U.S. Senator,

Alaska

I just heard from Virginia Grace, the producer of the Laura Ingram show on Fox News TV. Ms. Ingram would like to do an interview with the Governor between 5:00 and 6:00 p.m. today, East Coast time. The subject would be the Governor's recent letter to Majority Leader Reid on ANWR.

I gave the producer the coordinates for Sharon and Rosanne, and she will call at 8:00 a.m., Alaska time. If you want to reach Ms. Grace in the meantime, her number is 212-301-5786.

Governor-

The WSJ is launching a new magazine in September. They would like to interview you for the "get fit" section. The interview could be over the phone. They want to ask about what you do for exercise - what do you eat for breakfast etc. Here is the catch- they want to send a photographer up in the next couple of week to shoot you exercising. When they pitched this - I thought of a photo op with you running with Trig is the baby jogger.

This may be a good opportunity to promote our get fit challenge.

Thoughts?

Subject: State Lands/ANWR – CONFIDENTIAL

I have been asked to convey to you that Secretary Kempthorne and Senator Murkowski are talking about the possibility of federal legislation that would authorize the State of Alaska to undertake a directional drilling program that would reach into a ten mile wide strip of ANWR lands that abut the western edge of ANWR.

The theory is that oil and gas deposits within ANWR could be tapped from State lands without affecting surface resources within the refuge. The State and federal governments would then share the revenues on a 50/50 basis.

The attraction of the proposal is that oil and gas deposits within the ten mile strip could be drilled and produced from State lands without affecting caribou or other resources. The BLM probably will suggest various bells and whistles, but the basic proposal is as I've stated.

Despite the obvious merits, I think that the Congressional leadership will be loathe to take up the proposal, and it could embroil the State in a significant controversy. Hopefully, we will all get a chance to discuss this at a later date.

In the meantime, this concept is likely to become public tomorrow, as Senator Murkowski is contemplating a letter to the Secretary raising the idea. Interior is then expected to respond, and we will be off and running.

As soon as I know more, I will let you know.

P.S.

It is my understanding that Tom may be receiving a briefing on this as well.

The Court's opinion is 157 pages. So, I have attached the syllabus which briefly summarizes the decision.

As you will note, the Court confirms the individual's right to bear firearms for self defense and other valid purposes. However, the Court would allow certain restrictions mainly based on customary practices, such as prohibiting firearms to felons and people with mental problems, as well as prohibitions on carrying in certain places like schools.

Because the plaintiff did not challenge the licensing requirement for handguns, the Court assumes its validity. This is the only part of the majority opinion I find a bit troublesome simply because of the way the DC government operates in general.

In any event, I think that the opinion will be seen as a clear victory by gun rights supporters, as it affirms the individual rights mentioned in the latter part of the Second Amendment, subject only to reasonable and customary restrictions. There will undoubtedly be future litigation in various states on what sorts of restrictions can be imposed.

Great news. The US Supreme Court has affirmed the opinion of the US Court of Appeals for DC, which invalidated the DC gun law. (See below)

As soon as the Supreme Court opinion is available, I will be back in touch.

10:13 Ben Winograd -

The Court has released the opinion in District of Columbia v. Heller (07-290), on whether the District's firearms regulations - which bar the possession of handguns and require shotguns and rifles to be kept disassembled or under trigger lock - violate the Second Amendment. The ruling below, which struck down the provisions in question, is affirmed.

Justice Scalia wrote the opinion. Justice Breyer dissented, joined by Justices Stevens, Souter and Ginsburg. We will provide a link to the decision as soon as it is available.

10:13 Tom Goldstein - Second Amendment protects an individual right to possess a firearm.

10:14 Tom Goldstein - It is striking that the decision is not clouded by ambiguity created by separat

10:16 Tom Goldstein - Apologies - there is a second dissenting opinion, but only one majority - no plurality and no concurrences

The US Supreme Court has granted cert in the Kensington Mine litigation. The Courts ruling is described in the reference below.

This is a major victory. Coeur and the State had requested the Court to review a negative decision of the Ninth Circuit.

Hopefully, this will make some new law that benefits mining in Alaska. The Court's ruling may also help in the ongoing effort to resolve outstanding issues through negotiation.

This may well be worth a press release.

I'm glad to read Senator Stevens message to the Governor. This "issue" was initiated on the Dan Fagan show. In addition to Fagan, it sounds like it is being perpetuated by Gail Phillips and Myrna Maynard. Their concern is over the lack of coverage in the book of Senator Stevens and that it was intentional by me and the Governor. Gail stating that the Governor needs to apologize to Senator Stevens.

During her chair of the commission, Gail initiated this agreement with Faircount Publishing. Is was a "no-cost publishing agreement". Faircount makes their money from the advertisers. And, they are not an "official" publication. The stories that appear in the book were done by local authors contracted by Faircount. Mark Kelsey was able to provide some editorial oversight (although not much as Faircount has been extremely difficult to work with). Neither myself or the Governor saw the book before it went to print.

Again, I'm glad that Senator Stevens understands that this is not what they are trying to make of it.

Senator Stevens has asked me to convey his thoughts concerning the Statehood book. I think that the best way to do this is to transmit his email to me (pasted below). I have also included my response to him.

If you would like me to do more, please let me know.

I'll convey your thoughts to the Governor immediately.

I'm not familiar with the Statehood book. However, I have tried to become a student of the Statehood effort, which is the premise for much of what I've worked on since my coming on the scene in 1969. So, if there's anything you think I can do to set the record straight, I will.

I'm glad that last Saturday's meeting went well, and I appreciated your getting back to me so quickly on the logistics.

John: will you please get word to the governor that i knew of the statehood book-and had a comment or two about it.

I told those who commented that i had no problem with that publication. I am a candidate-and while i haven't seen it and don't have time to read it i don't condone the criticism of it regarding me.

Last thing i need is a dispute over my role in or since statehood. I'll leave that to historians.

I'm told the investigators were appalled that i have no diaries, no records of phone calls, and no self-serving articles prepared by me.

Has you know some of my staff are over-sensitive about publications which don't credit my office with miracles.

Probably one of my staff or former staff on their own commented to fagan.

I enjoyed to conversation with sarah last week and look forward to arranging ab event to show we are working together.

It might be worth noting, too, that the story list was finalized before I got it, too. Not sure about the overlap between when I came on board and when Gail left, but it's entirely possible that she approved the story list. It also chapped my ass that there was no talk between Gail and Fagan (not surprisingly) about the six-figure salary she had given herself as commission chair that went away when she did.

I've been stewing about this since yesterday's broadcast. If there are any apologies owed to anyone, it's Fagan who should be apologizing to all the people who worked on the book whom he has painted with the broad brush of "liar" and "propagandist". What an ignorant insulting PoS he is.

I'm glad to read Senator Stevens message to the Governor. This "issue" was initiated on the Dan Fagan show. In addition to Fagan, it sounds like it is being perpetuated by Gail Phillips and Myrna Maynard. Their concern is over the lack of coverage in the book of Senator Stevens and that it was intentional by me and the Governor. Gail stating that the Governor needs to apologize to Senator Stevens.

During her chair of the commission, Gail initiated this agreement with Faircount Publishing. Is was a "no-cost publishing agreement". Faircount makes their money from the advertisers. And, they are not an "official" publication. The stories that appear in the book were done by local authors contracted by Faircount. Mark Kelsey was able to provide some editorial oversight (although not much as Faircount has been extremely difficult to work with). Neither myself or the Governor saw the book before it went to print.

Again, I'm glad that Senator Stevens understands that this is not what they are trying to make of it.

Good morning –

Rep Craig Johnson just called to invite you to a going-away party for John Tracy this Sunday, he'll call back with exact time.

Many many of the past employees will be attending so he wanted to be sure you were included. It'll be held at Rep Johnson's home – since his wife has worked for Channel 2 News for 25 years.

Address: 12200 Timberland Drive (south Anchorage )

As for the cost to the state if we were to reimburse for using it, it would be calculated as a regular commercial fare per seat from Anchorage to Barrow. I will check with Linda and if that changes I will let you know.

How can he be professionally dealt with if he thinks the way he does about a state administrative team - no wonder it's a constant, tiring battle. He referring to a "cult" sounds like his issues are pretty deep, and whack. He does an amazing amount of work to try to destroy reputations, and now with his new show coming on it'll get worse unless the public understands how facts and truth mean nothing to him as he plows through reputation-destroying missions. I'm sick about today's op-ed because he names names again in an attempt to further hurt Kris and Ivy (and others), as he's been doing for many months now. To many, once a reputation is destroyed then it's impossible to earn it back- his attempts to accomplish that with our good team members is disgusting and I fear it's been successful in some circles.

Governor-

I called Dan on Friday and attempted to explain everything about the book from Gail Phillips salary to us not having anything to do the contract - he didn't want to hear it. He got very upset with me and told me that I was being lied to. Said Frank, Ivy and Kris are part of a cult who would stop at nothing to promote you. Yes, he said cult.

He said he was going to get a copy of the statehood meeting minutes to prove that I have been lied to etc. I repeatedly told him that Senator Stevens' lack of ink in the book was not intentional on our part and again stressed we had no control over the content. Again - he said I don't know what is going on.

Had anyone called him to correct his lies about the Statehood book? I thought it was accurately and truthfully explained to him that our office did NOT contribute to the book, that I did not have anything to do with it and had never even known any advertising company was even writing it- I have never even read it!

He disparaged so many in this op-ed- and put the nail in his coffin in terms of credibility, in my opinion.

If he was told the truth about this issue when it cropped up on his show all week (as I was told it's been his topic for a couple of days), and yet he still printed lies this morning, then this is more than the usual case of "Fagan ignoring the facts" - this is another case of Fagan outright lying. We will call him on this, and we need to let his boss at ADN know that they allowed another lying op-ed of his that has totally discredited their publication.

Someone needs to call Pat. And to write something for public consumption that explains Dan's untruthful op-ed... the public does need to know how NOT credible Fagan is - that even having been given the facts/truth he still chose to lie about yet another issue. Who wrote the book? Couldn't they help answer Fagan's bull?

If there was some concern on the use of the plane as a gift to the state we could always reimburse them for it, I don't think we have to reimburse them. As for the cost to the state if we were to reimburse for using it, it would be calculated as a regular commercial fare per seat from Anchorage to Barrow. I will check with Linda and if that changes I will let you know.

Good morning –

Rep Craig Johnson just called to invite you to a going-away party for John Tracy this Sunday, he'll call back with exact time.

Many many of the past employees will be attending so he wanted to be sure you were included. It'll be held at Rep Johnson's home – since his wife has worked for Channel 2 News for 25 years.

Address: 12200 Timberland Drive (south Anchorage )

Yep- I'll need that hospitality room at least twice tomorrow- or at least a clean bathroom. Too bad the mtg couldn't be moved just one hour... next time I'll ask for tentative schedules so I can chime in earlier regarding my schedule.

Governor,

I just got off the phone w/Andy Mack and Tara Sweeney. They are unable to reschedule the 10:30 am meet and greet Joe arranged w/ARSC due to the start of the festival at 12noon. So, unfortunately the 8am departure time from Wasilla Airport still stands.

They will have a hospitality room for you and your family should you need it.

Those we have for the flight: Governor, Trig, Piper, Ivy and Kelly. Ivy's car will be at Anchorage airport for the commercial return home. She'll also have a seat carrier for Trig for Barrow and the return.

Joe will not be in Barrow, but Commissioner Galvin will be. Bob will meet you in Barrow also.

Also, as an FYI I spoke w/Joe today and the gasline team needs to brief you on Tuesday regarding an AGPA response. This can be done by phone if necessary.

I'm zipping up to Barrow for a one-day trip to meet w/Mayor Itta and see some whaling celebration, etc. I'll have Ivy ask around about potential boards and commissions members. If there are any issues for me to be aware of that are timely for Itta feel free to let me know.

Governor --

In talking with Kelly today via phone she had mentioned that you may want to come to Juneau for the 4th of July weekend and then go to Anchorage/King Salmon for bill signing before departing for NGA on Wednesday, 07.09.08 p.m.

Option 1: Depart ANC to JNU – Wednesday, 07.02.08 – AK Flt., #74 – 6:50 p.m.
Arrive JNU – 8:32 p.m.

Note: We do need to do a couple of tapings – Gasline Briefing and Miss Alaska DVD in the office.

Option 2: Depart ANC to JNU – Thursday, 07.03.08 – AK Flt., #64 – 1:37 p.m.
Arrive JNU – 3:24 p.m.

Juneau Fireworks are at midnight on Thursday, 07.03.08
Juneau Parade begins at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, 07.04.08

Return Options:

Option 1: Depart JNU to ANC – Saturday, 07.05.08 – AK Flt., #65 – 1:01 p.m.
Arrive ANC – 2:46 p.m.

Option 2: Depart JNU to ANC – Saturday, 07.05.08 – AK Flt., #77 – 6:41 p.m.
Arrive ANC – 8:22 p.m.

These flights are also listed as open on Sunday, 07.06.08 for the return to ANC

I just received an Itinerary for Bristol Bay Borough Trip – King Salmon for Monday, July 7 through Tuesday, July 8. I know there has been discussion on a bill signing in King Salmon for this time period. Commissioner's von Scheben, Notti, Bishop will be in attendance as well as Cora Crome during this Bristol Bay Trip. Of course you can depart ANC to King Salmon AK Airlines (Penn Air) for a day trip.

Depart ANC at 12:45 p.m. – Arrive King Salmon at 2:05 p.m. – earliest available flights open for Monday, Tuesday, 07.07-07.08
Depart King Salmon at 4:52 p.m. – Arrive ANC at 5:49 p.m. – departure flights open until 8:10 p.m. for Monday, Tuesday, 07.07-07.08

Monday, July 7 – Arrive King Salmon – 12:20 p.m.
Lunch – King Ko Inn
2:00 – 5:00 p.m. – Tour Infrastructure Land & Air
6:00 p.m. Tour SAVEC Training Center and Dinner
Overnight

Tuesday, July 8
7:30 a.m. – Breakfast at B&B
9:00 a.m. – 1:00 p.m. – Tour Salmon Processing Facilities – Lunch at Trident Seafoods Cannery PRESS Conference – Announcement for bid award and funding sources Port of BB dock expansion (THIS WOULD BE GREAT FOR YOU TO BE AT IF POSSIBLE if they could move the time for your arrival at 2:05 p.m.).
1:30 – 2:00 p.m. – Presentation Naknek Electric Association
2:30 – 4:00 p.m. – Return to King Salmon – Tour King Salmon Airport and Lease Lots construction improvements.
4:00 p.m. – Guests to airport for departure.

Thanks, Janice

Governor,

I apologize for the late hour. Here is the letter for Mary Glazier that I promised to re-send your way for approval. It should show up as an attachment, as well as in the body of the email. Once it has your approval, I'll format it and have it ready for Mary and her flight to Japan tomorrow.

Please let me know if you have any questions. Thank you,

Kate

What's the status on NGA travel and possibility of layover in Nevada before hitting Philadelphia? This itinerary wouldn't work if NGA works. Also, if I did king salmon it could only be a one-afternoon stop. Very short trip is the only option.

Dear Governor Palin,

Just for your information. The attachment, in case it does not open, is a complaint filed by various environmental groups against the National Marine Fisheries Service for failing to act in a timely manner to list beluga whales under the endangered species act.

Just saw the unveiling of the Peratrovich statue downtown. Begich and Diane Benson did the talking. Begich acknowledged Sen. Ted Stevens but did not invite him forward or offer him a chance to talk. Sen. Stevens then left the scene completely just as it started. After the statue was unveiled then Begich remembered to invite Lt. Gov. Parnell to speak. The Lt. Gov. spoke and read part of your letter which was presented to the artist. In the crowd were Arlis, Fran, Steve Reiger, the Peratrovich family members, a few others and mostly tourists.

Greetings: Please see the above complaint filed by five organizations and relating to Cook Inlet Beluga Whales. The web site for the Center for Biological Diversity states that the complaint was filed today, June 30, 2008, in the District Court for the District of Columbia. The complaint challenges the 6 month extension invoked by NMFS under the ESA on April 22, 2008. CBD filed a 60 day notice of intent to sue on April 23, 2008. NMFS and the Secretary of Commerce have 60 days to respond to the complaint. I will verify the filing with the District Court for the District of Columbia and check on any motions that may have been filed at the same time. I have provided this information to ADF&G. Brad

Subject: RE: Barrow tomorrow

BARROW TIDBITS: Gleaned from the Headlines

- NULUQATAQ (nuh-luck-uh-tuck). Whaling crew captains host these celebrations. The Nuluqataq on Monday, June 30th is hosted by Eugene Brower, Harry Brower Jr., and Herman Ashsoak. The whole community turns out for the distribution of whale meat. On May 2nd, Eugene Brower's crew landed a 28-foot female with relative ease. Even though Brower has whaled for 50 years, he was surprised by how easily the first whale of the season was landed.
- MAYORAL ELECTION. North Slope Borough Mayor is up for re-election. Mayor Itta faces a challenging race, with former five-term mayor George Ahmaogak in the running. Ahmaogak left his job at Shell to run for mayor. Itta is likely to oppose offshore drilling, while Ahmaogak will favor it. Itta is strong on social issues, like the borough's Health Communities Initiative. Protecting subsistence and cultural heritage have been big priorities in his administration. Itta has joined recent calls to open ANWR, which is generally preferred to offshore drilling. Ahmaogak, who is a five-term former mayor, says one of his top priorities is instituting public policy that will deal with offshore drilling and exploration -- similar to what he did with his comprehensive plan on oil development.
- ARCTIC ICE MELT. Scientists predict for the first time in recorded human history, sea ice may disappear entirely from the North Pole. From polar bears to circumnavigating the Arctic, to disputes over fishing and oil exploration, the North Slope is at the epicenter. In May, Senators Ted Stevens and Lisa Murkowski sponsored a resolution directing the United States to negotiate an international agreement for managing fish stocks in the Arctic Ocean. The North Pacific Fisheries Management Council proposed in June that the U.S. close all federal waters until a management regime is in place.
- COAST GUARD. With more water to watch, the Coast Guard is opening a new base in Barrow.
- SHELL. Shell is retrenching its plans to explore for oil in the Beaufort Sea. Shell's new general manager of Alaska's operations says his first priority is to travel to communities affected by offshore drilling. Peter Slaiby has already been to Barrow and Kotzebue.
- EPA PERMIT. Air quality control permit issued one day after President Bush urged Congress to lift it's longstanding ban on offshore oil and gas drilling.
- INUPIAT STUDIES. Shell gave the Inupiat studies program at the Ilisagvik College a $224,000 grant in April.

- WHALING AGREEMENT. In early June, BP signed a Conflict Avoidance Agreement with the Eskimo Whaling Commission to avoid exploration in certain areas until whaling quotas are met. Also part of the CAA: coordinating seismic surveys with whaling captains and other efforts not to disturb bowhead whales on their migrating path.
- BYPASS MAIL. Postage increases have sharply driven up food prices in communities like Barrow. Residents are also unhappy with other changes in the Bypass Mail system. To save money, the Post Office started trucking mail to Deadhorse, which has resulted in spoiled food and fewer airline flights.
- DALTON HIGHWAY SCENIC BYWAY CORRIDOR. Hearings were held last week in Deadhorse, Wiseman, Coldfoot and Fairbanks. Barrow is set to have a meeting on June 23rd.
- BARROW HOSPITAL. This summer, crews have been preparing the site for a new $137 million hospital. It will replace the old hospital built in 1964.
- BARROW HIGH SCHOOL WHALERS FOOTBALL TEAM. 24 team members attended football camps in Nebraska and Wyoming. The Whalers got national attention when a woman in the Lower 48 raised money for the turf. Now they're in their third season. They play at Skyview on August 9th and in Seward on August 23rd.
- METH. Last year at AFN, Barrow leaders spoke openly about the threat of meth, which seems to have made inroads in the community. At AFN, there was talk of some success in combatting meth, but some aren't so sure.
- KBRW. Barrow's public radio station is losing a longtime figure. Earl Finkler, a midnight sun softball enthusiast and a regular onair presence for 20 years, is moving to the Lower 48 to be with family and friends. Finkler is also a local astronomy and science writer. He faithfully wrote stories about Barrow's last sunrise for the winter and first sunrise in the spring.
- BARROW FILM MAKER. Andrew Okpeha MacLean was honored at the Sundance Film Festival this January. His short film, "Sikumi," which means "On the Ice," was chosen as one of 83 short films to be viewed, out of about 5,000 films submitted. It's an Arctic western. The plot: a man traveling by dogteam witnesses a murder out on the sea ice. The man tries to get the killer to realize the magnitude of what he's done.
- LAW FIRM. Two Barrow High School graduates and a former North Slope Borough police officer opened a law firm with offices in Barrow, Kotzebue and the Mat-Su. It's the first time a private law practice has opened its doors in two regions.
- ARCTIC HAZE. Samples of Arctic haze collected from Barrow debunk notion that Arctic air is pure. The haze is a mixture of industrial pollution that migrates from the Russia and the Far East.

I'm zipping up to Barrow for a one-day trip to meet w/Mayor Itta and see some whaling celebration, etc. I'll have Ivy ask around about potential boards and commissions members. If there are any issues for me to be aware of that are timely for Itta feel free to let me know.

You are the first political person I have ever spoken with, and it was a great honor to get to meet you and your newborn baby. What a beautiful baby!!! I want to also take this time to let you know that my wife and I recently started a business in Wasilla. We do embroidery and screenprinting of apparel, and promotional items. It would be my pleasure and a great honor to represent you in future campaigns or other events/needs your administration might have. It would be an honor just for you to consider doing business with us. If you would just give us a chance to work with you I know we could represent you well. I am inserting my companies profile below. I know you are busy, but if you ever get a minute please feel free to contact us to see how we can save you time and money on all of your promotional items. Thanks aga

Thank you for taking the time to discuss our business.

We do promotional items, screenprinting, and embroidery. I just wanted totake the time to describe our company, and what we can do for you.

We are an ASI company, which means we are affiliated with the largest group of distributors and vendors in this industry in the U.S. We offer great products at a reduced rate, and guarantee our products. We are 100 percent comitted to our customers and their satisfaction. We do not charge setup fees on embroiderd or screen printed apparel and many other items. We have many customers throughout the United States and Alaska. Including: Franklin Graham Crusade, Cherokee Nation Enterprises, Allstate, Georgia Pacific(recently purchased by KOCH the largest privately held company in the U.S.) Creek Nation Enterprises, Bank of Oklahoma, Abbot Laboratories, The Venetian, MGM Grand Casinos, Family Park Medical Clinic (AK), Alaska Army National Guard, Homestate Mortgage (AK), Copper River Excursions (Wrangell-St. Elias Wilderness Adventures), and Boondock Sporting Goods to name a few. As you can see we have a broad customer base. While we do have a broad customer base as a family, my customer base here in Alaska is not quite as robust yet, as I just started my business up here in October of 2007. We (as a company)have been in the embroidery business for over 13 years (with 30 years experience), and screenprinting and promotional goods for over 8 years. It is a famil y owned business, and I just began operations here in Alaska in September of 2007 (Although I have lived here 10 years, and served in the military for 5 years here) Some of our distributors include: Bic Graphics, Leeds, Lanco, Norwood, Sanmar, Broder Bros, S&S Activewear, ArielPremium, H&C Headwear, as well as partnerships with distributors in China. However, we take full responsibility for quality control of products coming from China. Meaning products coming from China are guaranteed through us or our distributors locally. I would love the opportunity to show you some of our work, and show you some of the savings we could pass along to you.

Below is my information, as well as a link to our website. I look forward to the possibility of doing business with you in the future.

Thank you for the opportunity to show you how we can save you time and money. Below is my contact information.

Feel free to browse our online catalogs, but keep in mind we carry thousands of other products. We just don't have room to put everything on the website, it is just a sampling of some of our products. If you have a particular need let me know, and I will find it.

Thank you for your consideration, and have a great day!

Before this very day 6/27/08, I have never heard any mention of your name until on a political blog. Then just a few minutes ago I heard you talking on the phone to a Fox News host. To be very honest, I am very pleased with I hear and feel about you. I would like to know a little more about you ie: Your stance on abortion, gay rights and etc. If you are the type of person I think you are, John McCain would be doing himself and this great country a huge favor if you were on the Republican ticket. Would you consider the VP spot with McCain?

McCain is just a little to liberal to suit me. But he would be great in the security of this nation. We need some balance on the ticket.

Governor supports Palmer

As Palmer swings into our construction projects for 2008, I believe it is an appropriate time to thank Governor Sarah Palin for her efforts in assisting in the development of our community.

Thanks to the vision of our governor, the city of Palmer and the greater Palmer area will realize improvements to the east end of the Palmer-Wasilla Highway, water main replacements and paving projects on Blueberry Street, Lucas area streets and Felton Street. We have also been afforded grants for upgrading our own wastewater facility as well as funds to design a consolidated facility involving Palmer, Wasilla and the Mat-Su Borough. In addition, we will be adding to our street light project in the downtown area and upgrading sidewalks to Americans with Disabilities Act compliance.
